Independent Comment on People in State and Nation.

It is refreshing to notice the anti-labor men who were intimidated into support of the gold standard by the fifty cent dollar racket are on many instances getting their reward in the shape of substantial reductions in salary.

* * *

The mayor's verbal assurance to the council that the city's money in the busted bank would soon be forthcoming, does not seem to materialize. But then, legal proceedings are more off in the matter, and that seems to be what "Pap" feeds on.

* * *

The chaplain of the house, the Rev. David G. Bradford, opened proceedings in the Illinois state legislature with the following prayer.

"Almighty God, we are Thy precious and yearning at the beginning of another day's official labor. Help us we pray Thee, in the discharge of these day's duties, likewise have care to remember the poor, the helpless and people of this great state.

"Lord Lord, we pray Thee, the superintendents of the penal reformatory, charitable and educational institutions of Illinois. May they learn to be content with less money, and may we, who refuse to worship the golden calf, refuse also to worship gold in any other form.

"Forbid that any foreigner visiting our shores shall ever again have occasion to write:

"Money, money, is all the cry:
Honey's the total sum.
Give us money or else we die
Oh, let the money come.

And we will ever give Thee endless praise. Amen."

This prayer was greeted with enthusiastic applause.

If it costs $2300 to keep the lawyers of Marion county from monkeying with the legal documents, how much will it cost to prevent a county Judge from tampering with public records.

* * *

Four years of a Mahanna bookkeeper's financiering at the present rate will put Marion County $320,000 behind.

* * *

It might be better for the county, from a financial standpoint at least, that no further investigation of the bills for repairing the court house be made. Another mistake of $25 might be discovered. But then Judge Terrell could easily remedy that.

* * *

Since Judge Terrell has proved such a competent (?)accountant, the county will need no further experting of the official books.

* * *

Judging from the manner in which business is being done by the Marion county court, one would come to the conclusion that "prosperity" had certainly reached Oregon. The taxpayers will be forcibly reminded of the fact when they pay their taxes next year—if they raise enough money to do so.

A member of the good-for-nothing broken down, unrecognized railroad commission is a proper man to dish up Mitchell Republicanism.

* * *

In the columns of a local paper there is a wail about closing factories and reduction of wages. This is true in some instances, but where one factory closes down a half dozen start up and where one "firm reduces wages there are others that increased. But then some people could not be persuaded to look on the bright side of things. Their groveling natures will not permit it.—Roseburg Plaindealer.

Col. Alley in the Baker Republican: Col. Hofer seems to be very much exercised about a title given us. The very anxious Col. Hofer may be assured that we got that title in a very petty service long after the war closed, about the same way Hofer obtained the same handle. If everybody despised it as we do, they would drop it at once, as we have never pretended, claimed nor in the least given out that such a position, nor any other belonged to us in the service of our country.

Governor Fletcher is very sassy for a man who hasn't got strength enough to run a foot race.

A BLOOM UPON THE SPUD.

The sight of a snowy field of potatoes in bloom has inspired a young X Ray reader to send in the following:

There is joy in the farmhouse, there's rejoicing in the town,
There is hope for the poorman, for sweet manna's falling down.
For a prosperous sun is shining o'er this land safe, dark and drear,
And a prosperous time is coming and McKinley's boom is here.
And the food is growing quickly to enrich the laborer's blood
For the farmer in his garden sees the the bloom upon the spud.
McKinley in the white house and Hobart in the chair,
Wear a smile of sweet contentment and a calm and happy air.
And the rich man and the poor man both together laugh and sing
For they see our uncles' eagle sail aloft on prosperous wing;
And now the toiling masses know their names will not be mud.
For the farmer in contentment sees the bloom upon the spud.
Soon the rustic will wear broadcloth, and his wife fine silken frocks,
And the tramp upon the railway will cease his feet in socks.
The school boy in the city will possess a new tune,
And he'll feed his girl on candy till she does not cry for more.
Even the milk cow in the pasture now in rapture chews her cud.
For the farmer with enjoyment sees the bloom upon the spud.
And the churches stretch their towers to the skies in happy glee
And the pastor in his study counts his last year's salary.
And the school house in the valley once again its buttered bun,
And the small boy of the village treat again its time-worn toys.
And the trader in his platform spiels his chestnut and spares the lash.
For the farmer in his dooryard sees the bloom upon the spud.
The little tells how Noah in the old days built an ark,
And how that great menagerie all wanted to embark.
And how the rains descended and the earth was flooded o'er,
And how after months of waiting the dove returned no more.
But we've got a modern vessel that will ride outside the flood,
For the farmer in his garden sees the bloom upon the spud.
Now we see the prosperous sunshine lighting up our weary path,
Now at last the god of plenty has pushed out his vials of wrath.
Now the boy's can all save money, and can wear their Sunday shirt,
And the girls can eat French candy and with those boys can flirt.
And the hard times and the trouble quickly from our land must wend.
For the farmer in his rapture sees the bloom upon the spud.

Never before had logs jumped the chute at that point.

Confused the Professor.

Mischievous college students frequently enjoy themselves highly at the expense of their professor. Many times huge jokes are perpetrated on the innocent professor that afford no end of amusement for the student who relishes a good hearty laugh after hours of hard study.

It was only a few months ago in a pioneer educational institution of the Willamette Valley that a number of students perpetrated a huge joke on the professor in entomology. While the professor is a man of remarkable(?) proportions, his ability and success as an instructor is recognized by all.

One day the class was roaming about the campus watching for other insects than all ready in the possession of the class, when the thought occurred to one of the young gentlemen members of the class that he would play a joke on the professor. With this purpose in view, the youth found a few bugs, abnormally developed, which he took home with him and by means of an assortment of diamond dyes, soon had the insects attired in bright gaudy colors. These were carefully stored away in a safe place.

A few days later the class went out on a similar expedition and when they returned to the class room, among the contributions offered by this young gentleman were a number of these insects "of many colors." The astonished professor carefully scrutinized each one of the bugs when he asserted that he had seen a number of them but none of so many and brilliant colors. The remarkable appearance of the new "specimens" aroused considerable interest in the professor who spent hours and days studying them. After examining the bugs for several days the professor who by this time had arrived at the conclusion that Oregon possessed within her boundaries entomological "freaks" as well as freaks in other departments of the animal and vegetable kingdom, prepared a paper on the new species and sent it to an eastern monthly magazine in which it duly appeared.

A few weeks later the professor learned of the huge joke that had been played on him which so enraged him that at his instigation the young man was suspended from the school.

The professor is still looking for other "freaks" in entomology.

The man who eats because he is hungry is, thus far, on a level with the brutes. The man who stops eating the moment his hunger is appeased is the wise man. Nature needs no more food than she calls for. Continued excess brings about indigestion or dyspepsia, with loss of flesh, strength, sleep, ambition and mental power, and an accumulation of aches, pains and many dangerous local maladies.

The stomach now can do nothing alone. We must appeal to some artificially digested food which can also digest other foods. That is to say, we must use the Shaker Digestive Cordial. The effect is prompt and cheering. The chronic pain and distress ceases. Appetite presently revives. Flesh and vigor gradually comes back, and the sufferer recovers. But he must be careful in future. EXCURSION PEOPLE—By the hundreds will flock to George Bros. restaurant tomorrow and "eat, drink and be filled" for only 15 cents. Their 15 cent meals enjoy a wide reputation.

That lump in a man's stomach which makes him irritable and miserable and unfit for business or pleasure is caused by indigestion. Indigestion, like charity, covers a multitude of sins. The trouble may be in stomach, liver, bowels. Wherever it is, it is caused by the presence of poisonous, refuse matter which Nature has been unable to rid herself of, unaided. In such cases, wise people send down a little health officer, personified by one of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, to search out the seat of trouble and remove the cause. One little "Pellet" will remove a very big lump and act as a gentle laxative. Two "Pellets" are a mild cathartic. A short "course" of "Pellets" will cure indigestion permanently. It will cure constipation. After that, you can stop taking them. A good many pills act so violently as to derange the system, and in its disordered state, digestion will not go on without a continued use of the pills. That's the worst feature of most pills. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets never make slaves of their users.

Dr Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—it's an easy matter to remember. Don't let a designing druggist talk you into "something just as good." He makes more money on the "just as good" kind. That's why he would rather sell them. That's why you had better not take them.

Whenever they are tried, they are always in favor, so a free sample package (4 to 7 doses), is sent to any one who asks. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonial.
