EDITORIAL.

Each week makes history. Four important personages passed off the public stage last week. Chief Justice Field of the supreme court retired. Chas. A. Dana, a New York editor, died. Geo. M. Pullman passed away. General Weyer was recalled. What has this week in store for the great?

Our readers are reminded of the duty of selecting reading matters for 1898. We offer great bargains in the tri-weekly New York World 75c. Demorest's Monthly 75c. The Gentleman Farmer, monthly, $1. All three of these are illustrated. The Springfield Republican, weekly, at $1 is a fine eastern paper. We advise people to not accept presents of newspapers. Rest assured, some one pays for them and it may be you pay dearly.

A great many Oregon people are already planning to attend the Paris exposition in 1900. They would no doubt enjoy seeing an Oregon exhibit there. The Woman's Empire says: In Oregon's exhibit at the Paris exposition could anything be more unique and interesting than Professor Condon's priceless collection illustrating the geological history of Oregon. From its beginning, when the salt waves of the sea rolling westward, left the shellstrewn hills uncovered to the sun, to the present day, no leaf, or page is missing from the wonderful volume which Professor Condon's loving labor has translated for us.

The first element of success for the city is that it be made a good home market.

"Lese majeste" is becoming more and more expansive and elastic. It has now hit a German editor for criticizing the Belgian King, and the criticism was that the King encouraged gambling. Truth, of course, is not an adequate defense in a "lese majeste" case. In fact, the truer the charge the severer is likely to be the punishment. About the only crowned head the editor in the German Empire can safely cast any reflections upon at present is the head that wears the British crown.

Next to a good mail service, the establishment of a good reading circle in each neighborhood is a most desirable step of progress. There are so many influences that separate people, that one organization at least should unite each neighborhood on the broad plane of culture.

Portland business men and the entire commercial interests of Puget Sound are alarmed at the prospect of closing the territory at the mouth of the Yukon under military control, and excluding all new commercial enterprises from gaining a foothold there. It is charged that this is being done in the interest of two trading corporations already established there. If the plan indicated in the order of the war department reprinted below is carried out, there would no doubt result a valuable monopoly for the Eastern and English trading companies that have control of the furnishing of supplies to the miners of the Alaska gold fields. It is not to be believed that the administration would lend itself to such a scheme. It would be a detriment to all the commercial interests of the Northwest coast, and the employment of the most powerful arm of the public service to further and protect private interests. The protection of the regular army can no doubt be extended to all the commerce at the mouth of the Yukon without excluding any legitimate commercial enterprise. The presence of the regular army will promote commerce and the development of the gold fields. With the security to life and property gained by its presence the civilization of Alaska will be hastened.

The order relating to the reservation reads as follows: "By the authority of the president the land known as S. Michaels Island, with all contiguous mainland and islands within 100 miles of the location of the flagstaff on that island, is set aside from the public lands of the territory of Alaska and declared a military reservation. Parties who have prior to receipt of this order located and erected buildings on the land reserved will not be disturbed in their use of the lands, buildings and improvements, nor in the erection of structures needed for their business or residence. "The military reservation above declared, and the military post located thereon, will be known as Fort St. Michael and will be under the control and supervision of the commanding officer of the troops there stationed.

"R. A. ALGER, Secretary of War."

It would be difficult to suggest how Oregon politics could be further degraded and humiliated by the McBride-Mitchell stripe of statesmanship, unless it shall be to put them in complete control of the Republican organization in the primaries next spring. We do not see how Republicans, be they Gold standard or bimetalists, can consent to the further demoralization of public affairs by men who openly boast that they are prepared to win on any platform or in spite of any platform. Ah, well, we shouldn't expect consistency or devotion to principle or adherence to platform pledges. Cast such old-fashioned trumpery to the winds and do anything to get there. Make everybody believe you're exactly their way of thinking and fool them all. If the people demand a new deal, progress, reform, promise them the whole thing and lots more, and when you get in do as you please. That's the way to build up good government and make the Republican party strong with the people. If the people of Oregon are onto their job they will sit down on the men who traffic in principle and prostitute party.

They will demand men for state officers who show a proper sense of responsibility to the people instead of jobbers who heap up new burdens on them. They will send men to the legislature who will be able to defray their own campaign expenses and not be obliged to trade their votes on measures for a federal office or a clerkship for a relative. But the sad fact remains, that sort of men who go to the legislature are in a minority and it will probably always be that way until there is a return to the original constitutional idea of a people's government, and that may not be until present corrupting influences have proceeded so far that a revolution will result. It is a fact that those who demand a return to older and truer forms in creeds or constitutions are crucified as heretics and public enemies.

As the rainy season approaches, it is a duty to make and keep all horses and live-stock comfortable. Animals in city and country often suffer cruelly by neglect and ignorance. The Independence Westside says: "Last Sunday a team of fine horses stood on Main street hitched in front of a business house without food or water from early morning to night, while the owner is said to have been spending his time in the pleasure afforded by the saloons. Is there not a remedy for such an evil?"

Twenty five years ago a French missionary in Corea declared, as a result of his researches, that China's claim of suzerainty over the peninsula never had a basis of fact. He paid for his temerity with his life. The Korean savants have now reasserted this theory, declaring that their country was never an actual tributary vassal of China, and the Korean ruler is reported to have assumed the title of emperor as an emphatic assertion of this claim. This repudiation to China's claim applies equally to that set up by Japan, that it is necessary to interfere to preserve Korean autonomy as a buffer state, that country being too weak to sustain its independence. Japan is trying to maintain some hold on Corea, and is building up her navy as fast as possible, but Russia seems master of the situation.

The czar's authority is almost supreme in the Orient, and this has been gained quietly and without firing a shot. There are 60,000 Russian troops in and about Vladivostok and 80,000 others scattered along the Manchurian frontier. In two places the frontier has been crossed, at each 4000 men having advanced southward, ostensibly to better protect the building of the railroad, but really to establish and hold vantage points. The Chinese have feebly protested against the invasion of their territory, but Russia simply says it is needed, as a safeguard against Japanese aggression. In fear of Japan, the Chinese have admitted the Russians to the domination of the vast Manchurian fields eastward to the Korean frontier.

All have heard of the slang phrase "a horse laugh," whether it be a fact of equine history we are not informed. But all the books agree that a horse cannot be given the benefit of an emetic. If anything could set the cartoonists at work on a fit subject and cause all the Oregon cayuses to both laugh and vomit it would be the solemn parade of Senator McBride of Oregon in the Oregonian as a civil service reformer. Before returning to Washington that amiable and obliging gentleman submitted to an interview in which he came out for the maintenance of the gold standard and, having thrown that sop to the Oregonian, he thought he might as well give his conflicting constituents a complete fill and also declared his devotion to civil service reform. He wants it maintained and extended and life would be intolerable without it. While we admire Senator McBride for his eminent talents as a "sure thing" political manager, we are forced to confess that all will at least hope he is a real convert from being a life-long sportsman. Prior to this declaration, he has not an act of his life or a line of his record to back his claim to being a civil service reformer. We do not mean by that, that he may not have accidentally placed it and competent men into office in his long career as legislator and secretary of state. No one could help doing that. But we deny that he has ever considered fitness alone as qualification for public service, to say nothing about his leaving any places open to applicants of all parties or to the public. No man in the public service has ever so completely prostituted the public service to his own personal purposes.

No man ever put so nearly all of his relatives into all the places he had as Senator McBride. We admit some are competent but we do not propose to sit down and allow him to deceive the people of Oregon one moment in believing that he is anything but a sportsman who pursues personal politics for himself and the McBride family. If there is a member of the McBride family not on the public payrolls no one knows it. If there is a member of that family who has ever earned a dollar but in the way of a graft on the public treasury no one knows it. If Geo. W. McBride ever appointed a person even to sweep his office for anything but a personal purpose no one knows it. There is a report that one of his relatives has regularly drawn, or he has drawn it for him, the $1500 a year allowed each

Hon. John S. Smith of the immortal 17th General Dismissal asks in his paper, the Albany Inquirer, Query No. 1. If the populist held up the legislature, who is now holding up the state treasury? No. 2. If the supreme court can compel secretary Kincaid to issue warrants, why cannot the same court compel treasurer Metcalf to pay the warrants? No. 3. If the state treasurer has the funds with which to pay warrants why does he stamp the "not paid for want of funds"?

The Corvallis Gazette and Eugene Register, two staunch Republican exponents, have recently called down the party bosses and make a firm stand, or a play for party harmony, and now comes the Pendleton Tribune, which has always had a loathing for everything not labeled "Republican." "What is the strain of uncertainty?" "What is necessary to constitute a Republican in a party sense? The Tribune, not being a Republican party organ, does not assume the right to authoritatively answer, but it perceives that there is a strange difference of opinion on the matter among the Republican brethren."

Following paragraph from Chris P. Yates, a notorious free silver shouter who denounced Senator Dolph in the legislature for being a gold standard man, appears in the Sheridan Sun. The Hon. Chris, voted for McBride as a silverite. Now hear him shout for gold:

"Senator McBride is an 'anybody' with an Oregonian reporter, has set himself squarely, and with both feet, on the platform that says there must be no juggling or coquetting with free silver fallacies, or in other words he holds that the present gold standard must be maintained."

A sweet poem by the sweet singer of Oregon, Lischen Maud Miller, appears in the last Woman's Empire. It sometimes happens two will meet, Who all the years have walked apart, Unsatisfied, yet still discreet, Enough to hide the hungry heart.

It sometimes happens here on earth, A perfect friendship buds and flowers, Without one blemish from its birth, It grows and deepens with the hours.

It sometimes happens—how or why, What mortal of us all can say?— This perfect flower will droop and die, —The gold will turn to sodden gray.

It sometimes happens two will part, That lips will grow too cold to kiss, And then God help the aching heart, For death is not so hard as this.

From the First. "I suffered with headaches and intense attacks of neuralgia, and became very feeble. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, though so weak I could take only small doses. senator as private clerk and never set a foot in Washington. There is a report that another relative is to be private secretary and at the same time committee clerk, or at least a clerk of two committees, when the law forbids any person drawing two salaries. We do not assert that these things are true. There is no way to prove them true and the Senator would deny them. But these things are done by other senators, and there is not a soul in Oregon knows Geo. W. McBride but will sooner believe that he will do just such things than to believe his highfaulthood about civil service reform. There is a well-founded belief that he detested the underhanded methods that have been resorted to, to dispose of the West Point and Naval Academy cadetships. If he did not, why don't he come out and favor an open competitive examination, at which all the young men of the district could compete and let the most competent take it. Such cadets do not come back humiliated by failure to pass. But that would not be McBride's idea of Republicanism. It would not be his conception of civil service reform.

The people are long-suffering and much imposed upon, but no greater caricature was ever presented in our public life than Senator McBride as a civil service reformer. He may pretend to not be setting up stakes; he may parade as a goldbug; but let him not set up as civil service saint unless he would cause hysteria in Oregon.

No Oregon federal appointments until December.—Wm. McKinley. There is nothing small about George Small, the new President of the Oregon press association. The general opinion is that the holdup of the legislators wasn't a circumstance to the holdup of the state treasury.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars; free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

TO CURE NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA

To Gain Flesh, to Sleep Well, to Know What Appetite and Good Digestion Means, Make a Test of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Interesting Experience of an Indianapolis Gentleman.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nerves are to blame and are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicine and spring remedies; the real seat of the mischief is lost sight of; the stomach is the organ to be looked after.

Nervous dyspepsia often does not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ; in some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others the kidneys are affected; in others the bowels are constipated, with headaches; still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with accumulation of gas, sour risings and heartburn.

Mr. A. W. Sharper of No. 61 Prospect street, Indianapolis, Ind., writes as follows: "A motive of pure gratitude prompts me to write these few lines regarding the new and valuable medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I have been a sufferer from nervous dyspepsia for the last four years; have used various patent medicines and other remedies without any favorable result. They sometimes gave temporary relief until the effect of the medicine wore off. I attributed this to my sedentary habits, being a book-keeping with little physical exercise, but I am glad to state that the tablets have overcome all these obstacles, for I have gained in flesh, sleep better, and better in every way. The above is written not for notoriety, but is based on actual fact."

Respectfully yours, A. W. SHARPER, 61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Ind. It is safe to say that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure any stomach weakness or disease except cancer of stomach. They cure sour stomach, gas, loss of flesh and appetite, sleeplessness, palpitation, heartburn, constipation and headache. Send for valuable little book on stomach diseases by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. All druggists sell full sized packages at 50 cents. October 25-27-29
