THE SILVER ORATOR.

Bryan Breaks the Record While the Crowd Breaks the Fence.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7.—Hon. Wm. Jennings Bryan was the carnival attraction in Kansas City tonight. In the amphitheatre, erected on Grand avenue, he spoke to fully 40,000 people. He discussed political and financial matters, the address being on lines of many of his recent speeches throughout the West. Fences had been built across the street in order to compel the crowd to pay admission to the seats which had been erected on the sides of the street. When the seats had been nearly filled, the crowd outside became so great and so determined that the fences were pushed down despite all efforts of the police and the crowd surged in around the stand from which the orator spoke.

Evidence Nearly All In.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—As far as the evidence is concerned the famous Luetgert trial is nearing its close. The crowd at the criminal court building yesterday was larger than upon any other morning during present week. Hundreds were turned away disappointed and angry.

When court opened the police officer, Charles Griernow, was called to the witness stand to testify to certain dates of material events in the case, in contradiction of witnesses for the defense.

William Fulbeck, Luetgert's former hostler, testified that he missed Mrs. Luetgert May 1, but said nothing until May 5.

"Then I asked Mary Luetgert where Mrs. Luetgert was," continued the witness.

"What did she say?" inquired State's Attorney Deenen.

"She said Mrs. Luetgert was upstairs in bed," responded the witness.

Mrs. Feldt was in court to contradict the evidence of Mrs. Mary Charles, relative to the rings worn by Mrs. Luetgert. Mrs. Charles emphatically denied on the witness stand Tuesday that she had ever asked Mrs. Feldt to say, if questioned that the rings found in the vat at Luetgert's sausage factory were not the rings which had belonged to Mrs. Luetgert. Mrs. Feldt, with quiet emphasis, declared that Mrs. Charles did request her to deny that she saw the rings before. Mrs. Feldt refused to do so. She said the rings were those of Mrs. Luetgert. She was positive.
