

BRYAN

Our Most Royal Greetings.

Six Carloads From Salem Accompany Him to Gladstone.

Car Decorated With Flowers.

Handsome Appreciation Shown by His Salem Friends.

The reception accorded Bryan at Salem upon the arrival of his special train was the most hearty and boisterous on the line of his journey through Oregon. Lebanon had the biggest crowd, but Salem beat Lebanon for demonstrations and determination to get near Bryan.

Only small politicians and sordid natures could resist the cordial good will and generous appreciation for Wm. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, as it was manifest at Salem Monday.

HIS SALEM ADMIRERS

were not only boisterously enthusiastic all over the station grounds but they kept up their attentions in the Bryan special and decorated with fruit and flowers the two coaches chartered for Bryan by the state central committee. The long train of eleven coaches could not be handled to let all the crowd see Bryan. At Salem water was taken and this threw the rear coach far south of the crowd. The struggling jam at once began to surge that way. But those near the rear coach would not move on and for a time it was a pandemonium.

People clambered up the rear platform in vain efforts to get close to Bryan. One of the first to grasp his hand was Hon. Ben Hayden, who presented his daughter Estella, but the veteran with his 75 years was soon swept on by the crush. District Attorney S. L. Hayden and Mrs. Hayden went to Lebanon, where hundreds of prominent public men, many of them Republicans and supporters of the gold standard, were assembled to extend personal greetings. Sam Hayden's modesty is well known to all his friends, but it was so great on this occasion that he did not meet Bryan until the train pulled into Salem, when he merely was introduced and said good bye.

Many loyal supporters of Bryan, like the Campbell brothers of the Eugene Guard, the newspaper that carried that strong Republican county for him, were on the Bryan special, but were never even presented. There was opportunity if they had sought it, but the Campbells are not tuft-hunters. So with hundreds of others.

COVERED WITH FLOWERS.

That only faintly expresses Bryan's treatment by the ladies of the Salem Bimetallic Union. While he was trying to talk to the seething, twisting, good-natured mob under the blazing sun at the rear of the train, the Salem women got into his coach and converted it into a bower of roses, sweet peas and carnations. The car was locked at each end and was in charge of State Democratic Chairman F. A. A. Starr, of Portland. He constituted himself Bryan's body guard and even threatened to use his cane to secure for Bryan some of the coveted rest required for the big effort of the day at Gladstone Park.

But the Salem women broke through Starr's regulations and when Bryan returned to his coach he was given a surprise he will not soon forget. The ladies' committee was composed of Mrs. Bayne, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Dennis, Mrs. Charlton, Mrs. Motz, Mrs. Fairbanks, Mrs. Leabo and Mrs. E. Hofer. The double seat in the center of the coach was one mass of flowers.

Bouquets were piled on the cushions, on the floor, over the rails and the backs on each side. A large basket of the best Oregon peaches, nectarines, cherries and pears were presented to Mr. Bryan as he entered, and also a bouquet of sixteen to one white and yellow roses, tied with the same proportion of silk ribbons.

MRS. BAYNE'S REMARKS.

MR. BRYAN:—On behalf of the Salem Bimetallic Union, I have the pleasure to present you with this basket of Oregon fruits and this bouquet of beautiful roses as a token of their admiration of the dauntless battle, which you are making for the cause of bimetallicism and humanity.

The train was behind time, and the roaring and rolling of the car taxed Mrs. Bayne's nerves, but her effort was a success and her gifts were smilingly received, and the ladies were cordially thanked. Bryan sat down with the ladies of the committee and proceeded to discuss not Republican ideas on bimetallicism but black Republican cherries.

The most beautiful bouquets were one of white roses from Mrs. Taylor's avenue green house, and one of sweet peas from Mrs. D. J. Fry. Two Republican women in the crowd below the platform handed up large bouquets of cut flowers that were also presented in the car.

PULLED HIS LEG.

These ladies were determined to shake hands, but falling in this one of them reached up and pulled his leg. It is simply impossible to record the scenes enacted in such a multitude or to do justice to the efforts of those who deserve to be mentioned for their kindness and demonstrations of affection toward Bryan on this occasion.

WERE THERE.

The whole force of THE JOURNAL, office, big and little, male and female, babies and grandfather, shut up shop and went out to see and hear Bryan.

In the car was the same confusion. Some one remarked about the immense and enthusiastic crowd at Salem and said "there was some of the ragtag and bobtail left of this nation after all." "Yes," said Bryan, "and my country bred wife would have enjoyed being here and seeing them too."

FLOWERS IN DEMAND.

All the flowers presented to Bryan were again distributed by that gentlemen and preserved as souvenirs by many of the ladies to be pressed. At Oregon City and Gladstone women besieged those so fortunate as to secure bouquets for a division of the treasures.

THE SALEM MEN

on the Bryan reception committee were crowded to the rear by the ladies but were afterwards presented to Mr. Bryan and divided time with the newspaper reporters. Messrs. Boise, Davidson and Sherman went to Oregon City, the latter two going on to Portland.

En route to Gladstone the ovation continued: At Gervais, Woodburn and Hubbard the crowds were demonstrative. At Oregon City there were thousands. Col. Robert A. Miller conducted Bryan to a carriage at Gladstone and without dinner he went onto the Chataqua platform and held the crowd of six or seven thousand people for a solid two hours with a presentation of bimetallicism that won unbounded admiration and continuous storms of applause.

THE TRAIN SERVICE

on the Southern Pacific was excellent. Not a person was hurt. The immense crowds were handled with perfect success, and the greatest credit belongs to conductor Lee B. Hendricks, of Roseburg and his crew who ran the Bryan special though from Lebanon to Portland and returned in the evening.

BRYAN AT PORTLAND.

He got off at Madison street bridge and crossed over in a carriage while the crowds waited for him at the Union depot. He rested and refreshed himself at his hotel and then proceeded to the hall of the Democratic club.

The Oregonian editor, Harvey Scott was one of the first men to meet Bryan, at the Golden Rule bazaar hall and greeted him cordially.

20,000 AT PORTLAND.

The Oregonian says today of Bryan's meeting at Portland:

"There was an impatient but good-humored crowd of people gathered on Multnomah field last evening to hear the great apostle of silverism. There has been no greater outdoor crowd at a political gathering in the history of Portland. Chief Barry was on the ground with a posse of police to maintain order, and a band furnished excellent music to entertain the crowd of waiting people. Mrs. M. L. Woodcock created a diversion by appearing with a bunch of sweet peas, which she insisted must be put on the stand for Bryan, and she got them there. There were fully 20,000 men, women and children on the grounds, and, in the estimation of some, a still larger number was present. The crowd commenced to gather as early as 6:30, two hours before the advertised hour of speaking, and by 8 o'clock 5000 people were gathered about the stand and seated on the benches of the grandstand."

He was introduced by Mayor Penney, himself an ardent advocate of bimetallicism.

MAYOR PENNEY'S INTRODUCTION.

"I now have the very great pleasure of introducing to you the man who last November was the real advance agent of prosperity; the man who favors restoration of silver as standard money, whereby alone there can be restoration of national prosperity; the man who polled over six million and a half of votes, and who, if the election were to be held tomorrow, would poll more than ten million of votes—the Hon. W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska."

A "TO RENT" HIT.

In his speech Bryan said: "It has been nearly two years since I had the pleasure of meeting some of the people here not so many as now, as the silver cause was not quite dead then. You know it is dead now. On reaching Portland, I was prepared to find a great, busy city, and I wondered, with the mills all running and the shops all so busy, if the people would find time, even after dark, to be here. Instead of this I find the significant sign of 'To Rent' all over your city. I wondered at this, as you know this is July, and the increase of population in Oregon always takes place between June and November."

When Mr. Bryan had concluded, there was a great rush to greet him. Men and women scrambled frantically to the stand in the hope of shaking his hand. Very few succeeded in doing so. He hurried to the barouche he was waiting, and with Governor Rogers, of Washington; Mayor Penney, of Oregon; and F. A. E. Starr, was driven to the grand central station, where he boarded the east bound train for Pendleton.

There was a large crowd of strangers in the city, coming from various parts of the state, and Washington, to take part in demonstration. A special train from Seattle, under the management of Colonel Blethen, editor of the Seattle Times, with 351 passengers, arrived during the afternoon. Lieutenant-Governor Daniels and others, of Olympia, with small delegations from Tacoma and Chehalis, and other points on the Northern line, were on the train.

WAITING FOR HIM.

PENDLETON, Or., July 13.—People have come from 100 miles south in the John Day country to be present at Bryan's address today here. Preparations on an elaborate scale have been made for the occasion. Special trains and extra cars on the regular train will bring many hundreds. The town is filled with strangers, and hotels are crowded. A delegation was here from Walla Walla, and escorted Bryan there this morning on his arrival here. He will be brought back at noon, and will speak in Pendleton at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

WILL SPEAK IN LA GRANDE.

LA GRANDE, Or., July 13.—Word has been received that Wm. J. Bryan will include La Grande in his list of appointments for Eastern Oregon. Mr. Bryan will be brought from Pendleton to La Grande in a special train and will make an open-air speech to the people tomorrow morning. Messages have been sent to all available points, and every means to get word to the people of Mr. Bryan's appointment at La Grande.

BRYAN IN WASHINGTON.

WALLA WALLA, July 13.—The committee on reception and entertainment for today, when W. J. Bryan speaks here, worked indefatigably. Rooms in nearly all the city's homes were secured, and several commodious halls were fitted with cots. The day is a public holiday in this vicinity and the crowd will tax the city to its utmost capacity. At a meeting of the executive committee the following committee was appointed to meet Bryan at Pendleton and escort him to this city.

Chairman, M. C. Moore, J. B. Gehr, John I. Yeena, D. B. Gerking, John H. Pudigo, Edwin Sharpe, T. M. McKinney, B. L. Sharpstein and J. P. Kent. Hon. H. S. Blandford was chosen to introduce the distinguished speaker. Al Ricardo, H. O. Kelso and Walter Lingenfelder was appointed a special committee on entertainment of "The Press."

Governor Rogers and suite met Bryan at Gladstone Park and escorted him to Portland and into Washington.

Murder and Suicide.

CINCINNATI, July 13.—A special to the Commercial Tribune from Chattanooga, Tenn., says:

For some time Wm. Black has been the tenant of Mrs. Wolf, a wealthy widow living near Morristown, Tenn. Black had a wife and child but paid attention to the widow. Two months ago Mrs. Wolf married John Black, a younger brother of her admirer. Wm. Black often threatened to kill the pair. At last he entered his brother's house while John was at the bar and shot Mrs. Black dead. He reloaded his gun, went to the barn and sent a bullet through his own head.

THE CROWDS.—Were with Bryan yesterday but we had the crowd today. Our 15 cent meals take well and give universal satisfaction.—George Bros.

ORIENTAL.

Japan Is in for Trouble.

The Proposals to Arbitrate Are Entirely Ignored.

New York, July 13.—A dispatch to the Herald, from Washington, says: Hawaii has offered to refer to arbitration the immigration question pending between herself and Japan, but the Tokio government has so far ignored the proposition. Telegraphic information to this effect has been received at the state department, and it is therefore possible to deny the report published that Japan had agreed to arbitrate the vexed question she is discussing with the Hawaiian government. The proposition was made in the report sent to the Hawaiian minister for foreign affairs. Mr. Cooper, in answer to Mr. Shimamura's last letter reiterating the demand of his government that Hawaii recognize the principle of monetary liability as a motive of her action in excluding the Japanese immigrants.

The Hawaiians do not expect that Japan would accept arbitration. In fact, before Minister Shimamura began correspondence with Mr. Cooper in relation to the matter, he declared that his government would never consent to arbitration. At that time neither he nor his government had any idea that the strong arm of the United States was seen to be thrown around Hawaii, and it was because of this ignorance, state department officials say, that Japan has assumed such a commanding tone in her negotiations with the little republic.

It is said that Mr. Shimamura in his last correspondence with the Hawaiian government, demands further explanation in regard to certain details connected with the immigration controversy, in which he holds that Hawaiian authorities have committed an official offense against his government. The minister refused to admit the principle of monetary liability, and insists that the Japanese government does not want to get at the real merits of the controversy, otherwise it would acquiesce in the proposition to refer the matter to arbitration.

In view of Mr. Cooper's refusal, it is the general expectation in administration circles that whether the senate ratifies the pending annexation treaty or fails to take action during the present session, this government will have to settle the immigration question with Japan.

Nailworkers' Strike.

LONDON, July 13.—Five thousand wrought nailworkers of South Stratfordshire and North Worcestershire have struck for 10 per cent advance in wages.

Looted the Town.

LAUANA, Island of Labuen, North-east of Borneo, July 13.—Matsaller, the rebel leader, with 60 followers, attacked the government station at Gava at daybreak, Sunday. He looted the town, sacked the treasury of about £2,000, imprisoned the officer in charge and others, and killed a corporal of police. The British residents here have gone to Gava with a small force of Dyaks.

Race War Imminent.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 13.—The Occidental and Oriental steamer Doric has arrived from China and Japan, two days ahead of schedule time. She brought Yokohama advices to June 29.

The Japan Mail gives a summary of correspondence from Tien-Tsin which shows that the state of the foreign colony in that city is alarming. Three Chinese were killed in the days of May on charges that they had stolen native children in order that they might serve as offerings to insure the safety of the foundations of the new French Catholic cathedral to be decided June 21.

A Tien-Tsin correspondent says:

"It is reported that a conspiracy had been formed to attack the foreign settlement on June 21 and to burn the Roman Catholic cathedral. The consuls of the various nationalities have deemed it prudent to telegraph the facts to their governments and to ask for the protection of men-of-war. The gate leading from the foreign settlement to the Chinese quarter is closed every night at 11 o'clock. The Japanese gunboat Akagi is now at Taku in response to appeals from the Japanese consul. Chinese soldiers are quartered in various parts of the city for the express purpose of checking riots."
