SECOND DAY'S EXAMINATION.

Dark Conspiracy Being Unraveled Before Justice Johnson.

Lawyer Bingham's Tremendous Effort to Break Down Young Roberts.

More "Journal" Pen Pictures and Snap Shot Cartoons of the Parties Most Interested.

Both Sides Promise to Spring Some Big Sensations Before They Get Through.

On the third page will be found a report of the first day's preliminary examination, before Justice Johnson, in the case of the state vs. P. H. D'Arcy, contesting candidate for circuit judge, and his counsel, Messrs. Carson and Richardson. District Attorney Hayden appeared today in the conduct of the case for the state. There are now three actions pending to-wit: 1. A contested election suit begun by P. H. D'Arcy in the circuit court. 2. A criminal information in justice court, (now on trial). 3. An injunction proceeding before the county court. THE JOURNAL will continue to give an absolutely dispassionate report. The examination before Justice Johnson is liable to consume all this week, and it will be for him to determine whether there is sufficient evidence to bind the defendants over to the grand jury. Most of the facts brought out so far have already appeared in THE JOURNAL. Defendants are conducting their own case through Bingham and Bigger. Both sides promise to spring some sensations before conclusion of the case. THE JOURNAL is asked to publish a correct statement of the result of the canvass of the Marion county vote. The board first gave Mr. D'Arcy 178 over Boise. The second count gave him one more, 177. The third count, on which the board decided to take the footings as made in the precincts gave him 186. All three counts elect Boise.

THURSDAY MORNING'S SESSION. A few minutes after 9 o'clock the participants in the struggle began to appear in the court room. His honor, Squire Johnson, came early. He looked tired and settled himself down low on the judge's bench. There only seemed to be a mass of whiskers above the desk. "Sam" Richardson's face was like that of a Sphinx—nobody could read it. District Attorney Sam Hayden took his seat with the prosecutors and watched the proceedings eagerly. The spectators began to arrive early and Undertaker Rigdon was among them. He took a front seat.

TOWNSEND RESUMES. Election Judge Townsend who was on the witness stand when court adjourned Wednesday night was placed in the box first, but before he had time to resume his testimony a legal fight arose over the legality of Justice Johnson opening the Monitor ballot boxes. After the matter had been discussed pro and con by counsel the court decided that it had no authority to break the Seals and therefore sustained the objections of the defense, and witness Townsend was excused. Election Officer Phelps followed. His testimony like that of all the other election officers examined was to the effect that the original tally sheets were correct. J. B. White came next. He was election clerk at Monitor and swore that tallies had been added to the sheet since it left his hand. Mr. Holmes lent the witness a little spy glass with which to make a close examination. Mr. White's testimony was rather of a fine expert character, like defining the differences between two straight marks. It was rather dry and to kill time the lawyers began a discussion concerning the Christian name of L. V. Ehlen. "Lignum Vital," said one; "Large Vote," suggested a second, while a third was sure it was "Long Voyage Ehlen."

DELIVERED TO HAYES. J. P. Feller one of the judges of the Butteville precinct was the next witness. He explains how he gave up the tally-sheet to Mr. Hayes on Clerk Ehlen's order. John Murray, judge of election at Butteville swore he [Continued on fourth page.]

BLOODY

Battle Hourly Looked For.

Spanish Intrenchments to Be Shelled.

Operations Against the Spanish Forces Pushed.

Health of Troops Good--Military Communication Complete.

KINGSTON, June 30.—Via the dispatch boat Dauntless American troops are ready for a general advance and are being rushed forward with all possible speed. The engineers have almost completed the bridges and roads, and this afternoon the first train of six mules and wagons will go through. Every man will have three days' rations in his knapsack, and then the army will move on the enemy. The whole country is being thoroughly mapped by the engineers. Corporal Dewey and nine sharpshooters from the Seventh infantry went out at dark with one day's rations towards the Spanish line and they have not yet returned, but no fear is entertained for their safety. It is believed they are lying in the bush waiting for night. At daylight this morning, Lieutenant Smith, Fourth infantry, with a detail of 50 men from the Seventh infantry, under Lieutenant Dyerfoot, crossed the San Juan and went in a northeasterly direction as far as El Gaumey without encountering any Spanish troops, and 50 men of company C, Seventh regiment, Captain Young, also made reconnaissances in force. The Spanish have seemingly retired to their entrenchments, as no pickets or skirmishers were encountered. Generals Lawton, Wheeler and Chaffee have had riders out beyond our advance posts several times. Captain Wright of General Bates' staff, today followed the line of the railroad running out of Juragua towards Santiago to within two and a half miles of the city. The road approaches within half a mile of our front and can be utilized to bring up supplies and siege guns, the first of which was landed at Daiquiri this afternoon. As soon as the remaining battalions of the Thirty-fourth Michigan and the Eighth Massachusetts, which arrive on the Harvard Friday and the Sixth Wisconsin and reinforcements sent from Tampa arrive here, Aguadores, a town on the coast four miles west of Juragua, will be taken. The place was shelled today by several ships of the fleet. Aguadores is on the line of the advance of the army into the interior and close to the railroad. It will then probably become the base of operation, while the supply base may remain at Juragua. Captain Wright obtained information which is believed to be reliable to the effect that 3000 Spanish troops have been sent to reinforce the garrison at Aguadores. General Lawton will probably make a diversion with his artillery as soon as it is placed in position. Heavy rain has made it impossible to move beyond General Wheeler's headquarters, but as the roads dry quickly, the guns will probably be brought up soon and the entrenchments will be shelled by the artillery and by Colonel Wood's dynamite guns. The sharpshooters will be more used by the artillery. The guns are 3.2 inches, and with sharpshooters are effective at 2300 yard. The Cubans say the Spaniards are in deadly fear of dynamite, and General Lawton will see how he can terrify them. Simultaneously with the bombardment, General Chaffee's brigade will move forward and occupy a position vital importance in advance of our front. The correspondent of the Associated Press is not permitted at present to divulge its location. The military telegraph has been completed as far as General Wheeler's headquarters, placing the front in direct communication with General Shafter, who still maintains his headquarters on board the Segurana, where he can keep in close touch with Rear-Admiral Sampson. It is probable, however, that he will establish his headquarters at Juragua today.

The troops under General Lawton are kept ready to move in light marching order while the reconnoitering parties are out. This precaution is considered necessary, in order to avoid disaster if the small parties of troops should collide with Spaniards in force. The Cubans under General Castillo are doing commendable work as advance pickets. They are thrown out day and night from half a mile to a mile in advance of our pickets along the front and flanks, thus forming a double cordon about the army. There are now more than 13,000 men in the front. Drinking water for the troops at the front is obtained from the Rio Guama, a stream full of springs direct from the mountains. The water is remarkably good, and is now carefully guarded from pollution. The Cubans and our soldiers bathed in it at first. Strict orders have been issued against such practices in the future and sentinels have been placed to enforce the order. Strict orders have also been issued about eating the tropical fruits, mangoes, oranges, etc., in which the country abounds, the only exception being made in the case of milk from green coconuts, which is considered healthy and refreshing, and lines. Some of our men made themselves sick through eating fruit. An epidemic of measles, which was started on board one of two transports is spreading to the camp, and about 20 new cases have broken out. The men remain cheerful despite the heat and hard fare, which thus far has been confined exclusively to coffee,hardtack and bacon, diet hardly suited for the climate. Rice would make a splendid staple here. But the great deprivation is that both men and officers are suffering from lack of tobacco. The men are steady and confident. The pickets show none of the nervousness which might be expected, and there are practically no alarms or firing on the lines at night. Two reconnoitering parties, one of the Ninth cavalry and the other of the Twenty-fourth infantry, collided and several shots were exchanged, fortunately without accident, before their identity was established.

HOSPITAL SHIP. The Finest Vessel of the Kind in the World. NEW YORK, June 30.—What is undoubtedly the finest hospital ship in the world will steam out of New York harbor next Thursday and proceed to Santiago de Cuba, the Relief, the pride of the war department. The Solace, Uncle Sam's other hospital ship, belongs to the navy department, and is on duty in Cuban waters. The Relief with her splendid lines, her massive steel frame and her modern engines, more than answers every demand from the view point of a ship proprietor and from that of the physician and surgeon she is a dream. Imagine a ship of this kind divided up into five large wards for the sick and wounded, into storerooms and messrooms, operating-rooms and officers' quarters fitted with every appliance known to modern medical or surgical science, including all known instruments likely to be required in surgical operations. The ship will be laden with the largest cargo of nice things that any similar vessel ever carried. Hundreds of patriotic women all over the Eastern states have heard of the ship and sent contributions of money and delicacies. The special plants have been provided which will add infinitely to the comfort of the sick. They are the distilling plant, the ice or refrigerating and the plant for carbonizing water, the gift of the Colonial Dames. Bathrooms abound. They are connected with all wards, with the private quarters of the medical staff and with those of the ship's officers. There is a special shower bath which would be the making of any bath house on land. It is for sick officers and is so arranged that the shower throws hot or cold, fresh or salt water. All the bathrooms have rubber floors. For hoisting or lowering the sick or wounded, Naval Constructor Bowles has devised a special apparatus. On the forward side of the mainmast he has fitted a steam boom. By its use patents can be taken from a warship and placed on any deck of the Relief in any ward desired.

Closing in On Santiago.

Report Brought by a Dolphin Officer.

Many Spanish Dead Are Left Unburied.

Fortitude of Cubans Regarded As Remarkable.

KEY-WEST, June 30.—A vessel that has just arrived here from Guantanamo, which place she left on Sunday noon, brought one of the officers of the gun-boat Dolphin, who is returning home on sick leave. The officer in question says the Dolphin has been co-operating with the marines in Guantanamo harbor, though lately matters have been quiet there. When he left, on Sunday, there were 24 ships in the harbor, including fighting vessels, colliers, the hospital ship Solace and the Red Cross steamer State of Texas, with Miss Clara Barton. It was the prevalent belief that Santiago would be taken before July 1, as the American troops were only five miles distant from the city and closing in. An excellent water supply had been obtained on the shore at Guantanamo, where there were 600 Cubans in addition to those of the American marines. The passage leading to the inner harbor, the officer reports was thoroughly cleaned of mines by launches from the Dolphin and other ships. Eight mines, weighing 180 pounds each were taken up and sent to dock, where they will be cleaned before they are put into the American waters. The Spanish troops at Caimanera and other points in the interior of the province of Santiago are starving. They may be captured at pleasure. The Texas and Marblehead have already destroyed the forts at the inner end of the passage, and our ships may enter the inner harbor and shell Caimanera whenever they are ready. The Dolphin took a conspicuous part in the bombardment of Santiago on June 6. After the principal firing she went toward the shore and fired shells into a train approaching the city with soldiers. With the glasses it could be seen that the train was wrecked and the men were scrambling into the woods. The insurgents afterward said that 70 men and 11 women were killed. At Guantanamo, the Dolphin protected the camp of the marines at night, casting her searchlight into the woods occupied by the Spaniards and shelling their positions with three-inch shrapnel guns. Throughout the fighting on both sides of the bay the Dolphin raked the Spanish shelters. Her most notable achievement was on June 14, when the marines made an offensive movement and captured the well. Our troops moved upon the Spaniards with the Cubans in front and on their flanks as scouts. Whenever the Spaniards could be seen the Dolphin threw shells among them. When they made their last stand the marines wigwagged to the Dolphin, "Shell the house." The Dolphin could see no house, except one she had previously hit, and which she knew was empty. She fired at random up the valley and a shell, tearing through the trees, entered a house hidden among them. The Spaniards poured out like ants from a hill and the Cubans and marines picked off 68. The shell killed seven. In some places the ships could only judge of the skill of their gunners by observing forces gathering about spots where shots had been aimed. The Spanish dead were in many cases left unburied. Everybody is praising the Cubans, who are utterly without fear and unwilling to retire when expected to stop fighting. The fortitude of wounded Cubans is described as remarkable.
