pussage, meeting little opposition.

The resolution allowing additional time to the committee for examination of the books of the secretary of state, brought on a very lively discussion. The impresson of the members seemed to be that forty days was ample time in which four clerks might expert these books. Hawson thought that, if they couldn't do this work in forty days they ought to eat the books. Lewis said that he had been chairman of the committee amined these books for the years '95 moved that the appropriation bill be Alberquerque,
