BATTLE.

The Taking of Omdurman.

Khalifa Defeated in a Bloody Battle.

TROOPS GALLANT CHARGE

Tribes Unable to Withstand the Fire of the English.

OMDURMAN, Opposite Khartoum, on the Nile, Nubia, Sept. 2.—(By camel post to Nasri.)—The sirdar, General Herbert Kitchener, with the Khalifa's black standard, captured during the battle, entered Omdurman, the capital of Mahdism, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, at the head of the Anglo-Egyptian column, after completely routing the dervishes and dealing a death blow to Mahdism. Roughly, our losses were 200, while thousands of the dervishes were killed and wounded.

The Anglo-Egyptian army encamped at Azaiza, eight miles from Omdurman. The dervishes were three miles distant. At dawn today the cavalry patrolling toward Omdurman discovered the enemy advancing to the attack in battle array, chanting war songs. Their front consisted of infantry and cavalry, stretched out three or four miles. Countless banners fluttered over their masses, and the copper and brass drums resounded through the ranks of the savage warriors, who advanced unswervingly, with all their old time ardor.

Our infantry formed up outside the camp. On the left were the first battalion Northumberland fusiliers, the second battalion Lancashire fusiliers and the first battalion Grenadier Guards, with the Maxim battery, named by the Royal Irish fusiliers. On our center were the first battalion Warwickshire regiment, the first battalion Cameron Highlanders and the first battalion Lincolnshire regiment, with Maxims, worked by a detachment of the royal artillery, under Major Williams. On our right were the Soudanese brigades, commanded by General Maxwell and General McDonald. The Egyptian brigades held the reserves, and both flanks were supported by Maxim and Nordenfeld batteries.

At 7:20 a. m. the enemy crowded the ridges above the camp and advanced steadily in enveloping formation. At 7:40 our artillery opened fire which was answered by the dervish riflemen. Their attack developed on our left, and in accordance with their traditional tactics, they swept down the hillside, with the design of rushing our flank. But the withering fire maintained for 15 minutes by all our line frustrated the attempt, and the dervishes, balked, swept toward our center, upon which they concentrated a fierce attack.

A large force of horsemen, trying to face a continuous hail of bullets from the Cameron Highlanders and other companies was literally swept away and whose dead strewn the field.

The dervishes planted their standards and determined to die at their side. Thus thousands perished and their bodies were left in heaps on the field.

FAMILY POISONED.

A Similar Case to the Dunning Poisoning Mystery. NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—John Hills, an ice cream dealer, and his wife and sister-in-law, Mary Conlin, have been poisoned by whiskey sent through the mail. The case in many respects is similar to the poisoning of Dunning and Deane.

Mrs. Hills received by mail three small packages, each containing a bottle, bearing a whiskey label. Last night the family drank whiskey and soon all became very sick. The doctors pronounced it a case of poisoning. Mr. Hill and wife are out of danger, but Miss Conlin will probably die.

POPULIST MIDDLE-ROADERS.

National Convention Presided Over by Ignatius Donnelly.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 5.—The national convention of middle-of-road Populists met this afternoon. J. M. Parker, secretary of the reformed press association, strongly advocated independent action by the Populists. Ignatius Donnelly was chosen temporary chairman and made a radical speech. He referred to Grover Cleveland as a traitor to the Populist party.

He was especially severe in denouncing Senator Butler as a man who reached an exalted position by conniving with Republicans for election to the senate, and that now, under instructions from Bryan he was conniving with the Democrats. Donnelly advocated reorganization of the Populist party on the lines of middle-of-the-roader's as indicated in Omaha conference and at Nashville.

The Hawaiian Commission.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—The transport Lakue arrived from Honolulu today bringing the following advice under date of August 22: The Hawaiian commission have got down to work in earnest. Friday and Saturday they held prolonged sessions. The United States transport ship Tacoma, with two hundred horses and mules for Manila arrived last night. Stores of all kinds are arriving rapidly.

Newark Fire.

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 5.—In the fire originating in the Newark Celluloid Works about midnight last night, twenty-five buildings were destroyed with more or less damaged. Fourteen people were burned about the face and arms. The loss is estimated to be $150,000.

RESIGNED.

The Prime Minister of France.

Was Convinced of the Guilt of Dreyfus.

A NEW TRIAL NECESSARY

Great Excitement Prevails in Political Circles.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—M. Cavaignac, minister of war, has resigned. The resignation is due to disagreement with his colleagues, who desire a revision of the Dreyfus case. Thus, a revision of the case seems assured.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—Owing to the resignation of M. Godefroy Cavaignac, of the ministry of war, President Faure returned to Paris, and conferred with M. Dell Casse, minister of foreign affairs; Bourgeois, minister of public education, and General Zurlinden.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—Interviews with Premier Brisson and the late minister of war, Cavaignac says the political situation is affected by the recent developments in the Dreyfus case are printed. Premier Brisson said all the members of the ministry were convinced of the guilt of Dreyfus but the government must consider the change that will come over public opinion. It is the duty of the government to end the excitement, which is paralyzing to the best interests of the country.

Cavaignac said it would be a serious mistake on the part of the government to persist in the present course and he was not willing to participate in such a policy. The newspapers point out Cavaignac's resignation of war portfolio has produced a painful impression in political circles, which while recognizing the fact of the innocence of Dreyfus it has not been proved take ground that a new trial will become necessary.

New Ministry.

PARIS, Sept. 5.—Gen. Seurlinden, the military governor of Paris, has accepted the ministry of war.

Court Martial Ordered.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The navy department has ordered the court martial of Chaplain J. P. McIntire, charged with "using language prejudicial to good order and discipline and conduct unbecoming an officer." Said charges grew out of the statement made by McIntire derogatory to Commodore Sampson and Captain Bob Evans and other officers of the American fleet.

Hospitals Crowded.

WIKOFF, Sept. 5.—The Transport Roumania which arrived yesterday with 600 troops from Santiago was the means of an additional test of the capacity of the hospital in the detention camp. Of 600 men on the Roumania 200 are so sick that they had to be put in the hospital. The officials were obliged to put mattresses on the floor, and it is possible that some may have to lie on the floor several days.

FROM THE PRESIDIO.

G. M. Hunter returns to Tell of Hardship and Death.

This morning's overland brought G. M. Hunter, of Salem, to his home from the camp of the Oregon and Washington troops at the Presidio. Mr. Hunter is crippled with rheumatism and otherwise invalided from the treatment received at Camp Merritt. For weeks he has lain in the hospital in San Francisco suffering from the exposure underwent, since offering himself to the government to uphold the flag and the name of our country. He is pale and emaciated from lack of ordinary comfort and necessary food, and weak and debilitated from the awful experiences he has undergone. When Mr. Hunter enlisted he was in Eastern Oregon and went with the Washington boys, and has been stationed at the Presidio barracks so that he has been in more comfortable quarters than the majority of the soldiers.

Sickness there is rampant and from one to five deaths occur daily as the result of undue exposure and insufficient food. Pneumonia, measles and typhoid fever are doing their deadly work and the brave boys must still suffer and die in a land of plenty and their native home.

Mr. Hunter saw the Salem boys and reports them doing as well as could be expected under the conditions in which they are living. They have a comparatively good camping ground and are making the most of the situation. Mr. Hunter says there have been three or four deaths among the boys but is not positive about the number and does not know who they were.

The food is not of good quality nor of good quantity nor have they suitable places in which to prepare it, although the recruits at Camp Merritt are suffering unnecessary hardships on account of some persons in difference or neglect. The troops will be mustered out and return to their homes in a few weeks some of them having already departed.

AT MARION COURT HOUSE.

Herman Stark, of Portland, an epileptic patient, who has been temporarily at the Salem hospital, was this morning transferred to the asylum, and will be formally committed to that institution tomorrow, this being a legal holiday.

Minnie A. McCauley-Cullen, guardian of Newtonia H. McCauley and Alice McCauley, minors, Saturday brought action against Annie M. I. McCormick and J. A. McCormick to foreclose a mortgage held by the plaintiff upon the property of defendants, in block No. 29, being a strip 21.27 feet wide, fronting on State street and adjoining the store of M. T. Rineman on the east. The mortgage was given on January 31, 1898, to secure a note for $1,400. The plaintiff asks for judgment for the amount of the note and interest, and for $100 attorneys' fees. G. G. Bingham is attorney for the plaintiffs.

Sheriff F. W. Durbin Saturday conducted three execution sales of property involved in suits decided in the circuit court, as follows: In the case of James McCrow, plaintiff, vs. G. F. and Jane M. Long, defendants, a fraction of a block south of block No. 71, Salem, purchased by John McCrow for $100; the judgment and costs against the property amounted to $427.

In the case of A. J. Basey and May B. Willard, co-executors of the will of J. J. Basey, deceased, plaintiffs, vs. Benjamin Vinecke et al., defendants, 70.51 acres in sections 20 and 21, T. 8 S., R. 3 E., purchased by the plaintiffs for $1,310, the amount of the judgment. In the case of Mary A. Whitney, executrix, plaintiff, vs. C. A. Roberts et al., defendants, lot No. 7, in block No. 10, Salem, sold to plaintiff for the amount of the judgment, $1,287.02.

H. L. Bancroft, Eugene Remington and Jason Doud, appraisers of the estate of H. A. Hall, an insane person, filed their inventory and appraisal Saturday, showing real estate valued at $401.50, and a note for $750, on which $611 has been paid, the note being given in payment of a tract of land near Woodburn, a bond for a deed for which having been given.

In Police Court.

John Doe was arrested for indecent exposure Sunday, and will be released tomorrow. He was dead drunk and knows nothing of what took place on the day of his arrest.

A man named Wilson arrested Sunday for drunkenness by Officers Townsend and Johnson. He was a little boisterous and was pretty roughly handled before being landed in jail. He will be given five days in the city jail by Recorder Edes in the morning.

Two Business Moves.

Osborne's Racket store will move his business into the store recently vacated by Will's Music store, and the Yokohama Tea store will move into the place vacated by Mr. Osborn.

THE AMET.

Edison's Wonderful New Invention in Salem.

The exhibition of the great Edison Amet, at the opera house Saturday night, was attended by a large and attentive audience of at least one hundred different people. That is, they were different for the first half hour, during the showman's decidedly thrilling encounter with his gas machine. After that many became indifferent. The long struggle between the exhibitor and his "Amet" was not so interesting, from the fact that the Amet had decidedly the best of it all the way through.

It seemed to be a machine with a mind of its own, and it sauntered along with a soothing deliberation, spurred with lightning-like rapidity or stopped altogether, just according to the vagaries of its own sweet will. This lent a charming variety to the entertainment and rendered many of the scenes decidedly unique. For instance no one ever before saw a cayuse buck with such calm indifference to the passage of time, as did the one in the scene portrayed. No one will ever again witness a lapse of the laws of gravitation, so that a galloping horse may remain suspended in the air for such a length of time, while he carefully and unhurriedly gathers up his feet, counts them and makes sure that they are all there, brings them leisurely forward and, after mature deliberation as to how he would rather have them placed, when in the fullness of time he again shall reach the ground, eventually gets things to suit him, and once more comes to a short rest on terra firma.

The bull fight also was a curiosity, more particularly because it had been made up by pasting together fragments of the films from six or eight different fights. When you are watching a large black bull, standing close by and bidding defiance to a villainous looking Spaniard, and he is instantaneously transformed into a small, red and white bull, away over on the farther side of an altogether different arena, lumbering slowly along, in uninterested pursuit of an altogether different Dago, the effect is decidedly novel, to say the least. However, there was one section of this film which was evidently intended for much stouter reproduction, and this brought up the average around the arena with such astonishing celerity that the unaided eye couldn't distinguish what he was, except during the momentary pause, when he rammed a horse up against the fence.

There is another interesting thing in connection with the "Amet." It has a habit of rearing back a little and raising the scene until the upper half thereof disappears above but takes its position below. This seems to be something new.

The graphophone deserves especial attention, and if the audience had been provided with bricks it would have been the recipient thereof, at the time. The genuine magic lantern show, of which the entertainment largely consists also contains some scenes nearly as good as you see in the shop windows, particularly the portraits which were announced as "General" Sampson and "General Slay."

But space forbids the extended review we would like to give because the showman agreed to buy a hundred copies of THE JOURNAL, would give him a good write-up.

A RED HOT ELECTION.

Trouble and Whiskey Plentiful in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 5.—The state election is in progress in Arkansas today. The weather conditions favor a large vote. In Crawford county the fight between the Democrats and Republicans is very bitter. It is alleged that whiskey in large quantities has been distributed by both sides and trouble is looked for.

The rivalry in Garland county is interesting. Bodies of friends of the opposing candidates are stationed at every polling place in the county to prevent fraudulent voting. Situation in Jefferson over the race for sheriff is such as to cause feelings of apprehension.

When Ague Shakes You

you can shake the Ague by using AYER'S AGUE CURE. It is the one certain and infallible cure for that debilitating disease. It has been tried in many countries and under various conditions, and has never been known to fail. An old veteran writes:—

"You may be interested to know my experience many years ago with Ayer's Ague Cure. The year before the war I was in Kansas. Some twenty of us were engaged in farming, and suddenly all were taken with fever and ague. We tried almost everything but nothing any help, till at last I sent to the city and procured a bottle of Ayer's Ague Cure. I recovered at once. The others followed my example, and they, too, recovered. Every one in camp took the remedy and was cured by it. I went all through the war, have lived in thirteen different states of the Union, and have never had the ague since."
