Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the deseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube, When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflamation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destoryed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

One Man Against War.

Is it possible that this, a Christian nation, is now preparing to offer another sacrifice of human life?

Less than forty years ago one-fourth of our best people—the very flower of the nation—laid down their lives that all surviving them might all be free.

'Tis true that their heroic deeds will ever live in the memory of their grateful countrymen.

But must we again offer a like sacrifice—and in a foreign land—to the cause of freedom?

Ah, perish the thought! Christian fathers look about you as did Abraham of old, for an entangled ram, before placing your sons upon the terrible altar of war.

Is such a course in accordance with the teachings of him who offered his body once for all.

I think not. For we read in the guide He left his followers, that, "he that despises Moses' law died without mercy under two or three witnesses."

"Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood or the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing."

"For we know him that hath said, vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense saith the Lord."

"And again, The Lord shall judge his people."

"But call to remembrance the former days, in which ye endured a great fight of affliction."

"Partly whilst ye were made a gazingstock both by reproaches and affliction; and partly, whilst ye become companions of them that were so used.

"For ye had compassion of me in my bonds, and took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing in ourselves that ye have in Heaven a better and an enduring substance.

"Cast not away therefore your confidence which hath great recompense of reward.

"For ye have need of patience that after ye have done the will of God, ye might receive the promise."

College Boys in Athletic Games—Preparing for the June Struggle.

An event of interest is to happen on O. A. C. held next Saturdry afternoon. The athletes of the Amicitia have challenged the Cauthoan hall club for a field meet at athletic games, and the latter have accepted. The contesting teams will include about all the athletes at the college and some splendid work may be expected. Among the Amicitias are Bodine, Simpson, Gallegher, Scoggins, McBride and Walters, and among the Cauthorn hall men are Stites, Riddle, Smith, Beach, Young and Scott. Several of the latter are new men, but much is expected of them. Among the contests will be broad and high jumps, throwing the hammer and shot, 100 and 220 yard dashes, the quarter, half and mile runs, bicycle race, mile walk and pole vault.

The fact that O. A. C. holds half the medals, taken against five contesting colleges last year in the intercollegiate association meet, is a sufficient guarantee that each event will be strongly contested. The boys are at work for the great intercollegiate meet which happens at Salem June 4th, and it is probable that Corvallis people will turn out on Saturday to give them proper encouragement.

The games will be called at 2 p. m. on O. A. C. field. It is expected that the cadet band will be in attendance. The proceeds are to be devoted toward the payment of the training expenses of the boys in getting ready for the June struggle. —Corvallis Times.

WORK OF THE MATHLOMA.—The government steamboat, Mathloma, came down the river the last of the week with all the appurtenances used in the improvement of the Willamette near Eugene, where it had been for nearly three months says the Corvallis times. The work there consisted mainly in construction permanent dams across side channels so as to confine the water. This accomplished, it is believed that a light-draft boat can run to Eugene a large part of the season. The Mathloma will put in two or three weeks removing snags between here and Harrisburg, after which she will wrok from here down.

YEARS INSURANCE BUSINESS.

Why do they Fail?

The advocates of stock companies claim that the failures of so many stock companies on the Pacific coast has been due to heavy losses and small capital. Perhaps few of the public know the actual facts. We will give some figures below which will throw a little light on the subject. These figures are all taken from the United States official statistics, and cover the period from 1880 to 1890 which includes the year 1889, in which so many conflagrations occurred.

During this period the receipts of the Pacific coast stock companies that are now extinct were $34,636,016, while their losses were $16,373,255, leaving the enormous sum of $18,262,761 for profits and expenses. At the close of 1889 these companies had assets amounting to $9,187,601.

From these actual facts it would seem that the real trouble was not due to heavy losses or to a lack of capital, but that it was due to the stock-company system of insurance that collects its premiums three and five years in advance for their officers to speculate with.

Failures of stock companies on the Pacific coast have not been more frequent than in other parts of the United States. According to the United States Census, there were 535 stock companies doing business January 1, 1890, and during the previous decade there were 173 such companies failed or retired. One peculiar feature about these stock company failures is that many of them show a very low loss ratio.

MUTUAL FAILURES.

A purely mutual company may dissolve by mutual consent, but such an one can hardly fail, and when one does quit business, it is not with a vast sum of the people's money collected in advance for premiums, as is always the case when stock companies fail. According to the United States census, there were 1403 mutual companies that were doing business January 1, 1890, and confining their business to dwellings, etc., while during the previous decade there were 101 such companies ceased business. Fifty-four of these retiring mutuals were small associations that confined their business to townships or counties. From these figures it will be seen that nearly five times as many stock companies have failed in proportion to their number as mutuals.

OLD MUTUAL COMPANIES.

The oldest insurance company in the United States is the "Philadelphia Contributionship for the insurance of Houses From Loss by Fire." Benjamin Franklin was one of its organizers. It is a mutual company 147 years old, and is still doing a prosperous business. Pennsylvania has another mutual that is 113 years old. The oldest mutual company in Maine is 72 years old. Maryland has one 105 years old; Massachusetts has one 72 years old, and 12 that are over 70 years old. The oldest one in New Hampshire is 74 years old. Rhode Island has one 100 years old. New Jersy has one 76 and another one 70 years old. Vermont has one 72, and Virginia has one 73 and another 65.—Pacific Progress. d & w

Impure Blood in Spring.

This is the almost universal experience. Diminished perspiration during winter, rich foods and close confinement indoors are some of the causes. A good Spring Medicine, like Hood's Sarsaparilla, is necessary to purify the blood and put the system in a healthy condition at this season. Hood's Pills are the best family cathartic and liver tonic.

Walla Walla and Pendleton men had a pigeon shoot last Sunday in which the Pendleton sportsmen came off victorious. The score was 77 to 74 in favor of Pendleton.

Blood Poison.

Contagious Blood Poison has been appropriately called the curse of mankind. It is the one disease that physicians cannot cure; their mercurial and potash remedies only bottle up the poison in the system, to surely break forth in a more virulent form, resulting in a total wreck of the system.

Mr. Frank B. Martin, a prominent jeweler at 926 Pensylvania Ave., Washington, D.C., says: I was for a long time under treatment of two of the best physicians of this city, for a severe case of blood poison, but my condition grew worse all the while, notwithstanding the fact that they charged me three hundred dollars. My mouth was filled with eating sores; my tongue was almost eaten away, so that for three months I was unable to taste any solid food. My hair was coming out rapidly, and I was in a horrible fix. I had tried various treatments, and was nearly discouraged, when a friend recommended S.S.S. After I had taken four bottles, I began to get better, and when I had finished eighteen bottles, I was cured sound and well, my skin was without a blemish, and I have had no return of the disease. S.S.S. saved me from a life of misery." S.S.S. (guaranteed purely vegetable) will cure any case of blood poison. CHEHALIS, Wash., April 9, 1398.
Dr. J. F. Cook, Salem, Or:
I received your letter and was glad to hear from you. You want to know how my leg is getting along. It is all right; the flesh is growing out over the shin bone and is turning white. It is not straight yet, but I think it will be as straight as the other leg when warm weather comes on. I can work most of the time. The other doctors told me I could never be cured without splitting it and scraping the bone, but they are mistaken. It is getting well without cutting or scraping, so they do not know as much as they thought they did, but you are all right, for you have done just what you said you could do. I will answer any questions you ask about my leg.
Very truly yours,
A. COOPER.
