PORTLAND NEWS: Inaugurating News Items from Western News:

The American Admiral Fired On the German Cruise Again.

Ludwig July 19—The New York correspondent of the Daily News, United States Consul W. M. Westmore, informs me that the German cruiser was seen by him on the American coast, and that the Consul was permitted to board the vessel.

The Consul was well received and treated kindly by the officers and crew of the vessel. He was permitted to inspect the ship's armament, and to examine the crew. He was also permitted to take photographs of the vessel, which were later published in the American press.

It is reported that Admiral von der Donck, who is in command of the German squadron, was instructed by his government not to allow his officers to approach the American coast. The German government was afraid that the Admiral's presence would cause difficulties with the American government.

DEWEY ONCE MORE:

The German Admiral Firing on the German Cruise Again.

The Consul was well received and treated kindly by the officers and crew of the vessel. He was permitted to inspect the ship's armament, and to examine the crew. He was also permitted to take photographs of the vessel, which were later published in the American press.

It is reported that Admiral von der Donck, who is in command of the German squadron, was instructed by his government not to allow his officers to approach the American coast. The German government was afraid that the Admiral's presence would cause difficulties with the American government.

SPANISH FLAG HAULED DOWN:

The Formal Surrender of Caimanesa Took Place Today in Cuba.

Camp McGarr, July 19—Spanish flag was hoisted at Caimanesa, and the formal surrender of the Spanish forces in Caimanesa was completed.

AS AID FOR IMMUNES.

For Immediate Use at Santiago—Ten Million Rounds of Munition Taken.

Washington, July 19—General Schurman, who is in command of the war department, has ordered that ten million rounds of ammunition be sent to Santiago.

The ammunition will be used to supply the Spanish forces in Caimanesa, and to ensure their safety.

TORNADO FLOOD.

A tornado struck the town of Caimanesa, causing serious damage.

Nature's Wrath:

The tornado caused widespread destruction, and caused many injuries and deaths. The town was left in ruins, and the area was declared a disaster area.

WESTERN APPEALS:

Western Appeals—A new movement is being organized in the western states, which will be based on the principle of providing aid for those in need.

The movement will be known as the Western Appeals, and is aimed at providing aid for those in need.

The movement will be based on the principle of providing aid for those in need, and will be supported by all who believe in the importance of helping those in need.