Cruisers and Other Convoy Ordered to Start Immediately
With Milne's Expedition.

TRANSPORTS WITH AMERICAN REINFORCEMENTS FOR ADMIRAL DEWEY.

Washington, July 29.—The ships at the east coast will be completed for the expedition at the earliest possible moment, as the transportation of a large number of men has already been accomplished. The transports are now under construction at the Naval Yard, and are expected to arrive in time to be completed for the expedition. The expedition will be ready to sail at the earliest possible moment.

Washington, July 29.—In the interests of the expedition, the Secretary of the Navy has ordered all the vessels at the east coast to be prepared for immediate service. The expedition will be ready to sail at the earliest possible moment.

The expedition will be ready to sail at the earliest possible moment.

The expedition will be ready to sail at the earliest possible moment.