ARMY

Of Invasion Landed Near Santiago.

The Debarking Point First Shelled.

Cabanas Bombarded to Divert Attention.

Only One American Killed On Our Battleships.

ON BOARD THE ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCH-BOAT WANDA, off Balquiri, June 23, noon, via Playa del Este, Guantanamo bay, Wednesday afternoon, June 22.—As 9 o'clock, the hour supposed to have been fixed for commencing the disembarkation came and passed, the expedition was in suspense, but the ships lay rocking complacently outside the little bay.

About 9:15 a. m., the bombardment of the hills surrounding the village of Juragua, some six miles off, suddenly began to distract our attention from our affairs. Then, steam pinnaces, trailing strings of empty boats, began speeding to and fro among the transports, and gradually, though imperceptibly filling with troops.

At 9:45 Cuban scouts appeared west of Balquiri, and immediately the New Orleans, Machias, Detroit, Suwanee and Wasp began bombarding. Forty-five rounds were fired into the bushes during the first quarter of an hour, and many rounds from the quick-fire guns. Not a shot was fired in response.

At 9:45 the first boatload, containing the men of the Eighth and First Infantry, started for the shore, followed by the Twenty-fifth (colored), Tenth and Twelfth Infantry at 10:10.

Prodigious cheering from the shore, caught up by the nearest ships and flying from vessel to vessel through the squadron, announced the momentous fact that the army had begun a landing on Cuban soil, the honor of setting the first foot on the land falling to a detachment of the Eighth Infantry, which was towed ashore by the tug Wamnatuck.

This important operation thus quickly completed without loss of life or attack, the troops on land formed and moved up and away to quarters without confusion.

A force of mounted Cubans, which had been under the fire during the bombardment, now arrived and congratulations were exchanged. The inhabitants of the village, assured that the worst was over, came out.

colored women and children creeping into sight from subterranean shelters.

At 11:30 a detachment of the Second Massachusetts volunteers started for the shore, and by noon probably 3000 men had landed. Other detachments were following as rapidly as the steam launches could be made available.

The sea was calm and the sky clear. A cool breeze was blowing. The troops were in the highest spirits, and strains of "Yankee Doodle" were greeting every string of boats coming in.

The correspondent of the Associated Press, going ashore at 1:10 p. m., found that the Spaniards had done little wanton mischief. A round house, a locomotive, a few cars and railway offices had been destroyed, but the bulk of the village was left standing intact.

The firing on Juragua still continues as this dispatch is filed, but it is desultory and is directed over the first line of hills to clear the country beyond.

PHIL ROBINSON.

OFFICIALLY REPORTED.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Official dispatches received by Secretary Alger and Secretary Long indicated that the landing of troops near Santiago is progressing most favorably. The first landing was effected at Balquiri this morning and met with comparatively slight resistance. This was stated in a dispatch received by Secretary Alger, which, though brief, was full of news and meaning. It follows:

"Playa del Este, June 22.—To the Secretary of War, Washington: Off Balquiri, Cuba, June 22.—Landing at Balquiri this morning. Very little if any resistance.

SHAFTER.

Secretary Alger expressed himself as delighted at the expedition with which the landing of the troops was being effected and with the fact that no serious obstacle was being offered by the enemy. He construed the text of General Shafter's message to mean that the enemy had made merely a nominal and ineffectual resistance by firing from the hills at long range.

Shortly after Secretary Alger received this dispatch, Secretary Long received a more extended cablegram from Admiral Sampson. It, too, was dated at Playa del Este, at 6:50 this evening. The text of the dispatch, translated from the navy department cipher, is as follows:

"Landing of the army is progressing favorably at Balquiri. There is little if any resistance. The New Orleans, Detroit, Castine, Suwanee and Wasp shelled the vicinity before the landing. We made a demonstration at Cabanas to engage the attention of the enemy. The Taxes engaged the west battery for some hours. She had one man killed. The submarine mines have been recovered from the channel at Guantanamo. Communication by telegraph has been established at Guantanamo.

SAMPSON."

In both army and navy circles, the information contained in the dispatches of General Shafter and Admiral Sampson was received with intense satisfaction. The landing of so large a body of troops as General Shafter at present has under his command is a task of immense proportions.

GRAY BROS

Corner State and Liberty streets, Salem, Or.

A prominent official of the war department said tonight the complete debarkation of the troops, animals and field guns and supplies within a week after their arrival off the Cuban coast would be a task well accomplished. It is probably, in the opinion of the officers referred to, that only a partial landing of troops was effected today.

Admiral Sampson's dispatch indicated that he was carrying out his instructions thoroughly to clear a way for the landing of the troops. The demonstration which he made with the Texas before Cabanas, which is just west of Santiago, may easily have the Spaniards to suppose that a general landing was to be attempted in the immediate vicinity. It was evident from the text of Admiral Sampson's dispatch that a landing had already been effected near Guantanamo, as he noted that communication by telegraph had been re-established at this point and that the channel had been cleared of sub-marine mines. In the opinion of naval officers, the landing at Guantanamo was of marines rather than of land forces.

The cable station, through which the American commanders will communicate with the departments in this city, has been established, as shown by the dates of the dispatches received this evening, at Playa del Este, a small place near the coast and about 15 miles east of Santiago. The change was made from Camy McCalla to Playa del Este that the station might be nearer the scene of action.

On to Manila.

Salem Volunteers Are Being Mustered In.

Another Opportunity for Salem Patriots to Serve Their Country.

Another excellent opportunity is open to able bodied young Salem men to go to the front. Capt. H. F. Kendall, recruiting officer of the Eighth United States cavalry; accompanied by examining physicians, Drs. Walker and Johnson and clerks, Messrs. Wilson and Grant arrived in the city on the 11 o'clock train from Portland, and is now at the armory, third floor of city hall building, engaged in mustering applicants for service in the volunteer United States army. These recruits are a complement and will be used to enlarge and fill the vacancies in the other Oregon companies.

They will be sent to the front at once, will reach San Francisco by the first of next week and will go to Manila on the first expedition. Major J. C. Rutenic has a list of 41 volunteers, who are anxious to go into the service. Most of these young men, however, reside in the country, and it will be found impossible to notify them of the presence, in Salem, of the regular recruiting officer. Captain Kendall wrote to Major Rutenic day before yesterday of his intention to come to Salem today, but the letter was kept in the mails until this morning. This may deprive a number of young men of an opportunity to go to Manila.

Captain Kendall does not believe he will be able to complete his work in Salem today, but may return to Portland tomorrow morning.

Capt. Minto's company will not enlist on this occasion as they desire to maintain their organization and go in a body. One of the Minto company Second Lieut. Geo. W. Jones, who has just been re-elected county superintendent of Marion county, has enrolled with Major Rutenic as a private and will go if accepted.

Will Finish Today.

The recruiting officer, Capt. Kendall will complete his work in Salem today and with the quota that Salem is entitled to under this call, twenty-five men, go to Portland tonight. At 3 o'clock seventeen successful applicants had been examined and accepted. By using extra efforts Major Rutenic succeeded in notifying nearly all the 41 volunteers, who reside in the country and many of them are coming in this afternoon.

FROM A SUFFERER. How A. Cooper Had a Rotten Bone Healed After 35 Years.

CHEHALIS, Wash., April 9, 1898. Dr. J. F. Cook, Salem, Or: I received your letter and was glad to hear from you. You want to know how my leg is getting along. It is all right; the flesh is growing out over the shin bone and is turning white. It is not straight yet, but I think it will be as straight as the other leg when warm weather comes on. I can work most of the time. The other doctors told me I could never be cured without amputating it and scraping the bone, but they are mistaken. It is getting well without cutting or scraping, so they do not know as much as they thought they did, but you are all right, for you have done just what you said you could do. I will answer any questions you ask about my leg. Very truly yours, A. COOPER. Dr. Cook's office is at 301 Liberty street, Salem.

The Glorious Fourth.

Independence Day Will Be a Rousing Time in Salem.

W. S. Duniway Will Be Orator of the Day and Hon. Claud Gatch Will Preside.

There is no longer any doubt that the glorious Fourth of July will be celebrated this year in Salem as it has never been before. Everything indicates that it will be a celebration on a large scale and that many of the features will be very attractive, novel and unique.

Another enthusiastic meeting of the Fourth of July committees was held Tuesday evening at the city police court room. The soliciting committee has raised a subscription of about $700 and resumed its canvass of the city this morning.

The invitation committee reported having secured the services of the following persons to assist in the celebration: Hon. Claud Gatch, president of the day; W. S. Duniway, orator; Mrs. C. S. Riely, reader of the Declaration of Independence; Rev. W. C. Kantner, chaplain; F. N. Derby, chief marshal; Ben F. Taylor will superintend the firing of the morning salute.

All business men of the city are invited to decorate their places of business and to participate in the parade. It is proposed to have a grand parade in which the various business firms and trades will be represented. The bicycle committee propose to have a large delegation of wheelmen in the procession.

The various committees are working hard and the celebration, though undertaken at a late hour, promises to be one of the most successful ever held in Oregon's Capital City.

Ben P. Taylor will fire the morning salute at sunrise. One of the prettiest and most novel attractions will be a grand pyrotechnic display from the Willamette river, thus affording thousands of people an opportunity to witness it from both banks and from the big bridge.

Another unique feature and one that will be sure to attract will be the "Yew Park Zouaves" under the leadership of Capt. W. P. Ross. This company will lead a band of more than 1000 school children in festive and patriotic costumes. Numerous trade floats will be in the parade, which will in fact be a real pageant, with dozens of patriotic floats, and grand spectacular presentations.

The bicycle people are making the effort of their lives. They will all be in line, hundred and thousands of them, with gaily decorated wheels. Large cash prizes are being offered for the prettiest decorated bicycles in line.

There will be novel races of all kinds and lots of attractive bicycle races.

The arrangements are not yet complete for the musical features, but enough has been done to justify the prophecy that they will be of the best. All the bands will be on hand with their brightest prices and the best vocalists obtainable will be secured. It is certain that the people from the neighboring towns and surrounding country are coming to Salem in the thousands, to celebrate and it is also certain that they will be given a big time.

There will be another meeting of the committee held tonight in the police court room at the city hall.
