The Republican Caucus

Finding themselves without a candidate for U. S. senator on account of Friedman withdrawing of his name from the senatorial contest. His reason was that should he be elected senator he couldn't sell his mackintoshes, rubber boots and shoes, his clothing, hats, dry goods, laces, ladies' and gents' furnishing goods. As it is you can purchase all the above lines of goods from Friedman; where you will save from 25 to 40 percent, than if purchased elsewhere. Remember the place, corner State and Commercial.

There will be on exhibition in Friedman's window for 10 days a crocheted spread and a pair of pillow shams made of No. 80, Harbour's Linen thread

THIRD BALLOT

No Result on U. S. Senator.

The Silly Old R. R. Commission Killed.

Gathering of Federal Officials Grows More Imposing.

Senator Daly's bill, abolishing the board of railroad commissioner, was put through the house with a celerity and unanimity which showed that the members were determined to redeem at least that pre-election pledge with the least possible delay. Only three Republicans, Moody, Young and Myers were absent.

The people of Oregon should congratulate themselves upon the abolition of this most useless of all commissions. Then they should arise en masse and extend thanks to Senator Bernard Daly, of Lake county, one of the 24 opposition members who were more than willing to see the old rotten commission go. The legislature should now refuse to appropriate a dollar for its services the last four years.

In the senate, Dr. Kuykendall's bill to make a property qualification of $100 was defeated because Senator Mulkey showed it would prevent parents having children to educate from voting, in contravention of fundamental law. A new bill will have to be prepared.

This is the third day of balloting for U. S. Senator and the eleventh day of the special session. At Wednesday's session it was the intention of the 24 Union members to vote solidly for Waldo, but by error two voted for Bennett.

The lobby of federal office holders at Salem continues powerful. Nearly all are against dark horses but several of them are known to be grooming dark horses of their own.

Collector of Customs Patterson, better known as "Coralan" like, slips into Salem on the evening train and out on the morning train, but while here is actively engaged in blocking the election of a senator. This is a display of political perfidious activity which under Cleveland would have dumped his head in the political waste basket long ago.

Bankers from different sections of the state are joining in the fray and are nearly all for Corbett, except those in touch with the state treasury, which is under McBride's magic influence.

INDIAN WAR

Trouble in Minnesota Serious.

Every Man In Walker Has a Winchester.

EIGHTY REGULARS KILLED

The Third Expedition of Soldiers Start For the Scene.

General Baker's Third Infantry Detachment Probably Entirely Wiped Out.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—A staff correspondent of the Minneapolis Journal wires at 8:30 this morning from Walker that the entire force of eighty men under General Baker was annihilated. He says: "I do not know whether inspector Tinker has more information than I, but he sent word to the war department last night that the third infantry detachment was wiped out. I got in very late from the expedition on the Flora. We started out to carry supplies and rations to the troops. It was very dark off shore. We signalled for an hour. Corporal Nettlekoven used the code in use at Santiago. Either the troops had been driven inland or not a man was left. No answering signal of any sort was received."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Commissioner Indian Affairs, Jones today received the following dispatch from Indian agent Sutherland, at Walker, Minn. "The trouble at Leech Lake originated in arrests made by a deputy United States marshal of Indians on a warrant. The Indians overpowered the marshal and rescued the prisoners. Troops were sent to assist the marshal in arresting the rescuers. I have been here a week doing my best to get the Indians to give themselves up, but they would not. Today the troops and Indians had several battles."

War department up to 11 o'clock today received no dispatch bearing on the Indian outbreak. Adjutant general Corbin expressed doubt that there had been any serious loss of life to troops.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 5.—Special to the Journal from Walker says the third expedition has just started. There are 15 rifle men on board. The boat carries coffee and provisions. Every man in town slept with a Winchester across his arm. There was desultory firing from the headlands about town all night. There were two hundred men under arms here.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—A special train left for Fort Snelling this morning under command of Lieutenant Colonel Harbach of the third infantry. It will be rushed to the front but cannot reach Walker before 2 o'clock. There are two hundred men under arms here.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—A Walker special says that firing was resumed on the mainland at 9 o'clock. A dispatch boat has just returned from the battle ground. There has been desperate fighting all the morning.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 6.—A special to the Journal from Walker says Major Wilkinson, six privates and one Indian policeman are dead. Colonel Sheehan was slightly wounded, Thirty Indians are dead.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Indian inspector Tinker and other wires the interior department: "I have not heard of Bacon's force. Don't know where they are."

WALKER, MINN., Oct. 6.—The Pillager and other neighboring Indians of the White earth reservation claim to have many reasons for their present outbreak, although the direct trouble with the Pillagers comes from attempt to bring in some of the Indians to the United States courts at Duluth in connection with liquor-selling cases. Their grievances go back through many years, and there have been legitimate and other attempts to settle them, one of the latest being the Nelson law regarding the sale of timber on the Indian lands. However, the Indians claimed that the method of disposing of this was both cumbersome and expensive, and that they were the sufferers. The first dispatch to Secretary Bliss was as follows: "Secretary of the interior, Washington: The Indians 25 miles from here, on the mainland, near North Bear island, opened fire on the troops under command of General Bacon without warning, this morning at 11:30. I fear the army in the field is not strong enough to subdue the Bear island Indians. How many are hurt on their side I cannot now tell. A large force should be sent here at once. It is now war, and the government must protect the people. I have a slight scratch on the arm and left leg. Please wire me instructions."

A terrific battle was fought 30 miles from Walker, at Bog Ah Me Ge Shig's place, close to Bear island. The detachment of 100 men under General Bacon was landed on the point shortly after 8 a. m. The landing was affected with considerable difficulty owing to the high sea. After landing, a sortie in the bush was made in all directions. The soldiers went through the thick undergrowth very carefully, and with every precaution taken against ambush. No Indians were seen until nearly 11 o'clock. The men were then ordered to line up in an open place near the shore of the lake, charges were drawn and preparations made for dinner.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 6, 2 p. m.—The Journal boat brought out H. S. Talman, deputy marshal and Colonel Sheehan. Sheehan is shot in the abdomen. While the boat was transferring the wounded men he was fired on from the brush. This was the signal for immediate re-opening of hostilities. The troops opened on Indians and in a second there was as fierce fighting in progress as that of yesterday. The firing became so hot that we were compelled to weigh anchor and steam into the lake. Bacon's command was too small to take the aggressive. The detachment is entrenched in a good position and can hold out as long as ammunition lasts. Major Wilkinson was shot and killed while admonishing the men keep their heads low. The fight is not half over. The biggest battle remains to be fought.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Secretary Bliss has telephoned the war department that he had received a dispatch from Tinker at Walker in which he stated that a boat, just arrived from the scene of battle. Major Wilkinson one sergeant, and four privates were killed, a deputy marshal wounded and an Indian policeman killed. Two hundred troops on the way to the battle field are not enough. The department has ordered additional troops to start immediately.

Majority Increasing. BOSTON, Oct. 6.—The state convention of the Republican party was held here today. Governor Wolcott was unanimously renominated.
