How to be Healthy in Winter.

Winter is a trying time for delicate people. Coughs, colds and pneumonia find them easy victims.

Do you catch cold easily? It shows that your system is not in a condition to resist disease. You will be fortunate if you escape pneumonia.

Nature is always fighting against disease. The right kind of medicine is the kind that helps Nature by toning up the system and enabling it to resist disease. Such a tonic is found in

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

By building up the blood and strengthening the nerves these pills reach the root of many serious diseases, such as sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism and all forms of weakness, either in men or women.

Miss Pearl Wood, a popular young lady of Arlington, Ind., says: "I had fairly good health until two years ago, when facial neuralgia developed. The pain was fearful. Frequently I would have severe attacks during the night, making it impossible to ever get a night's rest. I suffered severely from this disease for many weeks. Our physician was unable to help me, and we tried another doctor, but with the same result. I used different remedies, but with no benefit. Happening to read in the newspaper concerning the merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I concluded to try the pills. When I finished the second box I was better. I was never more happy in my life than over the fact that I was getting well. After taking the third box the pain left me, and when I had finished the fifth box I was well.

THE DOCTRINE OF RESPONSIBILITY TO THE PEOPLE

Some small politicians and small newspaper editors delight to call THE JOURNAL a Populist paper. They are the kind of beings who call names at anything they do not understand or cannot run. They call the citizen's administration at Salem, headed by prominent Republicans — Populist. The editor of THE JOURNAL and THE JOURNAL have never been Populist in the partisan sense, nor so accepted by the Populist party. They have been always for the people, for good government, as against the spoilsman for partisan purposes—the howling denunciatory partisan for revenue, or the stand-in smoothly style of patriot who pretends to have moral principles but never lets them interfere with grafters in his own party or outrages on the public committed by the gang or machine of his own party. THE JOURNAL has always upheld Republicans who honestly served the people and did their duty.

If it makes anyone happy to call us a Populist, they are welcome to the fullest enjoyment of the privilege. There are honest, honorable Populists, just as there are honest honorable men in all parties. But just the reverse is also true of all these parties. Some of the essential fundamental principles of the Democratic and of the Populist parties are right and we do not care who thinks or calls us a Populist for saying so.

This is a government of the people or it is nothing. President McKinley was right in coming west and getting in touch with the people on the question of expansion. We want not imperialism. The remedy for that is greater and more direct responsibility to the people, more faith and confidence in the capacity of people for self-government. Call it populism or what you will if you believe in the governing talent of the American people, if you believe in the superiority of the American system, be you Republican, Populist or Democrat, you agree with McKinley and you believe in the doctrine of government of, by and for the people. So far as McKinley changed his views on coming west to Omaha he inclined to Populism. The underlying doctrine of Populism is the anti-dote of imperialism, of immense standing armies, of centralized government in every form. We hope to live to see the day when Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines will have substantial home government without a standing army.

The issue of expansion is the issue of Populism, the question of whether the people are capable of self-government, whether the American form of a People's government is superior or inferior to the European monarchies, or quasi-monarchies and quasi-aristocracies. The man who believes that a government directly responsible to the people is going into monarchical decay is not well informed.

The great issue of the future is expansion of a People's government, whether this nation as a People's Republic, shall go forward into the front rank of nations, where it shall demonstrate the excellence and superiority of the American system of government, education, commerce, religions and politicall iberty. That is Populism. Peopleism —the sacred right of the people to rule in the best interest of humanity.

Of all the bereavements which are possible to a home, the loss of a child is perhaps the most disappointing, and the hardest to bear. During the heated spell in the summer in New York City as many as a thousand babies have died in a week. Of course, in a crowded city, with its unsanitary districts, many of these deaths would have occurred any way. The fact remains that this tremendous mortality was to a great extent due to the lack of interest regarding proper care of the infants. These babies when born had in their bodies the seeds of disease. The deadly heated term only shortened the period of their sufferings.

If a woman wishes her babies to be healthy and strong and able to resist the usual ailments of childhood, she must take proper care of herself in a womanly way during the period of gestation. A woman who suffers from weakness and disease of the organs distinctly feminine is unfitted for wifehood and motherhood. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a wonderful medicine for ailing women. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned. It makes them well and strong. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, soothes pain, stops exhausting drains and gives rest and tone to the tortured nerves. Thousands of women have testified to its almost miraculous merits. Many of them have permitted their names, addresses, experiences and photographs to be reproduced in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This great book used to sell for $1.50, now it is absolutely free. It tells all about the home treatment of ordinary diseases. It contains 1008 pages, and over 300 illustrations. Several chapters are devoted to the diseases of women. For a paper-covered copy send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. Cloth binding, 10 cents extra. "Favorite Prescription" can be obtained in any good medicine store.

GEER'S VETO MESSAGES.

While not aspiring to be known as a veto governor, the present chief executive might easily have been less conscientious and let pass by him the three pieces of doubtful legislation which he has dignified with his disapproval.

The Portland tax collector's bill was a measure a political trimmer would have wished to dodge. On the one hand was the Simon machine backing the bill. On the other was the thunderer of Oregon Republicanism flaming with wrath at an act evidently aimed at its very soul, supposed to be located in its pocketbook.

But Geer evidently does not know the conjugation of the verb "to trim," tho' he may realize it some day in the past tense.

The horse-shoeing bill was a measure to have made a demogog's mouth water. There was a chance to immortalize himself as a hero of the toilers. If it is true, they were toiling to create a trust at $2 a "hoss," instead of $1.50, but it was a trust in the interest of honest labor, etc. But Geer hammered even this trust.

Just as ruthlessly did he turn aside from a bill to increase his own powers and emoluments—he vetoed the bill to make himself part of a state board of equalization. As in the horse shoer's bill, and the tax-collector bill, he displayed not a little horse sense. For a man who, as the Populist Fordocy said, made his campaign with a hoe on his shoulder, Geer has shown some hard common sense in his vetoes.

He is not a wait behind the law, yes inciting legal opinions and court decisions to back his homely wit. There was never a better hit than when he said there were no more officers needed to collect taxes, as there were always more clerks behind the counter to receive taxes than there were people in front to pay them. The farmer governor who carries a hoe on his shoulder keeps a good edge on it and has used it to good effect killing legislative weeds.

GOOD WORK OF THE LEGISLATURE.

The Corvallis Gazette-Union, edited by Senator John Daly, one of the conservative men of the state, has this to say in a review of the legislature:

Many very good laws were enacted at the session just closed. The registration law which passed was a crying need of the state. It will be signed by the governor and this time it will stand the constitutional test. The school laws were amended in several important particulars, notably the granting of state papers. No one can get a state certificate now except by working up to it from the third grade county certificate, or those who have taken a five years course above the grammar school, in some chartered educational institution of the state, and then only after passing the regular examination.

The method of selecting text books has also been changed. The new law provides that the governor shall appoint five text-book commissioners, and this takes the matter of school books out of the hands of the American Book Co. that has had a monopoly of the business for the past fifteen years, and opens the matter up to competition so that we will get good books cheaper than heretofore.

The assessment laws have been improved, the land laws of the state have been codified and improved, and the interest on loans made from the school fund has been reduced to 6 per cent; this will apply to old loans as well as new after the interest has been paid up.

Many other useful and necessary laws were passed, and although it has some extravagance to answer for yet on the whole the 20th biennial session of the legislature of Oregon has a good record.

PRISON REFORM.

Discussed by Rev. J. J. Walter of Centenary M. E. Church of Portland,

A very fine audience greeted Rev. Copeland as he introduced a talented speaker who discoursed on the great problem of prison reform. Rev. Walter opened with a good story and waltzed into his subject. He said there were 500,000 criminals in the United States, and only 50,000 in confinement.

He defined penology and criminology, and the various theories of treating criminals. What to do with them had not been solved by any state in the Union. England passed through the craze of considering the convict an improper competitor with free labor, and established the treadmill system. Nine-tenths of the professional criminals were constitutionally averse to labor. There was no reform possible without labor. He said they never allowed a man's family, his wife or children to see him dressed in stripes.

At Joliet all but guarding was performed by convicts, including clerical work. He told of one man who came out of the prison with $500 earned by working over time in the cooper shop.

He utterly demolished the theory that convict labor competes with free labor. He stated that the present warden had been in office at Joliet for 26 years and the prison which covered 17 acres was self-governing. The only arms in the prison were in the hands of the guards on the walls. Keepers and all employed in the prison carried no weapons—not even a pen knife. There were 1,640 male convicts, and 40 women. The lecture was very richly illustrated with anecdotes and concluded with an earnest inquiry as to what men were sent to prison for?

The proper thing to send men to prison for was reform, not punishment. A habitual criminal was as dangerous at the end of a term as an insane man. The time limit must be removed, was the determination of prison reformers.

He also explained the good time law of Illinois, as responsible for the good conduct and complete self-government of the prison, and the method employed to make any council a guard over the rest of the prisoners.

CATARRH OF STOMACH.

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure for It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing; headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure of this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diatase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

Mr. N. J. Bocher of 2710 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill., writes: "Catarrh is a local condition resulting from a neglected cold in the head, whereby the lining membrane of the nose becomes inflamed and the poisonous discharge therefrom passing backward into the throat reaches the stomach, thus producing catarrh of the stomach. Medical authorities prescribed for me for three years for catarrh of stomach without cure, but today I am the happiest of men after using only one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I cannot find appropriate words to express my good feeling and sound rest from their use."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

Send for little book mailed free, on stomach troubles, by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich. The tablets can be found at all drug stores.
