REFORM REJOICES

The McBride Push Has the Last Pins Knocked Out From Under.

Salem Has But One Ambition—To Be the Best Governed City on the Pacific Coast.

There is great rejoicing among all but the Republican push over the result of the city election. It became known early in the afternoon that the Citizens' ticket was to the lead and by 6 o'clock Mayor-elect Chas. P. Bishop was receiving congratulations from a constant stream of visitors at his store.

At 7 o'clock crowds of volunteer workers for the citizens ticket were thronging the headquarters at M. W. Hunt's office congratulating the Independent Republican leaders and members of the Union committee for their magnificent victory. At 8 o'clock the crowd started with cheers for Mr. Bishop's office and gave him an official notification of their appreciation of his running qualities, which he appreciated by setting up a couple of boxes of cigars. There was no speech-making but the crowd that gathered thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

One great weakness of the Republican fight was the discords among the leading elements. They were not united and harmonious, while the opposition had eliminated all friction and presented a ticket of strong clean men. The Republicans had almost no workers except city, county and federal office holders.

The result of the election is far reaching in state politics, as it means the downfall of the McBride-Mitchell combination. Without the city of Salem government, police and fire department back of them, there is not a McBride delegation in the next state convention or legislature.

Without Marion for trading stock McBride can accomplish nothing. Multnomah is against him. Without Marion he cannot conduct operations even if Clatsop and Columbia are for him. The people of Salem and Marion county understand this, and this city election removes all doubt about McBride's getting a second term.

Salem can now slough off an expensive "push" that has been neither enterprising nor progressive, except in bad speculation and personal plundering of the public. The city has been allowed to be run "wide open," while grafters and bootleggers have plucked and plundered the perpetrators of offenses against the community.

With a clean business city government, with an honest, economical administration, with all service for the city rendered in open competition and with all officials and employees paid upon merit and for actual services rendered. Salem will go forward in an era of order, peaceful and progressive municipal government.

The new city government should purge itself of all the rotteness and extravagance of the past. No appointments should be made as a reward for political service. The reputation of being the best governed city on the Pacific coast should be the proudest boast of our city. It will take several years to gain that reputation, but it is worth striving for.

Horse Shot.

One day last week some one without conscience shot and killed a horse belonging to E. Kinsey in the Waldo hills. The animal was very much needed by the family, and whether done through malice or by carelessness the perpetrator should be brought to justice.

Catholic Fair Tonight.

The Catholic Fair will gracefully open this evening at 8 o'clock by Mr. Claud Gatch ex-mayor. He will deliver an address appropriate to the occasion. The program of the evening is by the young ladies of the Academy. It will be worth hearing and seeing. In every sense artistic. A supper table will be well provided with all things to satisfy the most rampant appetites and the most refined tastes. The Hall is a veritable fairyland. Admission free. Come early.

JOURNAL "X-RAYS."

The price of grass seed has fallen.

Fourth terms are not popular anywhere.

The first hard frost fell last night for several years.

THE JOURNAL believes in steady, all-the-year-around work.

Will Gray was too good a man to be buried under a snow drift.

Ed. Edes got a big vote for a man running for a fourth term.

The push has nothing left to bleed now but the poor old state fair.

There was a great demand for Alaskan snowshoes this morning.

Geo. Grab has the deputy tax collecting left and the state stove works job.

Even Claud Gatch's name could no longer be used to conjure with by the gang.

The number of two-biters, who really put on a great deal of style in the world, is quite large.

Messrs. Chamberlin, Hunt, Cusick, Boothby and Pearce did the job up brown for the Republicans.

Why shouldn't the Illinee club be required to pay a city license? It seems to be doing a good business.

It didn't hurt the two Silver county chairmen, John Bayne and W. T. Rigdon, to be abused for their support of the citizen's movement.

Alderman Buren was the happiest man in town last night. He will not be so lonesome in the council hereafter.

Collector Ike and Collector George Grab have both got fat jobs, and the party is d—d. That's scientific politics.

Frank Durbin is a sheriff for all the people. He and his deputies arrested illegal voters right and left Monday.

George Grab has used the party to make himself attorney for the public in general, but there isn't much left of HIS party.

It was not the "straight" Republicans the people had the avalanche of their frozen wrath in store for. It was the crooked fellows.

Mr. Jack D'Arcy, you will, of course, be asked to resign from the Union city committee, and some man named who is not quite so close to the Patterson-Bingham push!

Chairman Strout and Messrs. Steiner, Palmer and McAtee of the Union committee deserves the thanks of all the people of Salem for their services in downing the rig.

Alderman Lawrence was one man who did not break his neck to buck the popular tide. He was busy all day selling groceries, and in the evening called on the mayor-elect.

A great many smaller sums have been paid in. There are able lawyers who say there is no law to pay any commission on the collection of these delinquent taxes and that Mr. Ringham's bill will have to be allowed as attorney fees.

The county court undoubtedly acted in good faith in letting out this job, although the sheriff could collect these taxes without further expense to the county. If that is the law some taxpayer should enjoy the county court from paying Mr. Bingham any commission beyond the actual expense of clerical services incurred in sending out the notices.

I will now sell all trimmed and untrimmed hats at cost. Miss Smith State street. 12-5-19*

TWO MARRIED MEN

The Funniest Farce Comedy of the Season

PRICES, 50c and 75c.

A push Democrat, a push Republican and a push policeman formed a highly interesting trio on a Salem crossing Sunday morning. It was an effective political object lesson.

Ed. Edes says the people of Salem have always treated him well, and he feels just as grateful to them as if they had given him a fourth term. Though he would have preferred the latter, he has no kick coming.

The Salem JOURNAL advises Christians to resort more to prayer and less to law courts. THE JOURNAL is doing its best to get even with Lawyer Bingham.—EX.

It is Mr. Bingham who is carrying on the litigation to secure an injunction and have a receiver appointed. THE JOURNAL's prayers are heard.

Old Californians always make fun of "Our Oregon, Sweet Oregon" on account of the rain that is frequently seen here in the winter months, and sometimes other months. But just now down in a good many places in their own state they are having a hard time of it to get through the winter, or even the first part of it, because of the lack of this moisture. From their Capital itself comes up a cry of want. Better get some webs on your feet if you would prosper.

Rev. Mr. Copeland gave his lecture to an appreciative audience at the Congregational church last night. He set out his theory that roughly each five hundred years there has been a decided advance in civilization. The first was the Greek literature; the second began with the dispersion of Jews in A. D. 70, the preaching of Christianity and the Jewish idea of home life. Rev. Mr. Copeland is a forcible speaker. He is an optimist and believes that all these movements have been directed by the Eternal Father. The price of the power of the air will, he believes, take a part in that uplift.—Albany Herald.

Rev. Copeland is liberal. He would give even the devil a share in the progress of the world.

TAX COLLECTION FEES.

Bill for Commissions on Delinquent Taxes Collected.

At the December meeting of the Marion county court will come up the first bill of Geo. G. Bingham as delinquent tax collector. He has collected upwards of two thousand dollars at 15 and 20 per cent commission.

Nearly all of it is of the taxes due for 1896. Notices for the delinquents of 1896 have not been out long and not much has come in. Very little attention is paid to Mr. Bingham's duns for taxes back of 1896.

Following are some of the taxpayers contributing to Mr. Bingham, these sums being all against real estates and would have been paid as quickly as notified by the sheriff. Opposite each sum is the commission and amount Mr. Bingham is to receive:
