Daily Capital Journal.

BY HENRIE BROTHERS. SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1897.

EDITORIAL.

The Oregon peach plum should be called the Clondyke. It will fetch us millions.

The lists of things needed by prospectors bound for Clondyke generally omit brains.

With enormous gold discoveries has always come a rise in prices. May it not disappoint us this year of our Lord, 1897?

The English wheat crop is short and there won't be any wheat land summer fallowed in Oregon next year to speak of.

Our country ought to be prosperous. The balance of trade in our favor for the year ending July 1, was $287,000,000. It was paid in gold.

THE JOURNAL believes in a great future for Oregon and her people. It believes in development and good government. For the present its price remains the same.

Work horses deserve a rest on Sunday, just the same as other folks. Too often the hardworked team is driven off to town on a pleasure trip instead of recuperating for the week's labor ahead.

If Bryan is not sowed under as an object of public interest by the Alaska gold discoveries and attendant tremendous excitement caused thereby, his personality has more vitality to the American people than any one now believes.

What is the greatest factor today that is promoting the progress of woman? Is it not educational advantages? Intelligence is a form of wealth, and wealth asserts itself in whatever form it appears or exists. Equal intelligence will compel for women equal opportunities in life.

It is but just to the A. P. A. to say that they are divided in their support and endorsement of an extravagant and reckless county administration which their order helped to force upon the people. The element that still backs Terrell and his gang are willing to do so as long as there is a dollar in sight.

If there were no church in a neighborhood and we had to live there we should help build one, not being particular what denomination should be in control. From a merely social standpoint, the assembling of people in a religious society, possesses the greatest value. It focalizes the community for moral purposes. It elevates the individual above mere animal selfishness, and solidifies family life along a line of wholesome influences. The doctrine of doing something to save one's soul may be decidedly selfish, but so far society is ruled and the world is governed, though neither may be saved, by selfish motives. The Apostle Paul says the hope of immortality is the cornerstone of Christianity. Bobby Burns says the fear of hell is the hangman's whip that holds the wretch in order. We shall not quarrel with either, but advise you to go to church on Sunday.

In the last Republican Marion county convention there was no committee on resolutions. It was feared that a majority of the delegates would express themselves on bimetalism, and so the managers thought it wise to have no troublesome resolutions brought in. The A. P. A. managers had a meeting the night before the convention and agreed on a slate, most of whom were nominated. Those not nominated were afterwards rewarded at public expense. That explains the $1000 expiring job, and the employment of Carson & Thompson as county attorneys to compel the county to pay warrants that were issued in violation of all law, for court house repairs at about three prices, and also probably in payment of pro se attorneys' fees. The end is not yet. The biggest jobs are yet to come. The county grading job, the bills for litigation over the warrant suit and injunction suits, and other jobs have yet to be paid! But the taxpayer ought to rejoice that he is robbed by high toned Republican robbers.

There is increasing danger of a foreign complication with Japan, growing out of the attempt to annex the Hawaiian island. The main argument upon which the absorption of the territory known as Sandwich islands rests is the fact of predominant American influence of those islands. That predominance has existed undisturbed as a paramount influence for 75 years, as secretary Sherman shows. The Japanese concede this, and point to the further fact that Hawaii has adopted our form of government, but sagaciously turns this argument against us, as making necessary any further act on our part to protect American interests. Japan claims to have 25,000 people there, as against a few thousand American. The Japanese claims too to have greater property interests there than American. Objections to annexing Hawaii are few, but American occupancy is not a legitimate claim, because inside of 90 days there will be two Americans to one Englishman in the Clondyke. Yet no one will propose annexation of that part of British Columbia. We should annex Hawaii to feed our people more cheaply.

The death of the novelist, Mrs. Oliphant, is widely mourned. Her picture was given a world-wide distribution and was generally pleasing. Mrs. Oliphant wrote her first work, "Margaret Maitland," in her teens; it was published and went through three editions in the year she came of age. The delicate husband and an increasing family very soon drove her to continue the literary work, begun as a girl's recreation, as the one means of subsistence for her husband and children. At one time during Mr. Oliphant's long illness she wrote a three volume novel in six weeks, nursing him day and night the while; perhaps only a woman can fully appreciate the quiet heroism of this. Left with three children, Mrs. Oliphant returned to her native Scotland to maintain the heroic struggle with the cruellest fate, which hereafter made up her whole life. Of the novels which she poured out ceaselessly from that time until a few months ago, some are already forgotten, others will live as long as there is any interest in the Victorian age. It was not possible for a writer so prolific to be always at her best.

If she had written less she would have written masterpieces. Occupied as she was with her children and her home, she could not afford to write masterpieces always; but the loss of the artist is to the honor of the woman. Mrs. Oliphant seldom went very deep for the subject of her fiction; she purposely avoided the more violent passions of humanity, and shrank from working out situations to the bitter end. Yet her vision of life was singularly clear, her observation was wonderfully keen and true; her characters are seldom extraordinary men or women, but they are always men and women. Unlike many of her female contemporaries in fiction, she always wrote the purest English.

Novels with a purpose were unattractive, and problems of sex hateful to her. Realistic novels she disliked, because the simplicity and purity of her own nature prevented her from believing in conscious vice and wickedness.

Some of the most enthusiastic Salemites over the gold of the Clondyke were shouting for silver and voting for the silver standard last fall.—Statesman.

Why not brother? They are the progressive people. Besides every gold mining camp in the land gave a majority for Bryan and free silver last fall.

A woman's noblest work is helping a baby into life and health. She is committing a crime when she helps a sickly baby into the world. It is a crime because it is wholly within her power to make the baby strong and healthy. She can do it by the proper preparation—by taking proper care of herself during the period of gestation. Many babies die early, or at birth, or are sickly all their lives because of their mothers' ignorance or neglect. Neither is excusable. Every woman may be strong and well, and so ensure the health of her baby. If she will take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription during the period of gestation, she will find that she will have none of the discomforts incident to this condition, and that parturition will be free from danger, and comparatively free from suffering. This medicine is the greatest remedy in the world for all the forms of weakness or disease peculiar to women. It is the only medicine of its kind prepared by a regularly graduated, experienced and skilled specialist in the treatment of diseases of women. It is the only medicine in the world that will make the coming of baby safe and easy. You can get it at the drug store. If you want to know all about it, address Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

All those who suffer from biliousness, indigestion, heart burn, dizziness, palpitation of the heart, and a generally sluggish action of the digestive organs should take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are tiny sugar coated granules. Forty in a little vial. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative; two a mild cathartic. By druggists.

JOURNAL "X-RAYS"

The Keeley Institute seems to be quite on the same plan as the Keeley motor of yore: it didn't go.

Nearly the world must be out of joint, for even old office holders are causing the times. Must be they're out of a job.

THE JOURNAL is good summer reading. It doesn't draw flies.

When times get better the Alaska fever will subside.

Readleton Tribune, which has been printing columns of Prosperity Items, and making them by the page, has an item saying that the town is full of babies, and speaks of them as being in danger.

A magazine says none but working men should eat pie or cake. They are just the ones that can't get either.

Ad-in the CAPITAL JOURNAL bring results for two reasons—First, it has a large circulation. Second, it is not taken by dead beats, but by people who pay in advance.

The Tacoma Ledger announces that prosperity has returned, but the Oregonian says the taxation for the support of government is excessive and "the full measure of prosperity must wait upon its relaxation." No wonder Mark Hanna prefers to edit all the Republican organs from headquarters.

Salem is the most comfortable summer resort so far found this season.

In a report from Newport of the state teachers' meeting, in the Oregonian, is mentioned "Dr. E. B. McElroy, of the State university."

The Ledger quaintly remarks that the Tacoma mills have advanced the price of flour and the prospect of a further rise in price "is good." Good for the consumer? Have the mill companies or any other companies increased wages?

And now the organ of a certain institution say a subscription is being raised to force a school election, whether the people want it or not.

Who are the patriots anyway, that insist upon undoing all that has been done by the present School board?

Who wants to force a school election, when the year's work is all done? There are several answers to the above question.

First is, the people who have an axe to grind.

Second, People who want to force the district to a heavy and unnecessary expense.

Third, A clique of better-than-thou politicians, who want to drag our public schools into the political mire for what there is in it.

Fourth, A lot of disappointed politicians, who want blood.

A CYCLING MINISTER'S EXPERIENCE.

THE RESULTS OF LONG, HARD RIDING.

FULLY 3,000 MILES ON HIS WHEEL.

He Makes Some Reflections on the Benefits of the Sport and Tells of its Dangers.

The Rev. Wm. P. F. Ferguson, whose picture we give above, will not be unfamiliar by sight to many readers. A young man, he has well had an extended experience as a leading minister, pastor, editor, lecturer and poet, that has given him a wide acquaintance in many parts of the country.

In an interview a few days ago he said: "In the early summer of '94 I went upon a tour through Canada on my wheel. My route was from Miss to Cape Vincent thence by steamer to Kingston, and from there along the north shore of the lake to Toronto and across to Niagara Falls. I arrived at Cape Vincent at 2 o'clock, having ridden against a strong head wind all day.

"After a delightful sail through the Thousand Islands, I stopped on shore in that quaint old city of Kingston. A slight shower had fallen and the streets were damp, so that wisdom would have dictated that I, weary as I was, should have kept in doors, but so anxious was I to see the old city that I spent the whole evening in the streets.

"Five o'clock the next morning brought a very unwelcome discovery. I was lame in both ankles and knees. The head wind and the damp streets had worked an unfortunate combination. I gave, however, little thought to it, supposing it would wear off in a few hours, and the first dash of sunlight saw me speeding out for splendid roads that lead to the westward.

"Night overtook me at a little village near Fort Hope, but found me well lame. I rested the next day, and the next, but it was too late; the mischief was done. I rode a good many miles during the rest of the season, but never a day and seldom a mile without pain.

"The winter came and I put away my wheel, saying 'now I shall get well, but to my disappointment I grew worse. Some days my knees ached for a mile or two, and my ankles would not permit me to wear shoes. At times I suffered severe pain, so severe as to make study a practical impossibility, yet it must be understood that I considered the condition of affairs as far as possible.

"From being local the trouble began to spread steadily and my anxiety increased. I consulted two physicians and followed their advice to the letter, but without result. So the winter passed. One day in March I happened to see in my hand a newspaper in which was an advertisement for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I personally know of a number of cures from other troubles, but I have needed these only for that, though it would be but fair to add that my general health has been better this summer than ever before in my life.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are now given to the public as an unfailing blood builder and nerve restorer, curing all forms of weakness arising from a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves. The pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 (they are never sold in bulk or by the 100), by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N.Y.

good deal of space was taken by an article in relation to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did not at that time know what they were supposed to cure. I should have paid an attention to some article I had not caught the name of a lady whom I knew. Reading, I found that she, in similar circumstances, had been greatly benefited by the use of Pink Pills, and knowing her as I did I had no doubt of the truth of the statement that she had authorized.

The first box was not gone before I saw a change, and the third had not been finished before a great deal of my rheumatic troubles were gone to stay. "I say 'gone to stay,' for though there has been every opportunity for a return of the trouble, I have not felt the first twinge of it. I have washed thousands of miles and never before with so little discomfort. I have had some of the most severe tests of strength and endurance, and have come through them without an ache. For example, on afternoon I rode seventy miles, pedaled that night and made fifty miles of the hardest kind of road before noon the next day. Another instance was a "Century run" the last forty miles of which were made in a downpour of rain through mud and slush.

"You should think I would recommend them to others? Well, I have, and have had the pleasure of seeing very good results in a number of instances. Yes, I should feel that I had no feeling a duty if I failed to suggest Pink Pills to any friend whom I knew to be suffering from rheumatism.
