BRASS BANDS—Are all right in their place, but they are an expensive luxury for a store. We prefer to keep expenses down and give our customers the benefit of low prices. We are selling men's underwear for 25 to 50 cents per suit, cheaper than those who employ a band to draw a crowd. You should see our underwear before buying your winter supply. It will pay you.

MEN'S HATS—We have just received three times as many hats as we ever bought before, and we are going to sell them at our usual low prices. Don't forget when you want a hat that we will sell you the latest shape at the prices asked by others for last year's styles.
SHOES—Our shoe stock is complete and our prices as usual are the lowest.

RUSH OF CATTLE AND HORSES

Large Shipments of Poultry From Washington to Arrive.

Secretary Gabrielson has been at the fair grounds nearly all day, making arrangements to accommodate the large increase of exhibitors. The rush for cattle and horse stalls has necessitated building a number of new ones.

A BIG POULTRY SHOW.
Supt. Geo. D. Goodhue, of the poultry department, says the poultry department of the state fair will be immense. Every thing about the building is being put in apple pie order for the reception of the big feathered tribe sure to be there. The coops are being lowered and remodeled and the floor newly laid with fresh sawdust. Supt. Goodhue is kept busy answering numerous letters from intending exhibitors and says this exhibit is sure to be the largest and best ever had on the Pacific coast. Some idea may be gleaned regarding the interest taken in the poultry exhibit by poultry breeders in the adjoining states when we make known that one breeder in the State of Washington sent down his entries of 44 birds. This Supt. Goodhue says is only a start, as there will be at least 150 birds from the State of Washington, from different breeders there. The building up of the poultry department of the Oregon state fair has been no small task, but Supt. Goodhue has been equal to the occasion, and has made the poultry department of the state fair one of the leading features. This year Supt. Goodhue has added new and increased interest to this department by having engaged the services of W. W. Browning, of Ogden, Utah, to judge the fowls and award the premiums. Mr. Browning is a national judge and a member of the American Poultry Association, and is held in the highest esteem by the poultry fraternity throughout the country.

ENTRIES ARE BEGINNING.
Never before in the history of the fair have exhibitors availed themselves of the rule that permits entries to be made six days before opening. But entries of all kinds of stock are being made today. This is done at the secretary's office at the Bush bank block. The regular entry clerks go to work at the secretary's office at the fair Wednesday morning.

Tuesday night's freight from Portland brought twenty head of race horses that had been in attendance at the Spokane race meet and are to contest for purses here.

THE ARRIVALS
embraced the black pacer, Chehalis, owned by Frank Frazier of Pendleton. Chehalis is by Altamont, out of Lectora, by Cassus M. Clay, and is a full brother to Del Norte, 2408, and Touchet, who as a 3-year-old made a mark of 2:15. He was bred in Oregon by Jay Beach, but purchased as a yearling for $600 by Frank Frazier, who was then in the drug business at Pendleton, Oregon. He was given a few races as a 3-year-old, making a mark of 2:24, but it was not until 1895, that he became noted, and while in California he took a record of 2:07. He was not campaigned in 1896, but at the beginning of this year was put in training and at Butte a few days ago paced a mile in 2:07, which is within one-quarter of a second of the best time ever made on any track west of Chicago.

OF HIS WORK at Spokane last Friday to beat the two-mile pacing record the Spokesman Review says:
"After the first heat in the 2:22 trot Chehalis was sent to beat the two-mile pacing record. The horse had a running mate on the last mile, but his action is so good and he is so game in response to the urging of the driver that the services of the runner were not needed. Frazier scored his horse up three times and, nodding for the word was sent away. The first mile the horse was not let out for fear he would tire on the last mile, but he went the distance in 2:15. In the second mile Frazier began to let out a few links. The horse was moving beautifully and did not appear to be one bit distressed. Down the back stretch the pace was killing, but the horse never faltered and rounded into the turn, coming on like the wind. Frazier never laid the whip on his horse's back, but talking and coaxing him under the wire in 4:23 flat."

A BUSINESS BLOCKADED.

A Strange Circumstance in a Salem Store.

Last week reference was made to the vast crowds forcing their way into the New York Racket Store. The fact was also stated that twelve regular clerks were necessary to wait upon them all. It seemed marvelous to the people, but during the past week this record has been entirely broken. They now have fourteen regular sales people, and in spite of this fact customers come and in the busiest part of the day unable to be waited upon. Whole families come in to be fitted out, hop pickers from as far as Portland and Vancouver, find they can save money by trading at the New York Racket. The store is crowded from morning until night, and more clerks are being supplied to wait upon the multitude of happy customers. d&w

THE FAIR POLICE.—An Oregonian special says: It has been brought to the attention of the city council that it is desired that the special police that will be required during the state fair be not appointed to serve three or four weeks, but only during the fair, and the authority of the mayor to appoint police has been called into question. Mayor Richardson, however, has assured the council that if the council will leave it to him he will make the appointments last for only 10 days, so no policemen were elected at the last council meeting. Some still contend that the council cannot delegate to the mayor its elective powers, and there is a probability that the matter will be tested.

Turn out tonight for Business Men's Carnival at Reed's opera house.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—The Student Body, of the Willamette university, held a meeting Thursday afternoon at the close of the day's recitations, when the following officers were elected: President, A. O. Garland; Vice President, R. B. Wilkins; Treasurer and Secretary, Miss Nellie Clark. Among the other business transacted by the student body was the election of an editorial staff for the college paper, "The Collegian." It resulted as follows: Editor in Chief, W. J. Shepard; Associate Editors, F. E. Brown and Miss Jessie Settlemyer; Business Manager, I. H. Van Winkle.

JONES' FEES.—A Salem correspondent says: County School Superintendent Jones, of this county, remitted to State Superintendent Irwin the whole amount received as fees for examining applicants for state teachers' papers at the last quarterly examination, failing to retain the customary part kept by county superintendents for the work of examining. In accordance with a recent resolution of the state board of education, the fees have been turned into the state treasury to the board's credit, and County Superintendent Jones is wondering how he is to get what he considers his part of the fees.

Ladies and gentlemen of the Capital City, that is the way the speakers, at Reed's opera house will start off tonight.
