LEAD LOCK

Over the Appropriation Bill.

Many Claims Reduced in the Senate.

The House Continues its Excellent Organization.

The senate committee of the whole Friday evening took charge of the appropriation bill. Senator Mitchell called to the chair.

The first item cut off was that for $300 attorney fee of F. V. Drake, which was later reinstated.

The standing order for 500 copies of supreme court reports was reduced to 150.

$1080 was taken out of capital and grounds repairs item.

Railroad commissioners item reduced $3,052.87.

The Ashland normal school $15,000 was killed.

$3300 was taken off the board of equalization claim.

John Muller's claim of $10,340, attorney fees, was killed.

John Hall's similar claim was cut from $6,896.89 to $500.

For over an hour the senate wrangled over the item for pay of "hold up" legislature and then some brilliant speeches were made on the subject, but after all the wind work the bill left the senate just about as it came there, providing that each member of the senate and house shall receive only five days' salary and mileage, that officers of both houses shall receive full pay. The history of the "hold-up" was all rehearsed in this controversy.

A resolution, or "rider" was offered by Senator Mulkey, limiting printing for fairs, and taking abstract of state warrants from all state reports, was adopted.

SENATE—SATURDAY A. M.
Opened with prayer by Dr. Driver.

The senate concurred in the house resolution providing for 500 copies of the state fish and game laws.

Senator Simon presented his resignation as president of the senate, the same to go into effect upon the election and qualification of his successor; accepted.

Senators T. C. Taylor and B. Daly were placed in nomination for president of the senate, each candidate receiving a full party vote. Mr. Taylor was declared elected. Senators Howe and Morrow were appointed to invite one of the supreme judges to administer the oath of office to the newly elected president. Thereupon Chief Justice C. E. Wolvortzen appeared and administered the oath, and President Taylor took his seat.

S. R. No. 14, by Brownwell—asking the re-election of all its present officers to serve at the regular session. Mr. Fulton objected to the resolution, owing to the precedent it might create, and moved that the same be tabled. On a rising vote the motion to table carried.

A memorial by Porter, to the supreme court and attorney general of the U. S., urging the making of a title to lands under grant to California and Oregon railroad, was adopted.

H. B. 61—To pay bounty on beet sugar, was read first time and indefinitely postponed upon motion of Senator Reed.

H. B. No. 16, providing for destruction of old examination papers by county superintendents was read twice and referred.

H. B. 67, to fix boundary lines of Union and Wagon creeks, was passed.

H. C. R. No. 2, was taken from table to give committee on investigation of the penitentiary power to continue under the regular session, an amendment providing that no expense should be incurred by any committees during the interim between sessions unless otherwise ordered by the senate.

H. B. No. 10, to protect sturgeon in the Columbia river, passed.

H. B. 41, providing that doors of all public buildings, such as churches.

CONFERENCE REPORT

Final Agreement Before the Adjournment of the Legislature.
Recommendations following action in matters disagreed upon:
Publication of five hundred volumes of supreme court reports instead of 150.

Railroad commission appropriation raised to $18,900.

The senate is sustained in the Mullen claim, the Hall claim, and the Ashland Normal school appropriation of $15,000. Referred to Ways and Means committee regular session.

Appropriation to improve legislature hall refused.

State Printer is ordered to insert abstract of warrants in reports.
House sustained in giving all members of holdup legislature full pay.

House adopted conference report and adjourned upon governor signing the bill.
Senate adopted above conference report and voted for a final adjournment at 4:15.

opera, houses, etc. shall open to the outside. Passed.

HOUSE PROCEEDINGS.

By Curtis—Authorizing the secretary of state to have printed 1000 copies of the fishing laws for use by the fishermen of the state. Adopted.

H. B. No. 42—Recommending that the house officers be retained for the regular session. Adopted.

H. B. No. 42—To provide for the reimbursement of the commission on Omaha exhibition; with senate amendment from $18,000 to $15,000.

There was a protest from McCulloch against the resolution for printing 1000 copies of the fishing laws. He thought that the fishermen had no more right to be furnished with free copies of the law than any other class of citizens, that the lawyers were as much entitled to free copies of the laws as the fishermen were.

After some discussion, a vote was taken and the resolution passed by one vote. Then reconsideration was moved by Reader. Moody stated that these laws would make but a small pamphlet, and the expense would be about $108. He moved reconsideration and the resolution was adopted by a vote of 26 to 20.

The appropriation bill came to the house about 9:30 and the house went into committee of the whole for its consideration, with Moody, of Multnomah in the chair.

The house concurred in the senate amendments with the exception of the following: Cutting down the number of copies of session laws to be printed, from 500 to 150; striking out of the appropriation of $15,000 for the Ashland normal school; cutting down the item of $6,896.89, for John H. Hall, to $500; cutting the appropriation for members and officers of the 19th biennial session from $8,000 to $1,000; the amount being raised to 40,000, for full pay of all members elected; providing that the secretary of state shall publish no list of state warrants drawn; amendment instructing the secretary of state to have plans and specifications drawn for improvement of the hall, and appropriating $500; amended to have the improvements made and appropriating $6000.

The main discussion was confined to three of the senate amendments.

On striking out the appropriation for the Ashland normal school.

Carter pleaded for courteous consideration of the matter. He understood that the senate took just 150 seconds to strike out this appropriation. Asked the house to at least consider the matter.

Robert Cummings, Whalley, Flagg, McQueen, in favor of the item, and Morton, Wilson, Williamson opposed.

On John H. Hall's fee of $6,896.89 reduction to $500. Flagg advocated for fairs, and taking abstract of state warrants from all state reports, was adopted.

When the amendment cutting down the appropriation from $38,000 to $31,000, and providing that no member of the house should receive anything for more than 70 days, was reached, the discussion became general.

Flagg raised the constitutional provision that members should receive pay for only five days in case the house does not organize.

Whalley did not want to rake open old scores, and did not think that the house should consider the constitutional provision, but should provide full pay for all members and leave it to their consciences whether they would take it or not.

Hill received his position and experience at the time of the hold-up. Wanted all the members paid or none at all. After much discussion, the amendment for full pay for every one connected with the 19th biennial session was adopted, and the bill was sent back to the senate.

At 11:15 a recess was taken until 12.

SENATE.
H. B. 20, Salem charter bill, passed.

H. B. 15, regulating teachers' examinations and disposition of papers, passed.

A CONFERENCE APPOINTED.
The appropriation bill was at this juncture brought from the house. Reed moved that the senate refuse to concur in the house amendments. Fulton asked for division of question in so far as it applied to claim of John Hall. Agreed.

The motion to so refuse to concur was lost. Mr. Simon branded the Hall claim as a "krait, pure and simple." This was represented by Fulton and a serious debate followed.

Reed moved a conference committee of two senators and two representatives. Carried. Reed and Mackay were appointed on behalf of the senate.

The closing hours of the special session are attended with great excitement. So far the legislation has made a pretty fair record. Governor Lord was seen this afternoon and declared that he was in the best of day session more good legislation and less bad measures had been put through than at any previous session of the legislature. The governor has thus far received no bill that requires use of the veto power.

Speaker Carter named Representatives Moody and Curtis as members of the joint conference committees on appropriation.

Representative Flagg of Marion wishes us to correct the report that he voted for full pay of the members of the last legislature. He voted and spoke for five days pay, and no more.

Both houses adjourned to 3, p. m.

INDICTMENTS.

tion of the result was for some reason withheld. Monday, June 13, the official returns from the several counties in the district gave Mr. Boise the majority of 34. This was on the basis of giving Mr. Boise 177 plurality in Marion county. Saturday, June 11, it was announced that Mr. D'Arcy had a small majority over Mr. Boise in the district, but that the official vote of Marion county would not be announced until Monday, June 13. Mr. D'Arcy claimed an error of 38 in Lincoln county which would give him the district by four votes. Monday June 13, a canvass of the official vote in Marion county was begun. Tuesday June 14th Mr. D'Arcy filed a return statement with County Clerk Ehlen asking that the election board "carefully compare the sheets, with the figures set down and that he and Boise each have a representative present." Judge Boise replied in THE JOURNAL that the tally sheets from the precincts could only be opened on an order of court. If they have been opened in any other way some one has committed a penitentiary offense punishable with three years imprisonment.

June 20, it was announced that the Woodburn tally sheet was missing and the County Clerk, Ehlen, had left the city. It was also found that 40 tallies had been so added in the Huttoville, Mt. Angel and Monitor precinct tally sheets, in the custody of the clerk, as to give the election, if these tallies were counted, to Mr. D'Arcy by a plurality of 4 over Mr. Boise.

The board of canvassers finally decided to accept the totals in figures on the tally sheets as originally returned from the precincts, giving Mr. Boise the election by 34 plurality, ignoring the 40 additional tallies upon which Mr. D'Arcy claimed the election.

Mr. D'Arcy began a contest in the circuit court, but the investigation in the several counties revealed no errors in his favor, and the contest was decided in favor of Judge Boise.

THE JOURNAL, June 27 published a partial confession from Justice Hayes of his connection with the affair.

Tuesday June 28 Judge Boise filed a criminal information before Justice Johnson at Salem against L. V. Ehlen, S. T. Richardson, J. A. Carson and P. H. D'Arcy. After a hearing, in which a conspiracy to tamper with the returns was very clearly established, Justice Johnson discharged the defendants for want of sufficient evidence to warrant him in binding over any particular one of them.

This completes the history of the case up to the present indictments found by the grand jury.
