Mrs. R. H. Leabo went to Portland today to attend a meeting of the Willamette Valley Association of Baptist churches. On Thursday Mrs. Leabo will join Mr. Leabo at Camp Jackson, Hood River.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.—PICNIC.—It has been the custom of the First Presbyterian Sunday school of this city for several years to annually give a picnic or an excursion for the members of the Sunday school. The officers of the school have about completed arrangements for a pleasant picnic to be given on an island near Wheatland, on Wednesday of this week.

The party will go down via Steamer Altona in the morning returning home on the evening boat. Should the present delightful weather continue for a few days, a delightful time is anticipated.

THE ELKS AT NEWPORT.—There was only a small number of excursionists from Salem to the Elks clambake at Newport Sunday. The excursion train, consisting of three coaches left Salem promptly at 6 o'clock with about thirty persons, principally members of the Elks and their families.

The majority of the excursionists returned home on the 2 o'clock local. The clambake was a decided success, as is invariably everything else that may be undertaken by this order.

FROM NEBRASKA.—A company of emigrants reached Salem on the Sunday morning overland from Kearney, Nebraska. The members of the party are men of means and, will locate here having already farms southeast of the city. The party is stopping at "Hotel Salem" but will take possession of their new homes this week.

The party consists of H. C. and T. J. Fisher, J. J. Bartlett and family, consisting of a daughter and two sons.

RESIGNED.—Charles L. Dalley today filed with Gov. Lord his resignation as horticultural commissioner for this district, as that gentleman will be temporarily called away from the state. The resignation recommends the appointment of Lloyd Reynolds as Mr. Dalley's successor, as he is a practical fruit man.

ENCAMPMENT.

"O. N. G. Boys in Blue" Leave This Morning for Hood River.

For the ensuing six days, Hood River, so pleasantly located on the Columbia river about 75 miles east of Portland, will present a scene of unusual activity and of typical army life from which the roar of cannon and clash of arms will happily be missing. The camp will be known as Camp Jackson, in honor of Major Jackson, U. S. A. who is detailed as instructor.

The special train, arranged for the transportation of the soldier boys, left Ashland at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, with Company D of that city. At Roseburg Company A was taken on board. Company C of Eugene, next found quarters on the train and at Albany two additional cars containing Company F numbering 53 and a company of 18 men from the Hospital corps, were attached to the train.

The train consisting of six passenger coaches and a baggage car, all heavily loaded, reached Salem at 6:30 o'clock this morning. Here two more cars, occupied by Companies B and I, and the Second Regiment band, numbering in all about 100 men were added to the train. A few moments more and the train pulled out. At Woodburn Company H will board the train as will also Company E of Hubbard, Battery A and the signal corps, together with the Third Battalion infantry from Eastern Oregon, will also participate in the encampment.

Companies B and I, O. N. G. assembled at the armory at an early hour this morning and at 6 o'clock, Major Percy Willis commanding, and preceded by the Second Regiment band of 21 pieces, marched to the depot. The boys in their uniforms, with blankets, knap-sacks etc. made a very creditable showing. The soldier boys will leave Portland this afternoon and will go into camp at Hood river this evening, reporting for duty Tuesday morning. They expect to break camp on Sunday evening or early Monday morning and return to Portland where they will participate in the Independence day celebration, on Monday, returning home that evening.

A Good Sale.

Many fruit growers will be interested in the sale of the C. L. Dalley prune orchard, which recently went to H. A. Townsend for the snug sum of $8000. The place consisted of 35 acres of six year old trees in full bearing, mostly of the Italian variety, and 30 acres or timber in the hills four miles south of the city. It is one of the best young orchards in the prune region, and brought a fair price.

Mr. Dalley has not sold, however, because he wishes to get out of the fruit business, or out of Oregon. He has recently been appointed administrator of his deceased father's estate in Ohio, and leaves this week to look after this business and visit his aged mother. He expects to be absent about three months, when he will return to Oregon and engage in fruit business, either as grower or buyer. Mr. Dalley has served over a year as state horticultural commissioner for this district, and now resigns that post of honor with the high esteem of every fruit grower who has had the benefit of his experience and advice in fruit matters.

Salem Wins.

The Salem junior baseball team returned from Gervais about 8:30 last evening where in the afternoon in a game of ball with the Gervais nine, they were victorious, the score standing 12 to 9 in favor of the local team. The game was a very closely contested one as the score would indicate. The principal feature of the game was the home run by Stewart, of the Salem team. Those forming the Salem nine and their positions were as follows: Brick Smith, catcher; Tom Townsend, pitcher; W. Stewart, short stop; H. Davis, first base; M. Cadwell, second base; H. Stanton, third base; Ira Hamilton, right field; Fred Byrnes, center field and Will Gillmore, left field.

THE CROPS.—After glorious rains it has turned warm. Just what is needed. The grain crop is saved by the timely rain. The volume of the hop crop is much improved and there will not be nearly so many of poor quality. Oregon fairly groans under the burden of small fruit. The cherry crop has been sufficient for home consumption. There will be plenty of apples and pears, but prunes and plums will be short. Potatoes—well we could feed King Cyrus's army.

NOT DEAD.—A report was being circulated about the streets today to the effect that Perry Beamer, formerly of this city, had recently died in California. Inquiry from Mr. Beamer's friends in this city elicited the information that Perry is located near Baker City where he is conducting a harness shop with splendid success financially.

STATE HOUSE NEWS.

State Agricultural College Regents Hughes, of Forest Grove and Church, of La Grande, were in conference with Governor Lord today. The meeting of the regents takes place Wednesday at Corvallis.

There is great interest felt over the meeting of the regents of the State university at Portland June 29. It is understood to be a war to the knife between McElroy and Chapman. The public generally are not much interested in the local squabble.

APPOINTMENT.

Ralph W. Terrell, a son of County Judge Terrell, received a commission today as Second Lieutenant, Co. I. O. N. G.

SUPREME COURT.

Darius H. Smyth, appellant, vs. John H. Neal, respondent; appeal from Harney county, argued and submitted, the appellant brought in this suit to restrain respondent from diverting water from a creek in Harney county, known as Smyth creek. C. A. Sweck and L. B. Cox, attorneys for appellant. Thornton Williams attorney for respondent.

W. J. Galbraith, administrator appellant vs. Margaret Wood and Jenny Muldrick, objectors respondents appeal from Grant county—argued and submitted. This is a proceeding which arises from objections filed to the final account of W. J. Galbraith, as administrator of the estate of John McCullough, deceased.

In the matter of E. D. Shattuck, appellant, vs. H. R. Kincaid respondent, ordered that this cause be advanced out of its order and set for hearing July 6, 1897, at 12 o'clock.

In the matter of the death of L. L. McArthur, a former judge of this court, ordered that resolutions of the bar adopted at Portland and presented by Honorable L. B. Cox, be entered upon the Journal of this court.

J. Frank Watson, appellant, vs. J. Loewenberg, respondent. It is now ordered on stipulation of parties that the respondent have until August 1, 1897, to serve and file his brief herein, the extension not to delay the hearing.

T. Patterson, et al. appellants vs. The Portland Smelting works et al. respondent, have until August 1, 1897, to serve and file their brief. The extension not to delay the hearing.

Joseph O. Ross, late of Walla Walla, Wash., was admitted on certificate from the supreme courts of Maine and Washington to practice in all the courts of this state. Recommended by Judge T. H. Brents, of Walla Walla, J. F. Booth and Wallis Nash, of Portland.

A MERITED RECOGNITION.—The 10 cent La Corona, a home manufactured cigar, in every way merits the recognition it receives at the hands of the thousands of smokers, who having once given it a trial, refuse to smoke any other.

THE WEATHER.—Was more pleasant today than it has been for some time but, rain or shine, people flock to Bransons & Co's grocery daily and take advantage of the bargains offered there in high grade groceries.

NEW PUMP HOUSE.—An important improvement was begun today at the state prison. Foundations are being excavated for a new pump house to be built of brick made at the pen. The labor is done with prisoners and out of the asylum funds, under the direction of Supt. Paine.

Notice.

Commencing with July 1, I shall do a strictly cash business. No goods will be charged after that date. The impossibility of collecting most accounts when due coupled with the fact that drygoods are now sold at such very close prices, induces me to change to the cash system. My goods will not fail to attract all cash buyers. With the extremely low prices that will now prevail in my establishment I expect to increase my already large business.

T. HOLVERSON.

Don't forget to call at the New York Racket, for bargains in hosiery, notions, straw hats, for all ages at low prices, sweaters, overalls, jackets, buggy robes and other articles.

MARRIED.

STEINER-BERGER.—At the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Steiner, on Garden Road, Friday evening, June 25, 1897, Miss Lillie Steiner, to Rev. F. H. Berger, of Adey, Washington.

The impressive ceremony was performed by Rev. Beckley, pastor of the German Methodist church of this city, in the presence of only the relatives and intimate acquaintances of the high contracting parties.

The bride is the only and highly accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Steiner. She is a talented performer on the piano, being a graduate of the Albany Conservatory of music. The groom, is the pastor of the German Methodist church at Adey, Washington, where, after a brief sojourn with Salem friends, Rev. and Mrs. Berger will begin housekeeping.

BORN.

PARCH.—At the family home east of Salem, Saturday, June 26, 1897, to Mr. and Mrs. Parch, a son.

MAGNAN.—At the home on Church street, Sunday morning June 27, 1897, to Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Magnan, a son.

FLAX CROPS.—John Minto, Sr., secretary of the state horticultural board, brings us a sample of flax grown within a mile of the city on island land that was planted some six weeks since and measured 36 1/2 inches. Gov. Fletcher has 36 acres of seed flax that stands two feet high. At the Chemawa Indian school stands a fine field of flax about two feet high. Oregon can grow flax or flax fibre.

THE OLD PIONEER STORE

Expect a large consignment of imported crockery and queensware, and as we will be crowded for room will make this offer for July. Where a bill of dishes or glassware amounts to $5 we will give one pound of Spider Leg tea. If purchase amounts to $10 we will give $1.50 in groceries. This means for cash.
