EDITORIAL.

We are all interested in New York City politics where the issue is support of the Platt machine or of the cause of good government.

The substitution of Gen. Tracy for District Attorney Olcott as Mr. Platt's latest choice for Mayor does not change the situation, except to show more plainly than ever the reluctance of any Republican of high reputation to deliver himself up to be sacrificed. Gen. Tracy is an older and more experienced man than Mr. Olcott, and would probably have a greater personal following than Olcott in Brooklin, his former home. But his close personal relations with Senator Platt, and his connection with a law firm having intimate business relations with the Senator, would at least offset the General's personal popularity in New York City. Moreover, Gen. Tracy has several times, and each time with increasing emphasis, refused to be considered as a candidate for Mayor, and it is difficult to see what forces can be brought to bear on him now, when the chances of his election are less than ever before, to induce him to lay himself on Platt's sacrificial altar. Gen. Tracy was nominated for Mayor of Brooklin sixteen years ago by the Republicans, and retired in favor of Seth Low.

There is nothing to indicate that the General has altered his own disinclination for municipal office or his estimate of Mr. Low. The indications are that Seth Low will be the first Mayor of greater New York.

Christ protected the weak and lowly, he scourged the rich—rich because they had been and were the despoilers of mankind. He extended help and sympathy to the poor; he strove to uplift the downtrodden; he honored the rich who gathered riches by industry, whose riches represented earnings; but those who gathered riches by preying upon others, whose riches presented not the earnings of industry, but stealings, he would not condone. He despised no man because he was poor, he honored no man because he was rich; he honored the man who loved his fellow-men, who sought to live by honesty and industry; he despised the man who regarded his fellow-men not as brothers but as slaves; who regarded them only as they might be made the hewers of wood and drawers of water; who sought to live by preying upon the poor.

Make the fair a success, even if it does rain.

"Inside of a hundred homes," the first of a succession of articles picturing interiors of the most artistically furnished houses in America, is one of the notable features of the October Ladies' Home Journal. Another of special interest introduces "The New Tenants of the White House" through photographs of the McKinley household. The pictures were made expressly for the magazine and have never before been published.

Mrs. S.T. Rorer solves the economic problem of feeding a family of eight at an aggregate cost of ten dollars a week. She fully details her plan, and presents daily bills-of-fare. There is a timely article on Hallowe'en games and pastimes, and others touching every phase of woman's work and home life. By the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar per year; ten cents per copy.

What a woman can do is illustrated by the business Mrs. Fraser, of the Leader, has done. Have you seen that show window?

That noble order, the G. A. R. is said to be rapidly becoming extinct. In Wisconsin alone, during the past year, according to the report of the Department Commander Grey, 1063 have severed connection with the order by reason of suspension or delinquent payment. He reports for the year 242 deaths. At this rate the organization will die in this state in 10 years. Gray says that the same conditions exist all over the country. The state department of the order in Colorado disbanded a year ago, as the membership no longer could support it.

Let everybody go to the fair Salem day except the police.

Next Wednesday is Salem Day. Let's show the rest of the state the Salem way.

Moody has done more in recent years at least, to interest men in the Bible and religion than any one individual this country has produced. He has undertaken some herculean tasks in the way of evangelizing districts and men, and carried them through successfully. His enterprise is wonderful and his success has been astonishing; but he has in contemplation at present a movement that will create greater surprise than anything ever before attempted. The Erie Herald says:

Dwight L. Moody has designed a campaign to interest Chicago people in the study of the Bible and to create there a revival of religious thought. A local paper says, no one contradicting, that "this movement is said to be the largest ever planned." There is a big field in Chicago for Moody's labors. If he succeeds in converting the Windy City, or even improving its morals, he will have done much to earn his crown.

Fifteen arc lights on one side of a street in a block is a grand advertisement for this city's enterprise. It shows that our business men are willing to meet the electric light people half way.

Be kind to the free silver Republicans and show them the proofs that they were mistaken in their opinions last year when they left their old party and went off into the fusion camp of the parties they had previously opposed. They can all see their mistake now, and the most of them are as good Republicans as they ever were, but they feel backward about coming back home unless they know that they will be well received. Nearly all of them can be regained this year by giving them proper attention. —Iowa State Register.

Thus does a Gold Republican paper woo the Silver Republicans. It seems as though that policy were being adopted everywhere. Well, sugar catches more flies than vinegar. But who would be a fly to be caught with a little sweetened water?

Salem streets by day or night are quite metropolitan.

Geo. Goodhue, the poultry supt., is the proudest man on the ground. His wattles are fiery red and his tail feathers are high. He is in great feather and still good natured.

When a baby comes into this world he is going to have a struggle to keep his foothold in the difficult places of life, and battle against the misfortunes that will probably beset him. No matter how well off his parents may be, they can't insure him against misfortune. The best they can do is to start him with a good, healthy, vigorous constitution.

A mother who wants to bequeath her baby a good store of strength and hardihood ought to keep herself in the best physical condition during the time her little one is expected. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been a wonderful blessing to mothers and their children. It gives strength to the special organism concerned in maternity; it purifies the system and imparts healthful vitality to the nerve-centres. It makes the coming of baby safe and comparatively painless.

It is the only medicine in the world designed by a regularly graduated physician and skilled specialist to cure all weaknesses and diseases of the feminine organism.

W. R. Malcolm, Esq., of Knobel, Clay Co., Ark., writes: "My wife for perhaps four months previous to the birth of our child took the 'Favorite Prescription.' This strengthened her entire system, and child-birth, to her, was very easy, being attended with little pain. Our baby Ruth is 13 months old and she had never been sick a day; not so much as had the colic; she is hearty and stout, and pretty as a picture—pretty because she is healthy, and we very much blame Dr. Pierce's family medicines for it.

We keep Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Pleasant Pellets' in our home and use them. We have been married most three years and I have called a physician into my family but one time—at birth of our baby."

If all the maladies due to constipation were taken out of medical books, there would be little left but the covers. Constipation is positively, permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Never gripe. Druggists sell them. Nothing is "just as good."

STATE FAIR X RAYS.

The people read the X Ray daily.

* * *

Mrs. Flagg's eating house has the best standing ad., at the fair—Mr. Flagg. She could not have a better one unless it would be Editor Fletcher. If some of the church restaurants would get Fletcher or Gov. Lord they might hold their own.

* * *

Besides the rain that we may have the State Fair is sure to get lots of cold water from the Salem Statesman and Gervais Star.

* * *

They do say Mrs. Flagg had 103 to dinner the first day before the fair. Mrs Flagg feeds them well.

* * *

"Of course, you can't run the fair without our help."—Statesman.

* * *

The restaurants that were not ready missed it. Read the parable of the ten virgins.

* * *

Everybody is prepared for rain and praying to be disappointed.

* * *

The fair would be just about perfect if Farmer Odell would exhibit a portion of his State street pumpkin patch.

* * *

The churches are mixed up this year, the Baptists being where the Presbyterians used to be. Immersions at all hours. The Christian church is holding services three times a day in campmeeting style in a big tent. At either place a Christian, a heathen or a newspaper man is taken in and well cared for.

* * *

Oh, what a fruit palace could have been put up this year!

* * *

Anybody looking over the asylum exhibit can tell where some of the people go to who make tidies for the backs of rocking chairs.

* * *

The cheekiest thing yet published is the announcement: "If you don't read the Statesman you don't get the State Fair News." Positively, a heavy reward is offered for the discovery of any person who reads the Statesman for anything. It ignores all mention of the Fair.

* * *

Mr. Gamble is policeman at the State Fair. That is out of Mayor Richardson's jurisdiction.

* * *

Gambling and pool selling has not quite all been eliminated at the State Fair. We doubt if it ever will be while crowds love horse racing.

* * *

One feature of the Salem Day parade to the State Fair should be a young ladies' broom brigade. If there is a procession this city should turn out one-thousand marriageable young ladies, each armed with a broom, and ready to die on the field of battle or matrimony, if necessary, to save her country. If there is a parade let all the young ladies be in it.

* * *

The State Fair has a Klondike restaurant and Salem ladies are wearing Klond ike hats.

* * *

Governor Fletcher has postponed his lecture at the Chemawa Indian school until after the State Fair, when he hopes there will be no flies.

* * *

Salem is to have a big Salem day at the State Fair, when her citizens will yell for Salem. That is good, but the truth is, the less Salem makes it appear as a Salem fair the better it will be for its success.—Albany Democrat.

Salem will show her good will toward the State Fair just as Linn county is doing—with a splendid exhibit.

* * *

Gov. Fletcher has these chicken-hearted remarks in his last paper:

What has become of Hofer's Shanghi rooster? We do not know anything about that noble bird now. The Col. should never go back on the "intensified" hen.

George G. Goodhue will be in his glory in a few days. George is never thoroughly happy until he is surrounded by crowing roosters and cackling hens.

* * *

If Gov. Fletcher will go to the poultry show at the State Fair with his eyes open, and the flies do not bother him too much, he will find THE JOURNAL rooster there—the biggest one at the Fair.

* * *

Daily Eugene Register:—Judging from the CAPITAL JOURNAL'S items, the State Fair is to have a "Salem Day."

Notes on the Fair.

Rev. Grannis was a visitor at the pavilion of the State Fair Thursday.

Miss C. C. Cogswell, of Portland, reads a paper on Press day.

Few persons expected to see that Veteran Member of the Board, Wilkin, of Lane county, but he arrived Thursday afternoon.

The races are under the management of the following officers:

The presiding judge and starter is Jos. Buchtel, of Portland.

Judges Robert Leighton, of Vancouver, B. C., and J. W. Bailey, of Portland; Frank Fraser, time keeper, Frank Holman, clerk.

The art exhibit by Thursday had overflowed the building. On the walls were 200 pictures, including nearly all kinds. On the south wall outside was hung the Seal of Oregon and more pictures.

The skill of the judge will be taxed to the utmost to give satisfaction.

Thomas Holman exhibits the "Western" fanning mill, the only Oregon made mill for cleaning grain. He has made them for twenty years, and while cheaper mills are made and shipped in from the east there is not a farmer ever got a "Western" mill who would trade it for any other.

AN OREGON ROMANCE.

John Cogswell of Leesburg, a Lane county pioneer of 1845, is at the fair. His hale and hearty appearance in his 84th year is one of the best exhibits of our Oregon climate. Mrs. Cogswell died a few years ago, and was in her day reputed to be one of the most beautiful women in Oregon. Mr. Cogswell met her first as a young girl east of the Cascade mountains and fell in love at first sight. He says he did not see her again for a year. He had hunted the Wilds of Western Oregon over for her. He stopped at Jesse Looney's a farmer one night and who should he meet but Mary Gay, with whose charms he had been so taken up. As he says girls were mighty scarce in those days, especially girls as pretty and bright as Mary Gay. He was introduced and Mrs. Looney in a bantering way suggested that there was the man Mary should marry, as she was then a seamstress, and young Cogswell was well supplied with worldly goods. And they were wed, and to her dying day Mary Cogswell had all that she needed.

August Huckesteen, manufacturer of the La Corona cigar, has a facrory and a cigar store at the Fair, and was assisted today by his La Corona boys, one of them clerking quite faithfully for his age.

Mr. Bryan was not premitted to talk to the State Fair when he was here. This year his complete Des Moines, Iowa, speech, taken down in shorthand was delivered to the State Fair crowds in THE DAILY JOURNAL.

TO CURE DYSPEPSIA.

A New Remedy Which Will Do It.

Chronic dyspepsia is considered by many people to be nearly if not quite incurable. No good reason can be given why they think so except that perhaps they have tried various remedies without much, if any benefit. But the progress in every branch of medicine has been such that among other things a lasting cure for indigestion in its chronic form as well as temporary has been discovered and is now placed before the public strictly on its merits as a permanent cure for all stomach troubles or difficulties with the digestive organs.

This new treatment is called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, being put in tablet form so as to be easily taken and also to preserve its good qualities for an indefinite length of time.

This remedy has produced surprising effects in the worst forms of indigestion, and in many cases where ordinary remedies failed to give even releif, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have fully cured.

The splendid results from using this preparation are owing to the fact that it is prepared and intended for Dyspepsia and stomach troubles only. It is not a cure-all like so many advertised remedies, claiming to cure everything under the sun, but it is claimed that it is a certain cure for Dyspepsia and anyone suffering from any form of indigestion cannor fail to get permanent relief and sure from its use.

It is so prepared and the ingredients are of such a nature that when the tablets are taken into the stomach they digest the food no matter whether the stomach is in good working order or not. You get sustenance and strength to mind and body by reason of the food being properly digested and at the same time the much abused stomach is allowed to rest and recuperate.

Notwithstanding the great benefits to be derived from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, the price is but 50c for full sized package and all dauggists sell them.

A little book on Stomach Diseases mailed free by addressing the Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

Bad!

It is news to you, perhaps, that baking powder can be bad for the insides. Good baking powder, however, is not bad for the insides.

True, it costs more than baking powder at 25 cents or 30 cents a pound; but it does better work, and more work for the money, than "cheap" baking powder does, and it does no harm.

Of the right-price baking powders Schilling's Best is the best—your money back if you don't like it—at your grocer's. 2280
