

Any Girl Can Tell

A physician who makes the test and is honest about it can tell you that, in many cases, the number of red corpuscles in the blood is doubled after a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

That this means good blood may not be entirely clear from the doctor's statement, but any girl who has tried the pills can tell you that it means red lips, bright eyes, good appetite, absence of headache, and that it transforms the pale and sallow girl into a maiden who glows with the beauty which perfect health alone can give.

Mothers whose daughters grow debilitated as they pass from girlhood into womanhood should not neglect the pill best adapted for this particular ailment.

Frank B. Trout, of 103 Orchard Ave., Detroit, Mich., says: "At the age of thirteen we had to take our daughter from school on account of ill health. She weighed only 25 pounds, was pale and sallow and the doctors said she had anemia. Finally we gave her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. When she had taken two boxes she was strong enough to leave her bed, and in less than six months was something like herself. Today she is entirely cured, and is a big, strong, healthy girl, weighing 120 pounds, and has never had a sick day since."—Detroit Evening News.

The genuine Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are sold only in packages, the wrapper always bearing the full name. At all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N.Y., 50¢ per box.

THE MEDICAL BILL.

Alfred Holman writes in the Oregonian as follows: Senator Joseph has introduced a bill to regulate the practice of medicine, which, in its purpose to suppress the quackery of "Christian science"—curiously misnamed, since it is neither Christianity nor science—will find general approval. However, in order to get at the self-styled "scientists," it provides that...

THE SHADOW OF EVIL.

Portland Telegram, evening edition of the Portland newspaper trust, has this:

A perfect mania for the forming of trusts has suddenly taken possession of the industrial world in this country. These trusts are not formed only of manufactured products, but ironical combinations are also formed for the monopolistic control of raw materials. Such trusts are not formed for the benefit of the people, it is unnecessary to say. They are created for the sole purpose of controlling the markets and raising prices in the interest of the "ring." Were the operatives employed in the industries comprising these trusts to receive a proportionate increase of wages, there might possibly be a shadow of an excuse for the existence of such "rings." But the fact is that none but the moneyed members of these gigantic corporations derive a particle of advantage from them. Trusts are a menace to the peace, order and well-being of the greatest number, and if they are not soon strangled by iron-clad laws which strip pettifogging lawyers cannot set aside in corrupt courts, there is more trouble in store for this country. It is not only in monarchical countries where the people arise in their might and anger to demand fair treatment, such an event is not impossible in a great republic which recognizes the right of the moneyed powers to throttle the masses.

A BOWL AND A CONFESSION.

It is announced that Senator Daly will revise his voluminous school bill and make a separate one for his text book scheme. Of course it will be ready the same as the present one and will create another commission to be appointed by the governor whose business it shall be to select the books to be used. Whether this will be more advantageous than the old plan of leaving it to the different superintendents remains to be seen. That there has been an abuse in the past and that the American Book company has been paid too much for its books there can be no denying, but will the commission do better by the people than have the superintendents? Of course if the governor should appoint on the commission only men who are scrupulously honest and aboveboard there might be some improvement, it is generally understood that the American Book Company was instrumental in the election of the present governor and naturally misrepresents favors at his hands. The people of the state are anxious to have the school book robbery done away with, but would be better pleased to find relief through a measure that did not carry with it another commission or furnish a soft job for a few favored politicians.—Astoria Budget.

The above paper has been against the Daily bill and is against it still. But it confesses to existing abuses. It cannot deny them. It is not true that the present governor owes his election or nomination to the American Book Co. Its attorneys opposed him in convention. If they ever had confidence in fear that he would "continue the robbery" they would have received a shock could they have witnessed the satisfaction with which Governor Geer contemplated the success of the bill and the defeat of the trust when the Daily bill passed the Senate.

However, it is a pleasure to secure such a confession as the above to the abuses and robbery of the people under the present law which is so eminently satisfactory to the American Book Co. that, out of the fullness of its great heart, beating in sympathy for the barefoot school children in Oregon, it has voluntarily reduced prices the past month to something near its published retail prices.

THE FLAX INDUSTRY.

Portland Chamber of Commerce Trustees Have Decided.

The meeting of the trustees of the Portland Chamber of Commerce was well attended yesterday afternoon. The object of the meeting was to discuss the bill now before the legislature with reference to flax culture. After a thorough discussion, the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, the trustees of the Portland Chamber of Commerce have received from Mrs. W. P. Lord, in behalf of the flax industry, and in behalf of the Flax Fibre Association, of the state of Oregon, valuable information with reference to the possible development of the said industry; and Whereas, the said board of trustees are convinced of the wisdom of encouraging this industry, for the development of which the state of Oregon is unusually well adapted; and

Resolved, That the trustees of the Portland Chamber of Commerce have received from Mrs. W. P. Lord, in behalf of the flax industry, and in behalf of the Flax Fibre Association, of the state of Oregon, valuable information with reference to the possible development of the said industry; and Whereas, the said board of trustees are convinced of the wisdom of encouraging this industry, for the development of which the state of Oregon is unusually well adapted; and Discussion of the Salaries of District Attorneys Grows Warm.

The Sad Tale of the Dog Law In Introduced by Senator Adams.

HOUSE—FRIDAY P. M.

Many members having left town, the roll was called to ascertain how many could be depended on to stay for the afternoon and evening. Fifty-six members signified their intention of staying at their respective homes, and after resolving to hold an evening session, business proceeded as usual.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY'S SALARIES.

If Curtis bill No. 263, fixing the salaries of district attorneys doesn't pass, it will be a most surprising circumstance. Nearly all the district attorneys in the state were in evidence today when the bill came up in the house under special order, and it is said that they are all lobbying for the bill.

HOUSE—FRIDAY EVENING.

The session was short, as there was difficulty in holding a quorum, and the judiciary committee wished to hold a session for discussion of the district attorney bill, and for hearing from possible objectors to the figures named in that bill.

PILLS PASSED.

S. B. 212, incorporating Hepner. H. B. 188, Roberts, to grant A. A. Haug, a franchise to build and maintain a toll road and a toll bridge across the John Day River connecting Sherman and Gilliam counties.

SENATE—FRIDAY EVENING.

The appointment of the two members of the joint committee to investigate the state university was announced: Fulton and Daly of Lake.

Friday Night Club.

Another of their series in Tioga hall last evening. Music was furnished by Backenator's orchestra. The following guests were present: Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Gill, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Prael, Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Eastern Oregon; Mrs. Mrs. O. N. Denny, Portland; Mrs. C. W. Fulton, Astoria; Mrs. Senator Taylor, Astoria; Mrs. Hugh Thompson, Eugene; Mrs. Dr. Giesy, Portland; Miss Yoran, Miss Libbie Yoran, Eugene; Miss Foster, Miss Lena Freyman, Miss Ruth Gatrison, Miss Lena Paine, Miss Georgia Davenport, Mr. Ned Thibault, Mr. Carey Martin, Mr. A. T. Gilbert.

THIRD READING.

S. B. 212, Passed. S. B. 187, Harson, prohibiting all manner of fishing except with a hook in the Rogue River. Passed. S. B. 186, Kuykendall, providing for county high schools, upon a majority vote of the county.

HOUSE—FRIDAY P. M.

This bill was discussed fully on both sides, when Senator Kuykendall moved to recommend to the committee on judiciary with institutions to amend by requiring that only taxpayers can vote on this question. Adopted.

SENATE—FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

S. B. 224, Fulton, (substitute for S. B. 120) For substituting constitutional amendments. Passed.

TEXTBOOK REFORM.

School Director Miller of Portland for the Daily Bill.

Representative Cummings, a Lifelong Educator, Considers it the Most Important Bill of the Session.

C. W. Miller, of Portland, objects strongly to the report that he is part of the lobby against the Daily textbook bill. He is here at the request of a committee on an entirely different matter. He is not a friend of the American Book Co., but quite the reverse, having fought that company's extortions, in his capacity of school director in Portland, and being therefore especially objectionable to that highly benefited corporation. He says that he is strongly in favor of the Daily textbook bill; considers it a good bill, and greatly desires to see it pass. THE JOURNAL and all honest sincere friends of the public schools will rejoice that Mr. Miller thus definitely takes his position on the right side of this question.

THE JOURNAL is proud to be permitted to state that Representative Cummings of Marion county, a lifelong school teacher and a gentleman of culture and moral fibre is heartily for the Daily bill, and considers it altogether the most important measure of this session. He says he believes a great majority of the house of representatives are for the bill. But Mr. Cummings can do much to enlighten other members who have not had the practical experience at school work that he has. The only danger to the Daily textbook reform bill lies now in the possibility that agents and representatives of the trust will deceive members into voting against the measure.

Interest in the Daily text book reform bill is unabated. The legislator, who, without fully informing himself on the question, votes to defeat that bill, or votes to delay or amend it, which is what the trust now wants, need expect no kind treatment at the hands of the voters of any party.

A legislator who votes against the Daily bill, knowing the present conditions as to the public school text book in Oregon and how they are brought about, lays himself open to the charge of having sold himself to a trust that preys off the most sacred of American institutions—the common schools.

Oregon has for nearly twenty years had one set of text books, all higher priced than in other states, and as everyone knows who has examined them, of an inferior character, generally speaking. This imposition on the taxpayer is forced on the state by the present law which was enacted by trust influences.

The argument will be made that the Daily bill creates a text book commission of five men, to be appointed by the governor. But it is not a commission that will grow in expense to the taxpayer. Once in six years textbooks are selected and that is often enough, and for that each member will get $100 and expenses.

It will be argued that the commission can be bought. That is not certain. The kind of men Governor Geer will select will be men of character and reputations at stake. In Missouri it is charged the textbook commission was bought, but in Missouri a contract has been let for six years that gives the people first-class up-to-date textbooks at one-third less than Oregon pays.

The Daily bill passed the Senate after full debate with 24 votes out of 30 favoring the measure. All efforts to amend the bill, so as to tie the hands of the governor with college presidents, county superintendents, or anyone but his own choice on his own responsibility were voted down.

The House should pass the bill as it stands. The lobby of the American Book Co. that has heretofore handled the legislature through the state and county superintendents should not be permitted to kill the bill in the house. If this legislature adopts textbook reform it will go home with the blessing of the people no matter what its shortcomings in other respects.
