OREGON
Effected First Cuban Landing.

Six Hundred Marines at Guantanamo.

Spaniards Fled at Approach of Americans.

Old Glory Waves From a Spanish Flag Pole.

KEY WEST, June 13.—To the battle ship Oregon, under command of Capt. Clark belongs the honor of effecting the first successful landing of troops on Cuban soil, during the war. The invasion was begun Saturday by the American forces. Six hundred marines have pitched tent about smoking ruins of the outer fortifications of Guantanamo and old glory is waving over the island.
Forty marines from the Oregon went ashore Saturday morning and occupied the point to the left of the entrance of the bay, until the Panther arrived with 600 marines.
These, under command of Lieutenant-Colonel Huntington, arrived at 3 o'clock, and within half an hour had burned the buildings of the Spanish camp and had set fire to the miserable little village which crouched on the beach under the hills of Guantanamo. The whole operation of silencing the guns and landing the forces was as easy as planning a Sunday school picnic.
The Marblehead, backed by the Vixen and Dolphin, had opened on the earthworks. The shores to the left of the entrance were lined with guns and rifle pits, but the Spanish stampeded after firing a few shots.
The city of Guantanamo lies four miles up the bay, and a little Spanish gunboat came down to help the shore batteries. But she stayed just long enough to turn around. Numerous shots were fired by the Spaniards, but not one landed, and no Americans were injured.
The main fort lies within the city limits and is still to be reduced, but it is not in a difficult position, and the American officers say it can be taken in 15 minutes.
The Marblehead, Dolphin, Vixen and two colliers have been off the entrance of the harbor for several days. Yesterday morning they sailed into the channel. A mile further up they opened fire, sending 50 shots at the fortifications on the left. The hills on the right of the entrance were deserted. There are no defenses on the right side of the harbor.
No attempt was made to land until the Oregon steamed in early Saturday morning. Captain Clerk immediately sent 40 marines ashore, and 20 from the Marblehead followed. They found evidence of a very hasty departure by the Spaniards. Watches, hammocks and ammunition were scattered about the earthworks, and a Spanish flag was found in one of the rifle pits.
The little detachment of marines held the place until the Panther arrived, when they were recalled, and the work embankment began. The first boatload had scarcely landed when the village burst into flames.

Company K, under Lieutenant Hall, was the first ashore, and without the loss of a moment the column started up the steep, rocky hillside to the earthworks. For an hour a brown column of marines filed up the narrow path, eventually taking up a position at the top of the hill. As soon as the American flag was swung out to the breeze from the flagstaff of the captured Spanish camp, the Oregon steamed away to rejoin the fleet of Santiago.

The marines will hold the position until the arrival of the expected troops, in the meantime scouting in the vicinity, with the Marblehead, Vixen and Dolphin lying by to protect them.

Rear-Admiral Sampson now has a harbor and base of supplies on the south side of the island, and troops can be landed at will.

The troopship Panther reached the fleet of Santiago. On her way over, the Yosemite fired a dozen shells into the port of Baiquiri, but received no response.

Guantanamo is about 40 miles east of Santiago de Cuba, and is a splendid location for a base of supplies for the blockading fleet.

It is understood that the island of Cuba is entirely cut off from cable communication with the outside world. Report here has it that the cable-ship Adria, cut the cable at Santiago, Monday, and that the same day the St. Louis cut the cable running from Guantanamo to Mole St. Nicholas, Hayti. She was interrupted by shells from the shore, but the Marblehead sent several shells at the soldiers and scattered them.

Little Girl Outraged.
BUTTE, Mont., June 13.—Ebel Gill, aged 9 years, disappeared from her home on South Ohio street Thursday evening. Her dead body was found in an out-house several blocks from the residence of her parents. The condition of the body showed plainly she had been outraged, and the marks about her neck indicated that she had been strangled to death.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gill, parents of the child, arrived here about two months ago from Oakland, Cal. They rented a cabin in the rear of 328 South Ohio street. Thursday evening the child was playing with some other little ones near the Northern Pacific depot, not far from the child's home. Since then nothing was seen of her until this morning, when a female neighbor went into the out-house and saw what seemed to her to be a body she notified some men in an adjoining lumber yard, who went in and secured the body. It was that of the missing child. The clothing was torn and disarranged. Discolorations on the neck indicated strangulation and there was a mark on the left temple, as if made by some blunt instrument.

The police think they have the man who committed the crime. He was arrested about an hour after the girl's absence was noted. The police wanted him on suspicion of burglary. They found him in the lumber yard not 50 feet from the out-house. There were blood stains on his clothes, and when questioned about them he could give no satisfactory answer. When today's discovery was made, the police thought of this circumstance. Since then, witnesses have been found who will swear they saw the man and the child together on the evening of her disappearance and shortly before his arrest. The map gave his name as Charles Smith, but he is also known to the police as Higgins.

When the girl's body was found and he was suspected of that crime, the police started to put him through the sweating process. They made him account for his actions and movements on the evening of the girl's disappearance and his own arrest. He did not do so in a satisfactory way. Then he was taken to the undertaker's where the body was being prepared for burial, and made to look upon the body. He stood the test manfully. He is a man about 28 years of age. The theory of the police is that the girl had gone into the out-house, and the man followed her and accomplished his purpose. It is said she was seen talking to a man answering the description of the prisoner a short time before 9 o'clock Thursday night. The girl was of slender build, and very beautiful. She was an only child. She was horribly mutilated.

The inquest will take place Tuesday. Should absolute proof of any one's guilt be obtained, there will doubtless be a lynching.

Suicide.
SAND POINT, Idaho, June 13.—As the east-bound express train on the Great Northern was crossing a bridge at Albany Falls, F. Schmeyle, of San Francisco, jumped through a window of a passenger coach, with the evident intention of plunging into the river. He struck some of the timbers on the side of the bridge and fell back under the wheels of the train. Death was almost instantaneous. Schmeyle was evidently German. A few minutes before he jumped he talked with the conductor, asking where they were in Idaho, the name of the river, etc.

A woman passenger attracted the attention of the conductor for a moment, when Schmeyle sprang through the window. The woman saw him jump and cried: "There he goes," but it was too late to stop him. He left a family in San Francisco.

How A Cooper Had a Rotten Bone Healed After 35 Years.
CHEHALIS, Wash., April 9, 1898.
Dr. J. F. Coak, Salem, Or.:
I received your letter and was glad to hear from you. You want to know how my leg is getting along. It is all right; the flesh is growing out over the shin bone and is turning white. It is not straight yet, but I think it will be as straight as the other leg when warm weather comes on. I can walk most of the time. The other doctors told me I could never be cured without splitting it and scraping the bone, but they are mistaken. It is getting well without cutting or scraping, so they do not know as much as they thought they did, but you are all right, for you have done just what you said you could do. I will answer any questions you ask about my leg. Very truly yours,
A. COOPER.
