

LITTLE

PALOMA

SCHRAMM
THE WONDERFUL CHILD
PIANISTE AND COMPOSER

IS COMING

AT METHODIST CHURCH.

Reserved Seats, 75 Cents at Dearborn's. Monday Evening, Oct. 3.

Management Sam. C. Partridge, San Francisco.

Memorial

To the House of Representatives and Senate:

We, the hop pickers and the laborers of the fruit orchards and gardens, and the tillers of the soil, and the mechanics, and the typewriters, memorialize your honorable body to enact laws such as will compel all the merchants in Salem and vicinity to sell all their wares as cheap as they can be bought at

FRIEDMAN'S

For it is a fact that Friedman sells Clothing, Hats, Trunks and Valises at 30 per cent cheaper than any other house in Salem. Dry Goods, Laces and Embroideries, Neckwear, Handkerchiefs, Sox, Umbrellas, Mackintoshes and Rubber Goods. But we are compelled to go to Friedman's because He sells from 25 to 40 per cent cheaper than the rest.

We would further memorialize your honorable body that you will not give your votes to elect Friedman for U. S. senator as it would leave this community in the hand of monopoly merchants. Hoping you will give this memorial your honest attention, for which we, as citizens of this community, will ever pray.

One More Day.

One more day of the State Fair has passed and its success is assured, and the public have thronged Geo. Bros. restaurant every day to get those famous 15c meals.

MUSICAL NOTES.

(Written for The Journal.)

Three of the leading singers in Sir Arthur Sullivan's new opera, "The Beauty Stone," are American. Miss Pauline Joran and Messrs. Devoll and Isham.

One-third of the pupils in the Stuttgart conservatory are studying music with the idea of entering the profession. Twenty-seven of them are Americans.

The oldest chair of music is that of Gresham college, London (England) founded in 1575. Sir J. Frederick Bridge, organist of Westminster Abbey, is the professor of music in this college.

A Paris correspondent says: "Americans should sing Italian in France and French in Italy. The criticism through which they pass in Paris (behind their backs) is something scathing."

A composer who devotes himself to sacred music, and ties himself down to the rigid forms at demands, forgoes the applause of the many; but both he and his art gain a hundredfold by this self denial. He who can build a church can build houses, with greater ease, and to him who has accomplished an oratorio forms of music will be as child's play.—R. Schumann.

It may not be known that Madam Belle-Cole, a favorite singer on the English concert and oratorio stage is an American. She is one of a large number of our singers who have made successes in England.

A German contemporary "Die Kammermusik," prints an account of some experiments in making violins of clay. The instruments are said to possess a sweet, yet powerful, tone, and to speak very powerful. They are on exhibition in Berlin.

The W. C. T. U. Work.

At the W. C. T. U. hall Sunday the Rev. Williams spoke to an appreciative audience from the Prophecy of Malacia 3 chapter 9 verse. "Ye are cursed with a curse." Rev. Williams said many things which the JOURNAL reporter took special notice of and which if heeded would better the condition of society. Among them we quote the following: "The minister of the Gospel who surrenders his right to speak against the liquor traffic and kindred evils puts himself under the ban of suspicion" and he went on to say further: "The government that fails to recognize the higher government ought to cease to exist," the speaker enlarging on the expressions and going deeper into his subject again said: "The minister who fails to cross the path of the evil doer and law breakers and call down the anathemas of such on his pate, puts himself under the ban of suspicion." Rev. Williams is pastor of the United Brethren church of this city and as a speaker has a powerful voice which he uses to express his conviction fearlessly and conscientiously. The meeting closed with some special music by Mrs. C. M. Charlton, who occasionally consents to sing for this meeting from the W. C. T. U. song book "White Ribbon Vibration" Rev. Dollarhide will speak at the same place next Sunday and we bespeak for him a good audience.

DIED.

DIECKMAN.—At the family home in Ankeny Bottom, near Sydney, Oregon, on Monday, September 26, 1898, Frank Dieckman aged 78 years. The funeral will be held from the family home at 12 m today, Rev. Daly of the St. Josephs Catholic church officiating. Interment will be had at the Catholic cemetery.

A Hungry Chinaman.

A hungry Chinaman would go to some noodle joint to break his fast, but the elite of Salem all go to Strong's restaurant for the 25c meals he serves.

A Mysterious Murder.

Any kind of a murder may be committed in Salem and the murderer escape but a man never can smoke a 10c La Corona cigar and withstand the temptation to smoke another one.

A Sick Stomach.

A sick stomach makes a man unfit for duty but those 25c meals you get at Strong's are a panacea for that hungry feeling.

The President of the Senate.

Joseph Simon may be elected president of the senate but the La Corona 10c cigar is the king of smokers.

A New One.

All the people get tired of old jokes but if the people of this city will eat at Strong's they will be so happy they can stand them.

Yes, I smoke, and to make sure that I will enjoy the cigar, I buy those five cent ones made at the Capital Cigar Store 10 1/2 State street, Salem, O. F. R. Weider. 9-23 dayf.

Trained Dogs.

The German army dogs are trained when they find a dead body to set up a prolonged howling. If no one comes, they take the dead man's cap or some small article and with this in their teeth go on a hunt for their trainer, whom they lead to the spot. If the man is wounded, he gives his cap to the dog and the same object is accomplished.

A Shan princess has written the following letter to the medical officer in charge of one of the cantonments in the Shan states: "Kindly supply me the undermentioned medicines by bearer, as I am unwell, being fell down from elephant, and oblige. One does of smelling salt, one does for curing headache, one does for curing the pain at neck."

Dr. Sheldon Jackson, superintendent of government schools in Alaska, denies the report that the reindeer brought to the territory have starved. A large herd has reached the most growing region away from the coast and are doing well. Moreover, the Laplanders who came with them propose to bring herds of their own and embark in the business of raising reindeer for sale and for use in transportation.

Hemp is of antique origin, for it was used by the Egyptians at least 500 years before the Christian era. It grows wild in India and many parts of our own land, and it was known to the Chinese thousands of years ago. The Romans were familiar with the use of hemp for sails and cordage. India and Persia is the native home of hemp, and it is cultivated in the United States in Kentucky, Illinois, Nebraska and Missouri. Recently California has become interested in its growth, and in that state it often reaches a height of 15 or 20 feet.

A Warm Stove.

On these cool mornings a warm stove is a luxury but no more so than those famous 15c meals at George Bros. restaurant.

A Deaf Legislator.

A deaf legislator would be a man out of place, but even he would know that that the 5c Little Champion cigar made by A. Hucenstein are the best.
