BY HOFER BROTHERS.

SATURDAY, JUNE 12, 1897.

It is noticeable that those who sneer at civil service reform qualifications want many offices. All those public officers, engaged in the business of putting their relatives in offices or places of employment, also denounce criticism of their conduct. We are not referring to any particular person, but those officials who must be made to understand that the practice of foisting their relatives on the public is known, and that it will be fought to the bitter end. Some of these relatives have already had much more than they deserve, and are now aspiring to positions for which they have no qualifications. It is not only unfair to other aspirants for an officer to name his relatives for a public place, but it exhibits an improper sense of public duty. No man can do it without loss of public character. The fact that some public men have done so and escaped political retribution is no evidence that the offense can be repeated with impunity, or that the public sense is dead to the iniquitous practice. We know there are men sometimes thrown by accident, or peanut politics, into high places, for which they have neither the taste, nor talent, nor qualifications, who think they may practice nepotism without detriment or damage, because they do not expect a repetition of their luck, or have too much sense to aspire openly to a "second inning." There is no duty devolving upon the public more important and imperative, than the selection of clean men for public places. To keep the public sense awake to this duty and to protect the public offices from foul nesting, all nepotism should be prevented, if possible or promptly exposed and denounced. When it is understood that the putting of relatives in office cannot be practiced without inviting opprobrium on these officers, they will not only cease to make such appointments themselves, but they will not dare to recommend them to others. The public is being educated on this subject and fast reaching the conclusion that those who confer the honor and emolument of public trust on relatives, saves in a few exceptional instances, cannot be men of high instincts and incorruptible principles.

Mr. Bryan's second visit to Oregon will help the cause of bimetallism. Divested of the excitement of a national campaign, and with political prejudice and passion allayed, many will hear Mr. Bryan in July, who would not listen to any argument last fall, but voted blindly for the gold standard because it was a Republican argument. All Silver men—we mean independent American bimetallists—should attend Mr. Bryan's meetings if he comes within reach.

He will speak at Lebanon, Monday morning, July 12, at 8 o'clock, and at Oregon City at 2 o'clock. We do not understand that there will be any charge to hear him speak at Lebanon, but at Oregon City he speaks under engagement with the Chautauqua society for half the receipts of the meeting, at 25 cents admission. Mr. Bryan is in great demand as a speaker, so much so that he has engagements for months ahead. He commands from $200 to $300 a day for his engagements and as he has but a short time before he leaves on a tour around the world, the people of Oregon are fortunate to get to hear Mr. Bryan at all. It will be impossible for him to stop or speak at Salem for more than a few minutes, as he has nearly a hundred miles to travel between his two meetings on that date. Hon. M A. Miller, chairman of the Oregon delegation at the National Democratic convention that nominated Bryan, secured a promise from him, that if he ever came to Oregon again to visit the city of Lebanon. That is the geographical center of Linn county and the center of an almost solid silver sentiment. Mr. Bryan will quietly rest there over Sunday and the town will be full of people to hear him early Monday morning. Mr. Miller has secured excursion rates and special trains to his city, which the Southern Pacific has very liberally conceded.

A special train, of two coaches, will take Mr. Bryan from Lebanon to Oregon City. A limited number of prominent citizens and a number of committees of local silver organizations will be carried on the Bryan special. Mr. Miller deserves great credit for organizing the Linn county committee and making all these arrangements. He was one of the State Bryan Campaign committee last year, and also helped entertain Mr. Bryrn when he spoke at the Oregon state fair. It is largely due to his efforts that Bryan has come to Oregon. Mr. Miller is to be congratulated on the success of his efforts, and all will agree that Mr. Bryan's visit will be a memorable occasion.

What would the legislature do if it were called in special session? What would it not do? On the Mitchell side in the lower house, or either house, there is no leadership but the antiquated secret caucus methods The other side seems to have been directed mainly from the outside. The leadership was more of resistance than of well defined affirmative action. No platform or principle seemed to guide them, no former political precedent governed them.

It seems the general opinion that the members of our last legislature, as a body, possessed more mediocrity than any before elected to represent our state. The senate averaged much higher than the house, but there was no superabundance of brain-matter in that body. Think of some of them for a moment; think of trusting an estate to Brownell without bonds; or putting faith in the statements or prayers of the Rev. Dr. Driver; or relying on the vacillating judgment of Reed, or listening to Ikey's attempts to be facetious—we quit—to continue a review would be to go from bad to worse.

THE JOURNAL today is an educational number. Salem is an educational center. We have an excellent public school system. We have private kindergartens, a young ladies' academy, business colleges, preparatory schools and to crown all, an university. We present, with pride, in this issue a great deal of matter accompanied by illustrations in half tones. THE JOURNAL believes in education for the masses. It should begin earlier in the life of the little ones by the kindergarten system. We plead for better conditions for the tender age of childhood, now so much neglected. The larger boys and girls go as far as their ambition will carry them. THE JOURNAL believes in exalting the calling of the teacher into a profession. It believes in permanent tenures for teachers of recognized ability. In one school in this city, to illustrate, a principal has in five years of personal contact with the children, obliterated almost every vestige of vulgar conduct, profanity, obsenity and quarrelling, where before his influence was fully established those evils were disgracefully common. That teacher's service is invaluable.

We congratulate the people of Salem on the progress making in their public schools and all their institution of learning. We believe our city is ahead of any city on the Pacific coast as a desirable place to bring up a family because of these advantages.

The merit of Hood's Sarsaparilla
Is literally written in blood.
It is traced in the vital fluid
Of millions of the human race.
Its positive medicinal merit
And enrative power is written
Upon the hearts, and graven upon
The minds of thousands
Of people whom it has cured
And given good health
When there seemed nothing before
Them but darkness and despair.
It cures all diseases arising
From or imported by impure
Blood by its intrinsic merit as
The one True Blood Purifier.

POPULISTS.

In Linn County Repudiates the War on Their Officials.

Scio Press (Peo):—A report of a meeting of 14 central committee of the populist party which was held last Tuesday, reached us just as we were ready to go to Press. J. J. Beard was selected as temporary chairman and J. J. Brown secretary.

A demand of Chairman Hill to meet the committee and call a meeting of said committee forthwith, met with the reply from the chairman that he had called a meeting for July 9, that the present meeting could be attended only by a part of the committee, and that a report of affairs could not be possibly made at that date.

J. A. Finch, editor of the Bell was also summoned to apppear and make charges before the committee against county officials that he had been publishing This he failed to do. The committee then investigated the said charges as to crookedness, etc., and pronounced them wholly without foundation.

The committee then adjourned to meet on July 9, as per call of Chairman Hill.

STATE NEWS

Hop lice are reported in some yards in the valley.

R. G. Pierce has been appointed postmaster at Gates, this county.

Baker City won the championship race at the fireman's tournament.

Lane county's jail has been without an occupant since the March term of court.

A big balloon ascension is one of the drawing cards at Albany for the Fourth.

Frank Shelton of Baker City, carried off the foot race prize, covering 220 yards in 23 seconds.

Ben Holcomb, of Albany, had his leg broken Wednesday evening by a bank caving in on him.

Glen Brown, of Scio, while hewing a post made a mislick and cut off two toes and nearly cut off several more.

Much excitement is caused by rich gold discoveries in Jackson county, on Elk creek, about 40 miles northof Medford.

The county court of Lane county has let the contract for building a 100 foot strain beam truss bridge across Salmon creek for $890.

Mr. Willard, of Eugene, shipped 1000 head of cattle from Eugene, consigned to Kansas City, Mo. The shipment required a special train.

Tired Nervous, Sleepless.

Men and women—how gratefully they write about Hood's Sarsaparilla. Once helpless and discouraged, having lost all faith in medicines, now in good health and "able to do my own work," because Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to enrich and purify the blood and make the weak strong—this is experience of a host of people.

Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Gentle, reliable, sure.

Word was received at the prison yesterday at that Lewis Smith, who ran away from the reform school, had been arrested in Portland and held by the authorities. The warden, Mr. Brophy, went after him and arrived last night.

The man who won the big bike roa race at Chicago is 51 years old.

Like an open book, our faces tell the tale of health or disease. Pain and suffering and wrong living write their history on our features in unmistakable lines. Hollow cheeks and sunken eyes, listless steps and languorous looks tell of wasting debilitating disease some place in the body. It may be one place or another, the cause is generally traceable to a common source—impure blood, and impure blood starts in the digestive organs.

That most dreadful disease—consumption is what is known as constitutional. It is in the blood. In reality, it is scrofula of the lungs, and it can be cured 98 times in 100 if proper treatment be taken in its early stages. Sending good, clean, pure, rich, wholesome blood continuously through the diseased parts will gradually eradicate the disease. If the medicine taken be strongly purifying, healing and soothing, the cure will be even more rapid.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood, stimulates digestive action, searches out disease-germs wherever they exist and puts the whole body into a vigorous, strong and healthy condition. It builds up solid, useful flesh, rubs out wrinkles, brightens the eyes and makes life really worth living. A big book of 1000 pages entitled "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," profusely illustrated, telling all about it and full of good, sensible health hints, with numerous testimonial letters and reproduced photographs and address to those cured, will be sent free to any one who sends twenty-one cents, in one-cent stamps, to cover postage and wrapping only.

Locomotor Ataxia

AN OLD SOLDIER'S HOT FIGHT FOR LIFE AND HEALTH.

While in a Hospital a Physician Hands Him Some Pills, and After a Few Doses He Feels His Health Returning—Asked for the Name of the Pills, the Physician States they were Pink Pills for Pale People.

THE PATIENT A WIDELY-KNOWN MAN.

From the News, Indianapolis, Ind.

Sol. Yewell of 90 Hill Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., who is well known to the dramatic profession when a boy seventeen years old enlisted in Company H, 13th Indiana Volunteer Infantry, the first three years regiment that marched to the front from the Hoosier State. In the fall of 1862 he was honorably discharged, because of disabilities contracted in the service. After a short time spent at home he went to New York and entered college. He was a bright young fellow, a diligent student and a great future seemed opening before him. But he again heard the bugles and the fires of patriotism were again aglow in his bosom. He enlisted as a recruit in Company M of the Second Harris Light Cavalry, Kilpatrick's famous old regiment, and was soon again at the front. There was a great demand for cavalry in Virginia, and the active young trooper found plenty of fighting up and down the Shenandoah Valley and in the various campaigns on the Potomac. In 1864 he attracted the notice of the dashing and dauntless Custer, and was selected as one of his famous body guard, in which he served until the close of the war.

After the war Mr. Yewell began to be known as a skilled newspaper writer and correspondent, and he was later in demand as a theatrical writer and press agent, a profession in which he achieved signal success. He was a hero in private life as he had been on the field and in the camp, and few of those who know the genial and versatile Sol. Yewell had any idea that he was a great sufferer from diseases and disabilities, contracted during the war. Such, however, was the fact. He suffered from rheumatism, hemorrhoids and chronic tonsilitis for years. "As if these were not enough," said Mr. Yewell the other day at the Marion Home, relating his experience to the reporter, "I was doomed to fall a victim to the grip in 1890. This last fell monster accentuated all my previous troubles and added, seemingly half a dozen new ones. It was in November of that year that I was compelled to give up work and came to the Marion Home. Creeping paralysis, or locomotor ataxia developed, and in 1892 I went to the hospital where I remained for several months. My condition became so alarming that the surgeons here, who are my very good friends, were compelled to admit they could do nothing for me. My locomotor ataxia was attended with vertigo and I was liable to fall at any unexpected moment. The surgeons having nothing else in mind recommended that last resort—a change of climate. So in May, 1894, I went to Boston, Mass. I had secured employment at the Columbia Theatre there as press writer, as I was determined to do something. I remained there two seasons.

"My vertigo and paralysis continued to distress me greatly. I consulted a number of eminent physicians in Boston and became a patient at the Harvard College clinic on Bennett Street. The surgeons there appeared to desire to make much of me as a patient and I was willing. One day a doctor there gave me a box of pills. The wrapper and all identifying marks were gone, but the coating of the pills was of a pink color.

"I had scarcely used the box before much to my surprise, I found that the locomotor ataxia was leaving me. On the second box the vertigo entirely disappeared, my paralysis or locomotor ataxia was gone and I began to have my old-time confidence in myself. Yes, all these ailments under which I had suffered were leaving me. I used about four boxes of these pills before I knew what they were. At the close of the dramatic season of 1895 I took a vacation, going up into the White Mountains and into Northern Vermont. I asked my doctor and insisted upon knowing the name of the wonderful pills that he had been giving me. He laughed and said, 'I have been giving you a remedy called Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.'

"I said, 'I think they are the best medicine I ever took, and I can directly trace to them all the benefit that I have received. I should have said that along with my other afflictions I was at times seriously troubled with a valvular affection of the heart, but the pills have proven to be a splendid remedy for that also. I certainly believe they strengthen and correct the action of that organ."

Mr. Yewell has a clear, fresh complexion, the hue of health, weighs two hundred and twenty pounds, has a first-class appetite, and to use his own words: "I sleep like a top." He is fifty-two years old, and while Williams' Pink Pills have not made a young man of him, they have certainly restored him so that he bids fair to see many years of usefulness.

"I will leave here soon," were his parting words to the reporter, "as I have an offer to go to Boston and take up my old theatrical work."

Mr. Yewell's many friends in the newspaper and theatrical professions will be glad to know that he is again in good health and restored to the pursuit, which he so long adorned.

Mrs. Mary E. Miller, of Mattoon, Illinois, where enquiry has developed that she is a lady well and favorably known in the community in which she resides, sends the following report of her sufferings from inflammatory rheumatism, and subsequent cure by Dr. Williams' treatment, when all other remedies had failed.

MATTOON, ILL., Aug. 29, 1896.

"My name is Mary E. Miller, I am forty-four years of age and a resident of Mattoon, Coles County, Illinois. About two years ago I was attacked with inflammatory rheumatism of a severe type, and confined to my bed for three months. Physicians, of whom I had two, could not do me any good, and I was getting worse instead of better. It was then that I determined to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which I had seen advertised so widely, and to this end obtained a supply. In addition to the rheumatism I was suffering greatly with nervous debility, but after taking less than one box the nervousness began to abate, and presently the rheumatic pains grew less. By the time two boxes had been taken I was able to walk, which I had not done since I was first attacked, my appetite returned, and I soon regained my health, and am now as strong as ever I was. I always keep Pink Pills by me and always shall, for to them I owe my health, under Providence, and I shall sound their praises whenever I can.

(Signed) "MARY E. MILLER."
Witness: CYNTHIA H. REYNOLDS.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N.Y.

ORDINANCE NO. 342.

An bill for an ordinance to provide for taxing and killing dogs.

Be It Ordained by the Common Council of the City of Salem:

Section 1. It is hereby made unlawful for any person or persons to keep a dog or dogs, within the limits of the city of Salem, of the age of more than four months unless the owner or keeper of such dog, or dogs, shall procure from the city marshal a license for each dog as in this ordinance provided.

Section 2. The owner or person having in charge any dog kept or owned within the city of Salem, shall on or before the first day of June in each year, pay to the city marshal the sum of $1 50 in gold or silver coin of the United States of America for each and every male dog, and each spayed female dog, and the sum of $3 for each and every slut or female dog (not spayed) so kept or owned by him, which shall entitle him to a receipt from such city marshal, disignating the owner's name and the number of the license, which number shall correspond with the number on the tag which said owner or keeper shall place on each dog at his own expense.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of the city marshal of the city of Salem, or any one appointed by said city marshal, and he is hereby authorized to seize, impound and sell or kill and bury any and all dogs, sluts or spayed sluts found by him within the limits of the city of Salem, Oregon, the owner or owners of which have failed to procure and pay for a license as provided in section 2 of this ordinance. Upon the taking up and impounding any such animal the city marshal shall post a notice on the city bulletin board and shall send a similar notice to the owner of such dog, slut or spayed slut, if the name of such owner and his address is known. Such notice shall state that unless the owner of such animal, or other persons having an interest therein, shall claim possession of the same and pay all fees and charges of impounding, keeping and posting the same, together with the sum due to the city for license thereon as here inbefore provided, within five days from the date of such notice, the city marshal will proceed to sell the said animal at a time and place therein named, not less than five nor more than ten days from the date thereof to the highest bidder for cash. Such sales shall be public, and shall be held at the city pound and no bid shall in any case be received for any animal for a sum less than the fees of impounding advertising, keeping and selling the same, together with an amount sufficient to procure a license for the said animal, for which last amount the purchaser or owner shall receive a license upon such animal for the current license year.

The city marshal shall be entitled to charge for impounding, posting notices and selling such animal a fee of $1.50 for each male dog and a fee of $3 for each female dog or spayed slut, and for keeping such animals the sum of 25 cents per day.

In case a sufficient amount is not bid for any animal to pay all fees, charges and license fee upon the same the city marshal may, at his discretion, adjourn such sale from day to day, not more than three days in all, or if no sufficient bid is made for any animal, the city marshal is empowered, authorized and instructed to kill and bury the same at his own expense.

Section 4. No slut or female dog, in time of heat, or vicious or mad dog, shall be permitted to run or be upon the public streets or alleys of the city of Salem, whether licensed or not, unless securely muzzled or led by a rope or chain by the owner or keeper thereof, and it shall be lawful for any person to kill any such dog, slut or spaged slut so found at large; and the owner or keeper of any such dog, slut or spayed slut permitting the said dog, slut or spayed slut to be at large in violation of the provisions of this section shall, upon conviction thereof before the city recorder, be fined not less than $10 nor more than $50 and be imprisoned until such fine be paid, not exceeding twenty-five days.

Section 5. All dogs, sluts, or spayed sluts more than four months old found within the limits of the city of Salem without a license tag thereon, are hereby declared to be a public nuisance, and any person or inhabitant of the city of Salem who shall keep a dog, or dogs, slut or spayed slut within the limits of the city of Salem without first having paid the license required therefor by this ordinance, and having the number thereof stamped or engraved upon a collar upon such dog, slut or spayed slut, as hereinbefore provided, or who shall cause or permit a collar and number to be put on a dog, slut or spayed slut, with intent to avoid the payment of a license therefor, shall, upon conviction of such offense before the city recorder, be subject to a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $50, or be imprisoned not less than five nor more than twenty-five days.

Section 6. Any person or persons who shall harm or molest the city marshal, or any person regularly appointed by him, wearing a policeman's star, who is engaged in seizing any dog, slut or spayed slut or killing the same, accordnig to the provisions of this ordinance, upon conviction thereof before the city recorder, shall be fined in a sum not less than $5 nor more than $50, or by imprisonment in the city jail not less than five nor more than twenty-five days.

Section 7. All ordinances and parts of ordinances in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Passed by the common council of the city of Salem, on the 18th day of May, 1897.

ED. N. EDES,
City Recorder.

Adproved by the mayor on the 19th day of May, 1897.
