POLITICS
In the City of Salem, Oregon.

Various Candidates Proposed by the Opposition.

The Republican city primaries have been called for Saturday, December 4. The election takes place Monday, December 6. One alderman is to be chosen in each ward, and a city treasurer. The Republican city committee is understood to have placed Mr. A. A. Lee, the present treasurer in nomination, as the Republican candidate. It is not claimed that Mr. Lee stands on any platform so far as city finances are concerned, except his own reputation for personal integrity, and his undoubted devotion to the Republican party of this city and county. Mr. Lee is a gentleman and will undoubtedly prove loyal to the party that has nominated him.

The Union Bimetallic party has appointed a city committee and they are preparing to put a candidate for city treasurer in the field on the platform of collecting all money due the city and publicly accounting for the cash. It is not known whether this party will nominate candidates for aldermen in each ward or not, but it is presumed they will. It is safe to say their nominees will not be chosen from or by the Republican "push." They will hold no primaries or conventions, but will nominate candidates of the best character (probably on petitions of voters. This is the situation at present writing of the impending city campaign.

So far as THE JOURNAL is concerned, it believes in a campaign of principle. It believes in the application of business methods to city government. It believes that business men of the highest character of ability should be chosen for city officers. It believes in responsibility to the taxpayers.

The names being canvassed for treasurer on the Bryan or citizen's ticket are A. Blosser, Jo Baumgartner, F. W. Steusloff.

For aldermen the Republicans are considering the following:
First Ward.—Frank B. Southwick, Lot Pearce, M. W. Hunt.
Second Ward.—J. J. Murphy, Jas. Kyle, Eber LaFore.
Third Ward.—Lee McGrew, present alderman, Thos. Sims, M. L. Chamberlin, W. H. Odell.
Fourth Ward.—Alderman Fred A. Legg, C. H. Lane, A. M. Patrick, of Oregon and Patrick, C. Marsh.
The Bryanites are considering following names for aldermanic candidates:
First Ward: John Gray, W. J. D'Arcy, J. M. Payne, D. J. Fry, Wm. Kaiser, W. S. Mott.
Second Ward: J. P. Frizzell, J. I. Thompson, Fred Steusloff.
Third Ward: G. Stelner, A. I. Wagner.
Fourth Ward: W. T. Rigdon, G. A. Rockwell, George Cruisan, A. F. McAtee, C. Marsh.

BRIDGE DAMAGED.—As a result of opening the headgates at Stayton, Monday evening, North Mill Creek raised several feet last night and the bridge across that stream on Front street, has been made unsafe for travel. Street car travel across the bridge, which is only held in place by the steel rails of the car line, has been suspended there being a car on either side of the bridge where passengers are transferred. The high water at Stayton was damaging the banks of the stream, making it necessary to open the gates.

SMITH IS DISCHARGED.

Evidence Not Sufficient to Warrant Holding Him to the Grand Jury. Charles Smith was given a trial before Recorder Ed. N. Edes at 1 o'clock this afternoon on the charge of adultery with Mrs. Annie M. Westcott, preferred against him by R. H. Westcott, and as a result was discharged from custody.

District Attorney S. L. Hayden appeared for the state while Smith appeared in his own behalf. Several witnesses were examined, but Recorder Edes considered the evidence sufficient to justify binding the defendant over to the grand jury, whereupon he was discharged.

A Dangerous Pet.
Monday afternoon, young McCullough, one of the boys at the reform school, had an experience with a young deer, that he will not soon forget. In attempting to remove the deer from a lot, the animal rushed for the boy who was wholly unprepared for an attack, and threw him on the ground, bringing his hoofs and horns into play in keeping the boy down. Had not J. M. Martin an employe at school, happened along when he did the deer would in all probability have caused the boy's death. As it is McCullough is very severely bruised up. For sometime past the animal has been showing anything but a friendly disposition but was not considered unsafe. The deer was today disposed of, McCrow & Steusloff becoming the purchaser thereof.

Grand Street Parade.
The "South Before the War Co." arrived in this city and made a dashing parade at noon. Their band, four carriages full of special artists, the rest of the troupe in uniforms, show that it is an uncommonly large troupe, and to sustain such a troupe the management must employ uncommon talent. Patton Bros. assure a rush commensurate with their enterprise as lessees of the Reed in bringing a troupe here that cannot cost less than $500 a day to keep on the road.

Bridge Going Out.
The piling at the north end of North Commercial street was torn out last night by the swift waters undermining it. The piling was not driven very deep but the bridge was put in about ten years ago. Several hundred dollars has been spent on the bridge within a year. The mill company's dam above the bridge has been "quick silvered" and the rush of water no doubt contributed to its downfall. The bridge has always been considered a poor piece of work. The Waller dam has been dynamited or interfered with in some manner so that it is letting water through.

ELECTRIC LINES.—The Northern Railway and Improvement company, with a capital stock of $200,000, today filed articles of incorporation in the office of the secretary of state. They propose to operate street railways in the towns of Fairhaven, Wn., and Pendleton, Ore. The incorporators are S. Z. Mitchell, C. N. Huggins and Fredrick V. Holman, all of Portland, Ore. The new corporation seems to be a feeder to the great general electric company, of New York state, which now owns the railway systems in so many Western towns.
