FROM NEWPORT.

Breeze! From the Seashore—A Scheme to Warm the Bay.

[Special Correspondence.] NEWPORT, (by the S. A.) Aug. 10.—A big excursion over Sunday morning was preceded by a larger one Saturday night, when the Salem Workmen stormed this haven of rest. On Sunday fully three hundred were enjoying the surf bathing at one time. It was an exhilarating sight to see so many Salemites wash themselves.

Sam Case, the Ocean House proprietor, is said to be improving with a good prospect of recovery.

Tilmon Ford, E. P. McCormack, Orin Barker, Peter D'Arcy, Dr. Gillis, Dr. Keene and the rest of the Salem society of highly notable Single-Bucks, are hereby notified that the price of Coked Hat has been reduced to ten cents a game at Newport and there is no longer any excuse for their remaining away from this summer resort.

Postmaster-elect Hammond is the champion deep-sea fisherman of this port. He brings in 200 pounds on any clear day. The finest Chinook salmon are caught up the Bay.

The season so far here has been cool and there has been quite a run on Al Hoskin's hot salt water baths. He has them at any degree and some wonderful cures of rheumatism are reported. They will also cure Klondikeitis and some cases of spindicitis.

The Salem Woodmen excursion was the finest crowd of people brought here this season. It was worked up by Messrs. Derby, Lane, Myers, Willman and Flagg. If Salem had a $1.50 rate to Newport, as Albany has, there would be a thousand Salemites have cottages here inside of a year. The Salem ministers would have a contract on their hands to hold their audiences on Sunday. The Salem man who can leave his business a month, or can live without his family a month is not numerous. But at a $1.50 rate he could Sunday here and go home to his business.

The big Newfoundland at the Abbey house takes peculiar likes and dislikes to some people. He likes children, and some men he escorts wherever they go. A Salem young man came over Saturday and spent Sunday with his sweetheart. Sunday evening he went to call on her and the big black dog took a notion to accompany him over the hill to Nye Brook. The young man went in and Jack took a position at the front gate. At a late hour he was still there. He had gone in and was lying on the front porch evidently expecting to await the young man's departure, if he had to stay all night. The dog (Jack) attracted the attention of all the neighbors, and all agreed that he understood his business. The young man, it is thought, stayed to breakfast, as the dog was still there when the boat left.

DOWN THE BAY. The most delightful part of a trip to Newport comes from a sail across the bay from where the train lands you at Yaquina to Newport. It is about four miles. The little steamer starts in smooth blue waters that is entirely landlocked by evergreen hills, over which the spicy cooling breezes blow, so refreshing to the lungs and nostrils of the traveler after half a day's ride on the cars. As we go down the bay the wind freshens, overcasts and wraps are required, and color mounts to the cheeks. We are now in sight of the ever-blue Pacific, and the swirls begin to heave our vessel. As we swing around in front of Newport the breakers rolling in from the broad expanse of ocean outside roll out but so that timid people go inside, and those who remain out get the salt spray dashed in their faces and the crimp taken out of their hair. The band strikes up on the landing, familiar faces greet the new arrivals, the boat makes fast, and all are on terra firm ready for the dinners that are waiting in hotel, restaurant, camp or cottage.

TO WARM THE BAY.

Col. Jeff Myers, who is spending a few weeks at the bay, has a plan for warming the water in the bay to make it more agreeable for bathing. As is well known, salt water at same temperature is colder than water that is fresh, just as ice with salt on it is colder than other ice. It is well known that there is a large body of vegetable oil spread, like butter on bread, over the Pacific ocean for miles out at sea, on which the sperm whales feed. This oil was discovered by Tilmon Ford the Salem lawyer, a few years ago when he went out over the bar. Myers intends to pipe this oil in and burn it in immense tubular submarine boilers to be sunk just at the outside of the surf bathing place.

Jeff Myers is a warm-hearted fellow and this brilliant idea of raising the temperature of the bay would result in bringing thousands to Newport where hundreds now come. He intends to have a boiler attachment where crabs, flounders and halibut can be cooked as they come up the bay and served hot on the beach.

Alderman Ed Parkhurst went in bathing here Sunday and left for Salem, Monday. He is going to sit in McCrow & Steusloff's refrigerator a few hours when he goes home to get warm. The thermometer all day Saturday and Sunday stood a 54 degrees. Monday it was warmer and the water pleasant.

At Nye creek the bathers all take hold of hands when they go in and are very sociable. I take my daily bath in Olsson's bay. When the tide is in, the water is warmest and at all times it is warmer than in the surf. There are no big waves to knock you off your feet, and you don't have to swallow salt water unless you want to, and I consider that quite an advantage. Our bull dog learned to swim in salt water the first lesson, but I have not got the boys to go in more than a foot deep. Before the season is over I hope to have them at least able to swim "dog fashion."

IGNORANCE SET STRAIGHT.

A Sharp Refutation of Some Silly Lyrics.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—Yesterday my attention was called to a paragraph in the Statesman of July 23, which strikes me as a huge joke or something of the sort, at least the party who wrote it or dictated the same certainly shoots wide of the mark. The individual in speaking of the Capital building at Lincoln, Neb., as being a front built of wood and painted to represent stone was certainly off her base. The party could not have seen the building with a normal faculty of eye sight, or else she was terribly imposed upon by some one whose intention was evidently to mislead, for in fact the building is constructed of solid grey limestone rock from the bottom of the foundation to the flag-staff on the dome. Even the cornices are of the same material, except where iron is substituted instead of stone. In regard to the comparison of the building with that of Oregon I have ample room to believe the Nebraska building to be much the finer of the two. In relation to the parties finding Brother Porter, of the secretary's office, perched upon his desk, shoeless and minus his coat, I don't doubt it for a moment since he and his associates took possession of the state capitol in addition to the ordinary duties that pertain to their several offices they have been unearthing the faults and bringing to justice the Republican looters of the state treasury with the result that one of the Hon. Republican ex-state treasurers is behind the iron bars and the auditor and several others on the road to the same place, and it is my opinion by the time Wm. Porter gets through with them some of the fine haired gentry who have cut such a rich swath around the state capitol of Nebraska will be minus socks as well as shoes and the stripes of their pants will run-around the body instead of up and down. And again this unexpected exhibit in the secretary's office was not without its lesson for it must have settled the fact in the lady's mind that the secretary, at least, was not webfooted.

Thefting the lady makes at Mr. Bryan, I don't believe will cut much ice for since the lady was very badly "off" in her criticism upon the building, she is liable to be just as badly fooled about the man.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally, and made in Toledo, O., by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

A fire is raging in the timber among the huge sugar pines in the Jenny creek section, and the heat and smoke are suffocating in places along the Ashland road. Other fires in that neighborhood are doing a vast amount of damage to valuable timber.

Losing Flesh

You naturally lose flesh in the summer and running down is so easy. You get a little weaker each day without hardly noticing it. There is loss of appetite, headache, weakness of the muscles, disturbed sleep, weakness of memory, and these are the beginning of nervous prostration. Iron and tonics and bitters may afford some temporary relief, but what you need is a food for body, brain and nerves.

Scott's Emulsion.
