BIMETALLISM.

No Monetary Conference. England Will Not Participate Says Sir Thomas Sanderson.

New York, Aug. 6.—A special to the World from London says:

Sir Thomas Sanderson, who is permanent under secretary and who ranks next to Lord Salisbury in the foreign office, said to the World correspondent:

"I do not believe that the British government has submitted any proposition to the American bimetallic envoys. I have heard of a meeting to be held between President McKinley's commissioners and Lord Salisbury at the foreign office next week. The report that one will be held I deem untrue. At that time most of the cabinet members will be away. Lord Salisbury might come to London from Hatfield, but I do not think he will serve and most of the ministers could not be present."

Mr. Balfour's secretary says no such meeting has been arranged.

The daily newspapers are seriously noticing Senator Wolcott's bimetallic commission. The Chronicle says, after "authoritatively" announcing a meeting for next week which Sir Thomas Sanderson says has not been called, that "most of the cabinet will be present and Lord Salisbury is then expected to make known to President McKinley's envoys the decision of the British government on the subject of the proposed extension of silver coinage."

As cabled two weeks ago, many people have expected that Lord Salisbury will again make his old offer to open the Indian mints and withdraw the 10-shilling gold pieces from circulation. The Statist, the most important financial publication here has inclined to that view, and so has the Times, qualifiedly. But the World correspondent learns on very nearly the highest authority that all such statements are without foundation at present.

In connection with the grave doubts expressed about any meetings being held before September, it may be noted that Mr. Balfour and the rest of the government are of the opinion that it would harm rather than help any effort to settle the monetary question if any offer was made by Great Britain before official negotiations, privately conducted, had proved that England, France, Germany and the United States were prepared to agree upon steps to effectively remonetize silver and maintain par of exchange. It is believed that Balfour has refused to hold any official conference with anybody until pretty near a final agreement has been reached.

The French and United States governments have informed the British government what they will do if England and Germany will take certain steps. If the English government would accept this offer the acceptance must be conditional on German's agreement.

Germany will not be approached until it is found what England will agree to, and much time must elapse before a formal conference is possible. Should Germany tacitly agree to a proposition agreed upon by the three other countries then such a meeting as has been predicted for next week might be held. The progress of the negotiations now going on in London is being kept profoundly secret, but it is said that England is prepared to make a few minor concessions. London takes Senator Wolcott and his bimetallic colleagues more seriously than Paris did. The French newspapers, including Le Temps, made game of them but the London journals regarded them with respect.

Tired, Nervous, Sleepless Men and women—how gratefully they write about Hood's Sarsaparilla. Once helpless and discouraged, having lost all faith in medicines, now in good health "able to do my own work," because Hood's Sarsaparilla has power to enrich and purify the blood and make the weak strong—this is experience of a host of people. Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver medicine. Gentle, reliable, sure.

Weak Lungs

Hot weather won't cure weak lungs. You may feel better because out of doors more, but the trouble is still there. Don't stop taking your because the weather happens to be warm. If you have a weak throat, a slight hacking cough, or some trouble with the bronchial tubes, summer is the best time to get rid of it. If you are losing flesh there is all the more need of attention. Weakness about the chest and thinness should never go together. One greatly increases the danger of the other. Heal the throat, cure the cough, and strengthen the whole system now. Keep taking Scott's Emulsion all summer.
