Appropriations, Oregon Has Been Discredited by Asking Too Much.

Important Streams and Harbors Neglected by Trying to Improve Duck Streams.

All of Bioger Hermann's appropriation jobs for improving the big creeks and little rivers are being knocked out by the war department. That kind of banquette politics is about played out.

While he has tried to flatter the credulity of the voters on these streams, by making them believe that the government would spend millions on them merely because he could lobby a bill through, harbors are neglected.

This kind of demagoguery and securing of undeserved appropriations in a reckless manner has reacted against Oregon until the delegation from this state can't get anything more readily need. It is simply impossible for the government to undertake to improve every creek and goose pond because it happens to be connected with salt water. The principal harbors and navigable streams that effect the commerce and markets for products of a large part of the state should be under government control and improvement.

Congressman Tongue will act wisely if he does not try to do too much in the way of appropriations. If he can do anything for the Willamette and Columbia and a few principal harbors, he will have done all that the people of this district have a right to expect. He will not be so foolish as to promise every neighborhood a public building, nor every water course an appropriation. If he is continued in congress, as he has a perfect right to expect to be if the Republican party remains in control of this district, he will gain influence in the national congress in proportion as he pursues a conservative course on this question of appropriations. A congressman can do but little the first term he serves. But that should not prevent his pursuing a course that will give him prestige, standing and influence in proportion as his career is lengthened.

The material interests of a far Western state like Oregon demand that a congressman so conduct himself as to remain in congress ten or twenty years. For one or even two terms, a member is not worth his mileage.

While we disagree with Mr. Tongue on some of his political views we cannot, in justice to the people of this state, but express the hope that he may pursue a wise middle course and not overwork the appropriation racket.

An Outlaw Fatally Wounded.
WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 12.—A special to the Eagle from Alva, O. T. says:

Paul Metcalf, said to be a refugee from Montana, where he has a sentence for murder hanging over him, was probably fatally wounded in a desperate fight with a posse of Sheriff McGrath's deputies. In a duress near Winchester, 20 miles northwest of here, Metcalf received a bullet through his chest, and lies at the point of death in the county jail here. Should he recover, a requisition awaits him. Chief of Police Holmes, of Pittsburg, Kan., gave the local authorities warning of the outlaw's presence in Oklahoma. None of the deputies were seriously injured in the battle.

Persistent Coughs

A cough which seems to hang on in spite of all the remedies which you have applied certainly needs energetic and sensible treatment. For twenty-five years that standard preparation of cod-liver oil.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

has proved its effectiveness in curing the trying affections of the throat and lungs, and this is the reason why: the cod-liver oil, partially digested, strengthens and vitalizes the whole system; the hypophosphites act as a tonic to the mind and nerves, and the glycerine soothes and heals the irritation. Can you think of any combination so effective as this?

Money Locked Up.

How It Is Lying Idle in the Banks.

An Eastern Oregon Paper on the State Treasury Parce.

The Republican party is giving the people neither "sound money" nor an honest public administration and we can prove it.

Our wonderful gold standard money system may be very wonderful when it is fully organized and established, which it is not yet. But in the meantime it is wonderful unsatisfactory. Just look at it for a moment. The national banks are required to keep hundreds of millions locked up to make good their circulation. The word national bank is a misnomer. They better be called national monopolies, because if they were truly national banks issuing a truly national currency, it would need no gold locked up to make it good.

Next these banks must keep locked up vast sums to make good, or seemingly good, the deposits of their customers. Yet this is all a fallacy, as is shown by the fact that the aggregate deposits in all kinds of banks amount to more than four times all the money in the country. When national banks were popping and tottering all over the northwest, it was a purely private banking house at Salem that held up scores of tottering national monopolies. Even the First National at Portland was hard put to it to ship in enough of money from eastern cities to tide it over.

The whole present financial system and banking system seems to be constructed to produce insecurity, uncertainty and to lock up the money and keep it from circulating. McKinley and Gage were hard hit by Senator Wolcott when he said their views on finance were absolutely at variance with each other. One talks hometalism, the other talks gold standard. Yet with a reserve of $100,000,000 gold we are floating $600,000,000 silver currency which Gage says is not money but tokens worth 96c on the dollar until it is redeemed in gold.

If we are to have the gold standard with its full beneficial influence do we have it? Let McKinley and Gage harmonize their views and let the Republican party have the courage of its convictions or let us have free coinage of both metals and let the devil take the hindmost.

The worst force of all is the management of our state treasury, where the people are compelled to pay 8 per cent interest on their own taxes. Not satisfied with locking up the money of the people, the collection of which the treasurer was in great haste to complete, and which the courts decided must be paid at once, the state court declares, the secretary of state must issue interest-bearing warrants, but the treasurer shall not cash them. Thus the money is locked up, but the people pay interest on taxes already paid.

The Dalles Times-Mountaineer has the following article on the Oregon treasury:

State Treasurer Metschan has made his semi-annual report, showing the balance in the state treasury, and reports the balance of unexpended funds to be $867,763.27. This neat little sum has been collected of the taxpayers of Oregon, and locked up in the hands of the state treasurer (presumably at least) while the state is paying interest on very nearly that amount of outstanding warrants for current expenses.

This is one of the legacies left by the was-to-have-been legislature of 1897. Had the legislature organized the money collected for state taxes would have been returned through the channels of trade to the people, where it would today be performing its ordinary functions, and the interest charges would be stopped. That the money is not actually locked up in the vaults of the state treasurer, of course everybody understands, for Mr. Metschan is not the kind of a man to allow money to lay around idle, but so far as the taxpayers are concerned it is inactive, since they will have to pay accumulated interest in time.

Whoever had a legislature been elected in 1896 with some other object in view than the election of a United States senator, this would not have been. At least the general appropriation bill would have been passed, and what is left over of the state taxes would have been squandered in the ordinary manner. Mr. Metschan would not have had such a large cash balance to have reported, and we would not now be paying interest on a half million dollars state debt. Oregonians may some day learn that the legislature has other functions to perform than to elect senators.

For Chemawa.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Senator McBride has offered an amendment which he will try to have made part of the Indian appropriation bill to increase the size of the Indian school at Chemawa, near Salem. It provided as follows:

For the support of 400 pupils at $167 each per annum..... $66,800
Steam-heating plant..... 15,000
Electric light plant..... 4,000
General repairs and improvements..... 5,000
Gymnasium building and equipments..... 1,500
Enlargement of shops..... 2,000
For assembly building, dining-hall and other necessary buildings..... 7,000

The amendment provides that all work, as far as possible, shall be performed as far as practicable by the school carpenter and pupils.

Whiskey on Board.
TACOMA, Wash., Jan. 19.—Customs officers seized several bottles and demijohns of whiskey last night hidden away in various parts of the steamer Rosalie, previous to her departure for Alaska. No resistance was made to the search and no owner claimed any of the confiscated stuff.

Tax-Titles.

Criticism of Washington Plan by a Republican.

Who, of Course, Claims to be the Only Friend of the Poor Man.

(From the Daily Eugene Register.)
Some people's ideas of political and social reform are worthy of careful study and some are peculiar for their sophistry.

E. Hofer, of the SALEM CAPITAL JOURNAL, is traveling through Washington, corresponding for his paper and taking pointers of Washington populist government. Mr. Hofer promises to put these budgets in such a plebeian style that we can all understand them. Here is one of his first arguments offered for the superiority of Governor Roger's 16 to 1 administration. The correspondent says:

"The law has also been changed to collect a penalty of 15 per cent of taxes become delinquent. Anyone buying a tax title gets 15 per cent a year interest for a deed at the end of three years. This compels people to pay up or lose their property. Before the penalty was 10 per cent. If they could make more of their money they did not pay their taxes."

Had all the "gold-bug-plutoocrats" "grinding monopolists," "Mark Hanna trust Republicans" and "Wall street robbers," of the United States, combined to pass a law that would place a poor laboring man under their power, no worse law could be enacted than this one. It illustrates effectively, the inconsistency of the "reform movement." A poor laborer who has a little home half paid for, takes sick; or his wife and children are sick. He gets behind in his work and cannot pay his taxes. A Seattle or Tacoma money broker buys up the tax title and after holding it three years he exacts 15 per cent annuities from this unfortunate victim, or takes a deed to the property.

We are glad our Eugene friend called our attention to this, as we may be mistaken in our statement of the Washington plan as we only took a rapid statement of a Seattle business man for it. We shall make a careful inquiry into the matter; now that our attention has been called to what might seem as an apparent injustice to the poor man. The Populist state treasurer told us at Olympia that until the revenue was passed last year by the Fusion legislature delinquent taxes were practically uncollectable, and that the new law had compelled the delinquents to pay up so fast that they had called in hundreds of thousands of dollars state credit and put the state credit above par.

It was not, he told us, so much the poorer class of taxpayers who took advantage of the old law, but the money sharks, bankers, speculators, corporations and non-residents, for whom the course of the Fusion party concerned. Poor people never can take advantage of tax laws like the rich.

In Marion county the poorer and middle class of taxpayers pay up first and as soon as it is delinquent, while the big taxpayers take advantage of the delays and keep the county out of the use of the money from six months to a year. Is that a just system?

But we hope to be able to furnish specific and authoritative information about the Washington law and its actual operation. In the meantime we beg of our editorial friend that he judge not too hastily from the standpoint of purely partisan prejudice.

Poisoned With Trichinae
GILLES, Mich., Jan. 19.—Louis Wack, of Clarenceville, killed a hog that was diseased and he and his wife and seven children were poisoned with trichinae. A 17-year-old daughter died and it is feared the entire family will die.

The harmony of a woman's life depends on the perfect concordance of her mental with her physical being. All the emotions of love and marriage and motherhood have corresponding physical attributes in the delicate special organism of her sex. If these intricate functions are disturbed by weakness and disease her whole nature is out of tune. More women's lives are made discordant and full of suffering from this one cause than there is any need of. These delicate complaints are not a necessity of womanhood, nor is it necessary for modest women to undergo the repugnant and generally useless methods of treatment so common with physicians.

All forms of "female complaint" are cured in the only natural, scientific way by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which reaches the internal source of the trouble, purifies, heals, strengthens and cures radically and permanently. It is the only medicine of the kind devised by an educated and skilled specialist in women's diseases for the sole purpose of curing this one class of diseases.

"I cannot say too much for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Miss Clara Bates of Bridgport, Montgomery Co., Penna. "I feel it my duty to say to all women who may be suffering from any disease of the female system, to get the best medicine on earth for them to use. I cannot praise it too highly for the good it did me. If any one doubts this give them my name and address."

Dr. Pierce's thousand-page, illustrated book, "Common Sense Medical Adviser," contains information of almost value to women. A paper-bound copy will be sent free if you send 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. For handsome, cloth-bound copy, send 10 stamps extra.
