Ehlen and promptly cashed by County Treasurer G. L. Brown. This may appear as an useless item of expense to the county, but those who are acquainted with the destructive work accomplished by gophers and squirrels, will not begrudge the amount at all. The work of these animals cannot be seen to advantage in Oregon from the fact that the annual slaughter keeps the numbers greatly reduced, but in a state where no bounty is allowed on gophers, etc., their work is plainly in evidence, not only in the garden but also in the grain fields. There are other "gophers" feeding off the county's finances that could be dispensed with much more profitably to the taxpayer than the small amount paid for a bounty on scalps.

SOCIETY NOTEBOOK.

MISS BUREN ENTERTAINS. The residence of A. B. Buren, on Court street, was the scene of a pleasant gathering of young people last evening, invitations for which had been issued by his daughter, Miss Leda, some days since. Shortly after 7 p. m., which was the hour specified, the crowd began to gather, and soon the guests had all arrived. After chatting awhile, the children were invited to go into the yard and engage in a "doughnut contest." The doughnuts were suspended from a wire stretched across the yard, and made to hang just in front of each mouth. After having their hands tied behind them so that they could not be used, time was called and every one began to eat, or try to eat, his or her doughnut, which was no easy task. The owner of the doughnut which first entirely disappeared was to occupy a chair which had been placed ready. Miss Georgia Dayenport succeeded in eating her cake first, and received a prize: a dainty box of "Lowney's."

After this contest all repaired to the house and drank punch out of an old fashioned well which had been manufactured and placed in one of the rooms for this particular occasion. But this was not all, cards were distributed on which were the names of twenty birds so transposed as to make them strange enough, even to those familiar with the members of the feathered tribe. Each guest worked faithfully for fifteen minutes, the limit granted in which to complete the list, and as a result about twenty of the young people handed in lists with every bird studied out and written opposite the queer looking mixture of letters. To settle this matter, those who had been successful, were asked to guess at the page of a book held before them, and Miss Mabel Keady guessed within one of the correct page, and was awarded with a most appropriate gift, "The Bird's Christmas Carol," by Kate Douglas Wiggin.

After partaking of a dainty lunch, the guests were entertained by a selection rendered by Miss Marie Vandarsal which they enjoyed so much that Miss Vandarsal was persuaded to give several more recitations which were as well received as the first. Music, both vocal and instrumental, followed and after a most pleasant evening, the merry guests departed to their homes.

Miss Leda was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Buren, Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. A. A. Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. Max O. Buren.

Those present were: Misses Ella and Grace Rineman, Georgia Davenport, Stella and Carrie Hurst, Oskie Rotan, Mabel Keady, Aline Thompson, Katie Perrine, Alice Meyer, Lilla Swafford, Connie Hansacker, Cora Talkington, Ama Strog, Blanche Brown, Ethel Calvert, Ruth Gabrielson, Remoh Holland, Mabel Branson, Frankie Chase, Lillian and Alicia McElroy, Winnie Byrd, Greta Rosenberg, Lela Bell, Nellie Harrild, La Verne Kantner, Edna Hubbard, Cecilia Haines, Bessie and Wanda Smith, of San Francisco, Emma Ehlen, Gertrude Cunningham, Fannie Lane, Marie Vandarsal, Linnie Crossman, of Red Bluff, Cal., Masters Milton Ehlen, Ralph Matthews, Claude Bell, Henry Hubbard, Carl Gabrielson, Frank Harritt, Frank and Chester Rineman, Lloyd and Willie Mott, Willie Vandarsal and Asei Bush.

EXCURSIONS.

Half Rates for the State Fair.

The Southern Pacific Will Help all Round.

Secretary Gabrielson has secured half fare rates on all lines of the S. P. road for this year's state fair.

Salem is to be congratulated upon this result, as it will greatly assist in making the fair a success. It has been said for years that special rates could not be secured for our big fair, but by intelligently setting about it the present secretary has secured this much-desired concession. The following from General Freight and Passenger Agent C. H. Markham speaks for itself:

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 4, 1897. C. D. Gabrielson, Secretary State Fair Association:

DEAR SIR:—Referring to my letter of July 23, relative to rates to the state fair which opens at Salem on September 30, and closes October 8, beg to say that, upon reconsideration, we have decided to make a one fare rate from all points on this company's lines in Oregon, for account of the affairs of last year. In looking over the business of last year we find that the attendance at the fair from points on our lines was exceedingly light, and the low rates which we are putting in this year are in the nature of an experiment to determine if the attendance would thereby be increased to an extent which will justify our making the same proportionate rates for after years. Moreover, we are desirous of doing all that we can to make the fair itself a success, and we earnestly hope that the low rates, which will be made, will contribute towards that end.

Yours truly, C. H. MARKHAM, Gen. Frt. and Pass. Agent. Secretary Gabrielson is also in communication with the O. R. & N. Northern Pacific, Union and other roads to secure like concessions all around, and it is more than probable that our fair will this year enjoy the benefit always to be derived from such causes.
