The Mitchell Push

Opens the Battle in Portland.

Manifesto of Sol Hirsch, Hume, Lotan and Followers

The first gun in the opening of the political campaign in this state has been fired by the Mitchell Republicans at Portland, and whether the election will be a success or a failure is still a matter of conjecture. The election of 1896 in Marion county was a success for the Mitchell party, and it is not surprising that they should have turned against him or left the party, and he will never carry a Republican convention again in Marion county.

We summarize the proposition of the Mitchell faction to hold "fair primaries" and shall keep our readers informed of progress.

WHAT WAS DONE
The Mitchell Republicans of Portland have issued an address to the regular Republicans of that city, but really desired for consumption in the rest of the state, to the effect that they desire party harmony and a union of all the Republican voters of the county and state.

MR JORY ON UNION
Must Be Founded on Principle and not on Pie.

ED. JOURNAL.—In your report of the meeting of the Marion county, Populist Ex-committee, in your issue of Dec. 27, I notice some errors that ought to be corrected. The sentiment was, as you say, unanimously in favor of an honorable union of all forces, who are earnestly in favor of better government. The only difference of opinion seemed to be, as to how such union should be formed. You say: "The sentiment seems to be that representation on the ticket would be on the basis of the relative strength of the Populists, Democrats and Silver Republicans."

NOT ABLE TO WALK
Hester's Friends' Advice and was Wonderfully Improved.

For some time I have suffered with great weakness and was not able to walk. I could not sleep at night, and did not have any appetite. One day a friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I did so. After taking five bottles my health was wonderfully improved. I am 57 years old, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has made me feel much younger. H. K. KYLE, 821 Yelder Way, Seattle, Wash.

THE REFERENDUM.

Original System in Force in Switzerland.

TRANSLATED FOR THE JOURNAL.

Now Made Public for the First Time in Oregon.

THE JOURNAL presents for consideration below the original form of the initiative, referendum and imperative mandate as it is found in the Swiss constitution. It is a document well worthy of study and preservation.

We believe that the referendum, at least, and possibly the initiative, in some form will have to be adopted as a final means of protection to the people of Oregon. At present there is no limit, effective control, or practical check upon the extravagance of a legislature in the hands of the people.

The writer, Mr. Burgholzer, is a Swiss-American and has promised our readers a series of articles to give practical illustration to this proposed reform, that will be valuable for direct legislation clubs.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—In conformity with your suggestion that Direct Law-making by the people shall be given due prominence in the next state platform, I wish to lay before the many readers of your patronage-deserving JOURNAL a "Direct Legislation State Law" which has been in operation in the Swiss State of Berne since June 4, 1893.

It is the largest of the twenty-two Swiss states and resembles Oregon somewhat. Its population is over half a million but the number of voters is about that of Oregon because in Berne quite a number of crimes are punished with disfranchisement. In point of area Berne is about equal to some of Oregon's largest counties but nevertheless Berne has more taxable wealth than all Oregon.

Among the 113 articles of the state constitution of Berne I find the following important provisions concerning direct legislation:

I. REFERENDUM, (OBLIGATORY.)
The following acts have to be referred to the voters for decision, a majority of those voting deciding.
1. Amendments to the constitution.
2. Laws passed by the (one house) legislature.
3. Laws initiated directly by the people.
4. Appropriations calling for a total expenditure of over 500,000 francs for any one object.
5. Propositions for contracting state debts. From this rule are exempted debts contracted to pay off existing debts, and temporary debts which at the latest can be paid out of the regular state revenue of the following fiscal year.

II. INITIATIVE.
The people of Berne can use the initiative:
1. To introduce laws, when 12,000 (or more) legal voters sign a petition in favor of the passage, repeal or amendment of any given law and deposit such petition with the state officers said officers have upon finding the required number of signatures, etc., to present such petition or demand to the legislature.
The initiators can make their demand for a law either by giving only the main features of the law desired (leaving the preparation of details to the legislature) or by presenting a complete bill. Initiative demands are referred to the voters as handed in by the initiators and if such demand is presented without details and the voters endorse it on election day the legislature have upon finding the required number of signatures, etc., to present such petition or demand to the legislature.

III. REPEAL.
The initiators can make their demand for a law either by giving only the main features of the law desired (leaving the preparation of details to the legislature) or by presenting a complete bill. Initiative demands are referred to the voters as handed in by the initiators and if such demand is presented without details and the voters endorse it on election day the legislature have upon finding the required number of signatures, etc., to present such petition or demand to the legislature.

to the people. If the people reject the second proposition also, then the proposed total revision is considered lost.

If the initiators demand only a partial revision, to add, amend or repeal one or more sections, then the legislature prepares such a revision in the same manner as a law and refers it to the voters. When there are several sections in question, containing various provisions, the people are to vote upon each section separately.

3. When 12,000 voters petition for a re-call of an unsatisfactory legislature, the question is put to the voters at the polls, and if a majority of those voting decide for a re-call, then the legislature thus pronounced upon has to arrange for the election of its successor and consider itself discharged.

With a similar law adopted in Oregon the now oft-repeated stump speaker's lie, "you the people rule," would become a truth as to state affairs. However such a law does not provide for direct county rule because Swiss states have only state and precinct government.

MAX BURGHOLZER, Buxton, Ore.

Caught in the Draw.
PORTLAND, Or., Dec. 30.—Yesterday the steamer Bailey Gatzert, from Astoria, with sixty passengers, arrived upon her schedule and as she neared the steel railroad bridge loomed the customary signal for the opening of the draw. This was responded to as usual and the "flier" started through on the east side of the bridge pier.

Before she was half way through the great superstructure swung back through to her berth, where the wreckage was quickly cleared away and the passengers penned in their crushed staterooms freed from their hapless predicament.

The line of the bridge-bed struck the steamer about midway of the height of her state rooms and as most of the people were asleep in the door berths, they escaped by a few feet the tremendous sweep of the huge draw.

It is a miracle of good fortune that scores were not killed outright, but as it is, only two people were injured to any extent and those not seriously. They were a Miss Judge, and Mrs. F. A. Kuttner, of Astoria. The former lady was badly bruised about the body by being pinned down by debris, and Mrs. Kuttner sustained a contusion in the chest, which will heal in a few days.

The Gatzert is one of the finest boats on the Columbia and is valued at $110,000. The steamer will undergo repairs at once and resume her place on the Astoria route as soon as possible.

The question of the blame hangs fire as yet, the character of the accident acquitting the steamer's officers of any negligence since she was in the draw and at the mercy of the bridge engineers. Had the accident been reversed and the Gatzert struck while bow-on in the bridge channel, the case would have been one to involve the pilot, but the blow came from behind and the charge of negligence must remain with the bridge.

Lafayette Pollet, the engineer in charge of the big draw, is highly esteemed and it is difficult to account for carelessness from him after seven or eight years of approved service here.

"THE HEART OF A HERO."—This fine drama will be played at St. Joseph's hall on next Friday night, Dec. 31st. Don't fail to attend. Adults 25 cents, children 15 cents.

Many a needless death results from the neglect of a simple cold. It is a common mistake to suppose that a cold is a trivial ailment. It is a serious disease, and if neglected, it may lead to pneumonia, bronchitis, or other fatal complications. It is therefore, of the utmost importance to treat a cold as soon as it is felt.
