

The times which Mr. Bryan states are upon the country are just what Republicans predicted in 1892...

Our Republican brother is reminded that under what he calls the free trade tariff, we exported for the year ending July 1, a billion dollar's worth of products...

After all that has been said, it seems Sept. Payne has not all of his family employed at the asylum. One daughter is on the payroll part of the time...

From an address of E. G. Horate to the grand jury representing on "The Mission of the Fellowship to Humanity"...

The Medford Monitor-Miner prints in full the laws to regulate a co-operative colony on the Delta plan.

Bryan is all about pieces, with snap-shots, as it were. He never dodges.

The regular monthly prosperity supplies are again in order, and many of the gold standard papers are giving prosperity their little lift by circulating them.

Bryan at Baker City: "They tell me that this county gave us the largest proportion of its votes of any county in this state, and that it is a county containing gold mines and no silver mines."

Medford Monitor-Miner: The contact of the multitude with William Jennings Bryan only strengthens and increases their admiration for the man.

The Oregonian refers to T. T. Geer's heroism in standing up for the gold standard among the almost unanimously "silver-mad" trans-Mississippi convention.

It is among the possibilities that Salem will this year ship solid train loads of dried fruit to the big eastern cities.

Salem is found to be the biggest fruit centre in Oregon.

Mr. Bryan was met at Huntington by Gov. Steunenburg, of Idaho, together with Justices Huston and Quarles, ex-Congressman Wilson and Atinslie and other prominent citizens.

A S. Barnes, Jacksonville Populist, writes: Twenty-five newspapers in the state are already supporting the Union party movement.

by the convention at Albany, this shows a remarkable growth, and that the people are determined to unite for their common welfare and the public good...

Mr. F. Wolf, of the Wolf & Zwickler Iron works and ship-building firm at Portland was interviewed while at Washington...

The paid Salem Bar of Harvey Scott's paper first prints out lists of state officers who have relatives on the asylum pay-roll.

Portland Tribune: By actual count this week there were found 187 places where business men ten months ago had "McKinley and Prosperity" posters hanging in their windows.

Salem now has two grand lodge grandsons, S. A. McFadden, grand workman of the A. O. U. W., and Claude Gatch, grand master of the I. O. O. F.

That Alaska gold will be spent in the Pacific Northwest, Salem will get her share, but in the meantime she will have a golden harvest that is much more certain.

Portland Dispatch: The warrants of our neighboring state, Washington are quoted at a cent and a half premium. That does not indicate that capital has lost confidence in a state that went for Bryan, free silver and a reform administration.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Horseless carriages have lately been introduced in the fire department of Paris.

Preserved fruits, in a state fit to be eaten, have been taken from the ruins of Heroulaeum.

The fifth international congress of criminal anthropology will be held at Amsterdam in 1901.

More than 14,000,000 10-cent pieces were coined last year at the new Chinese mint in Canton.

An order has been issued forbidding the sale of liquor in the restaurants of the Maine Central railroad.

Germany now has electric lights in over 1,000 postal cars, and Austria is about to adopt the same system.

Drimaldhvikillehattan is the name of a small hamlet in the Isle of Mull, containing not more than a dozen inhabitants.

Joseph W. Graines of Cleveland, Ohio, rides a wheel to keep down his weight, and he has reduced himself to 450 pounds.

Japan and Spain are a couple of spunky lads, but their Uncle Samuel can handle them both whenever they get too obstreperous.

Twenty years ago England had 11,616 male and 14,901 female school teachers. Last year there were 68,310 female and only 20,270 male teachers.

Stepfather is counted for two words and grandmother is one by the British postal telegraph authorities.

The accuracy of some parts of the locomotive is ten times finer than in a watch, but for absolute measurement the accuracy in the watch is almost three times as fine as in the locomotive.

The Mexican government has reduced the license on pawnshops, on the understanding that the shops make a corresponding reduction in the rates of interest on pawned goods.

The population of Iceland in 1894 was 72,177. Prior to 1890 there was a good deal of emigration, chiefly in Winnipeg, but there has been very little since that year.

The brush trade is full of deception. An experienced hand will, by touch, tell if a broom or brush be all hair or a mixture.

As S. Barnes, Jacksonville Populist, writes: Twenty-five newspapers in the state are already supporting the Union party movement.

After all that has been said, it seems Sept. Payne has not all of his family employed at the asylum.
