Weyler Still Making War on Innocent Women and Children.

New York, July 6.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from Havana says:

Seven hundred ill and wounded negroes have embarked for home at General Weyler's request, to make room in the hospitals for the new fever and smallpox victims, who are arriving daily from the interior.

Miss Willerton still begs to persuade General Weyler to permit the reception at the hospitals and impartial treatment of wounded Cubans who are captured and held as prisoners of war awaiting court-martial sentences of death or deportation in cuba.

A Cuban Home dispatch to El Heraldo de Mexico reports the defeat of a party of robbers near the central station and announces the capture of General Florentino, their captain. The moment the news reached General Weyler at Mambilla he telegraphed ordering his release.

ALL AFRICAN WOMEN AND CHILDREN.

New York, July 6.—A dispatch to the World from Havana says:

Senor Rosales, Marquis, Torrijos and Diaz, all wealthy residents of Guanajuato, were arrested recently and hurried to jail. The next night their houses were invaded by soldiers and police and their wives and daughters were forced to go with the men, hardly having a chance to dress.

Indeed, two of them, handsome girls of 17 and 18 years, were taken away in their night garments, the soldiers indulging in the coarsest jests regarding them and their appearance. These women have disappeared and no explanation made in Guanajuato and Huancayo do mention is paid.

La Lucha reported that fourteen children, from 4 to 14 years, have been put in prison as "leaders of the revolution."

The American colony is insulted daily in the papers and many sarcastic remarks are made regarding the "American's sudden change of front, when Spain stood at her dignity."

American Lady Beverly Beaton.

TACONIC, N. C., July 5.—Latest mail advises from Honolulu say that Miss Nellie West, an American lady, was recently beaten by two Japanese marines from the Japanese war ship Naniwa, one evening recently, while trying to assist her teacher, who had been set upon by a number of men-of-war men of the Japanese navy. She was confined to her bed next morning and unable to appear against her assailants in the police court, where they are charged with assault and battery.

Feeling has run high over the matter. A well known business man knocked down three Naniwa sailors on the street the following morning in consequence, while American blue jackets went hunting for the ring leaders of the Japanese who made the assault. One who was pointed out to them as being guilty was so severely beaten by them that his life now depends on the result of a delicate operation.

Gas Explosion.

ANOKHOM, Ind., July 6.—A stranger with a lighted cigar gave Madison county probably the most expensive Fourth of July display in its history.

The Trenton Oil Company, drilling north of this city, had just opened a mammoth reservoir when he appeared with his lighted cigar. The gas ignited. The flames shot 40 feet into the air and could be heard for miles. The derrick was burned down in a minute. There were no valves on the casings and there is no way to shut off the gas.

All methods known, except cannon snuffing, have been tried, but the pressure is too strong. The cannon will be used tomorrow. A ball will be fired across the casing. It will blow out instantly. This is only used in extreme cases. The outfit is gone and much adjacent property is damaged.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The Dingley Bill Too High.

Stamp Tax Passed—Caucus Called and Other Matters.

Washington, July 6.—Senator Allerton, in charge of the tariff bill, announced shortly before adjournment of the Senate that, as no agreement had been reached for a final vote on the tariff bill, he would not let the Senate remain in session until the bill was reported from the committee of the whole in the Senate. This provides a test of endurance unless the opposition to the bill gives way. Allerton's statement was made after another futile effort to have a time fixed for the vote.

In some respects Senate made good progress disposing of the two amendments. That placing a stamp tax on bonds, debentures, certificates of stock, etc., was agreed to without a formal vote. The sponsor amendment for general tariff investigation from time to time, by the three members of the board of appraisers, was withdrawn after a protracted struggle. In reply to Teller, Allerton said, the bill would raise $155,000,000 on the first, and over $200,000,000 on the second. Teller made a strong speech in favor of reducing the whisky tax to 20 cents per gallon and charged that the tax was kept high for the benefit of the wool alcohol trust.

Following is the rate fixed on bonds and stocks: Corporations, on each 10% of the issue, whether an organization or a reorganization, or certificates of stock by any such association, company or corporation, on each 10% or face value or fraction thereof, 5 cents, and on all brands of shares of stock in any association, company or corporation, on each 10% on the face value or fraction thereof, 1 cent. Exemptions from stamp taxes are made in the case of state, county and municipal bonds and stocks, and bonds in co-operative building associations.

COTTON CALLER.

A caucus of the Republican senators is called for to consider the advisability of introducing the sugar bounty amendment. It appears probable that the caucus will review the order of the previous bounty advocates hope that, at the same time, the Republican senators will be instructed to vote for the amendment, as offered by Senator Allerton. They thus hope to get the party in the Senate in line, as for the amendment, while they avoid the responsibility for the delay, which they admit, the amendment will occasion.

A Bridge Jumper's Death.

New York, July 6.—Another candidate for fame met death in jumping from the Brooklyn bridge. He was Captain W. C. Keeble, who had a reputation of jumping from bridges and nests of vultures. The bridge police received a "tip" of the coming event on Saturday. Captain Ward ordered three patrolmen stationed at either end of the bridge, while an officer in citizens clothes was sent to watch the house where it was learned that Keeble lived. The officer remained there until 8 o'clock this morning, when he returned to the bridge office.

Two hours later Keeble, with three companions, left the house and drove to the Catherine street ferry, where they crossed to Brooklyn, and from there went to the bridge entrance, paid their fare and proceeded slowly to the center of the span on the north roadway, when the coach stopped and the party alighted. Officer Grady, who was some distance away, saw Keeble climb to the top of the rail, and running toward him shouted to him to stop. Before he could reach him, the man had leaped forward.

His body made two complete revolutions before it reached the water 140 feet below. It struck the water with a splash, disappeared, and was not seen afterwards.

The police arrested the driver of the coach, Antonio Montreal, Duhar McDonald, Michael Kerr and Walter Reed, the three others also Lawrence Sprecher and George Schreuth, who had been stationed as lookouts to watch for the police.

Keeble, it was learned, was formerly a sergeant in Coney's army, and was, up to four weeks ago, a waiter in a restaurant. He was an Englishman by birth, 32 years old and unmarried.

CRIMES.

Peddler Murdered in Ohio.

Widower Found Dead Under Suspicious Circumstances.

CINCINNATI, July 6.—Fred Neiter, a peddler 22 years old, was murdered by an unknown man, whose only known name is John. The man purposed in a way rather mysterious to the police about a woman, and the unknown man cut Neiter's throat, severing the jugular vein. Neiter died in the patrol wagon a moment before he arrived at the city hospital and the body was taken to the morgue. The tragedy is more or less viewed in mystery.

Mysterious Case.

SACRAMENTO, CAL., July 6.—The police search here from Marin to the effect that Ezra E. Stocking, 29 years old, was found dead Sunday afternoon.

The circumstances surrounding the death are mysterious. About 4 o'clock Captain Young and Sam Burns, two residents of Marin, went to the home of Stocking to call. He was a wealthy widower, and lived by himself a short distance from Marin. At the house the visitors found no signs of life. Entering an entrance they found a cushion on the back of the head. There was no other sign of violence.

Deceased had large business interests, and it is feared that he was killed by some enemy.

Outlaw Captured.

PRAGUE, Mexico, July 6.—Several days ago the outlaw in this part of Mexico, who was captured recently in the mountain north of here, has been shot for his crimes. He was very intelligent and exerted great influence over the people of the rural districts of the state of Tlaxcala. He committed many robberies and murders and abducted wealthy men whom he held until ransom was paid.

Some time ago he established a farm to death. His rural friends refused to protect him any longer. President Diaz was appealed to commute his sentence, but he refused.
