AT THE INDIAN SCHOOL.

The Celebration of the Nineteenth Anniversary of Chemawa.

On Saturday, February 25, Chemawa was 19 years old, which will go to say that she is no spring chicken. The day was observed as a holiday, with a grand entertainment and anniversary exercises in the evening. The band played sweet music on the lawn in the afternoon.

In the evening Superintendent Potter opened the meeting with some appropriate remarks regarding the school and its growth, the success and failure of pupils who had been at Chemawa, and earnestly brought before the minds of the pupils—present, whether or not they would belong to the successful class, or be found among the failures, urging them to be earnest in getting an education, and not carelessly waste their precious moments while students. He then then referred to Mr. Brewer as being the only one present who saw Chemawa started and has been here ever since as a pupil and employe.

Mr. Brewer then delivered a most interesting and able address, reviewing the early days of the school's existence, relating many incidents which were pleasant to hear. He then compared the advantages of Chemawa, then, with only $5,000 per year year appropriation to those enjoyed now, with $100,000 appropriation annually, and advised the pupils to make the most of their opportunities.

The Neuka Quartet sang two very fine selections and the band gave some fine music, and other songs, instrumental solos, and addresses, and the evening closed, all thankful to be at old Chemawa—the home of homes.—The Chemawa American.

LEGAL MATTERS.

Opinion by Attorney General Blackburn—Cases in Supreme Court.

In answer to an inquiry from the treasurer of Wallowa county as to the rate of interest to be paid on county warrants issued but not presented for payment prior to the passage of the new law, Attorney General Blackburn says:

"By the act of the legislative assembly, approved October 14, 1909, interest on that date on county warrants presented for payment thereafter, is only six per cent. County warrants do not draw an interest whatever until presented and indorsed 'not paid for want of funds.' (Hill's Ann. Laws of Oregon, sec. 2465). After such endorsement it draws legal interest."

"I, therefore, advise you that, on warrants presented and endorsed after October 14, 1909, (it matters not when issued) you can only pay interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum."

State Food and Dairy Commissioner Bailey, reports the following facts to the attorney general:

"Frank Lee, recent deputy state food and dairy commissioner, under H. B. Luce, claims that the state owes him a sum of money for office rent and he is holding the state's property to secure the payment of the same."

In giving his opinion, the attorney general says:

"1st—Mr. Lee has no lien upon, or right to retain any property of the state as security for the payment of any claim he may have against the state."

"2d—If he has any claim against the state for office rent, it is his duty to present it to the legislative assembly for its action; and this is his remedy, and so far as I can see from your letter, his only remedy, as the proper law is especially provided for by law, such is not the law in this instance."

On the calendar of the supreme court the following cases have been set for hearing on the dates given:

Monday, March 27—Katie J. Loomis and Olive Swafford, appellants, vs. Lewis Rosenthal, and Caroline Rosenthal respondents; appeal from Multnomah county.

Tuesday, March 28—Thomas C. Little, appellant, vs. Wm. Pierson, respondent; appeal from Lake county.

Wednesday, March 29—Frank Hoffmann, doing business under name of F. Hoffmann & Co., respondent, vs. John Rountsch, appellant; appeal from Multnomah county.

Thursday, March 30—J. M. Arthur & Co., a corporation, respondents, vs. The Palatine Insurance Co., Limited, appellants; appeal from Multnomah county.

IS FEELING BETTER.

"Grandma" Mrs. E. T. Albert Rented Well Last Night.

"Grandma" Mrs. E. T. Albert, who has been ill for several weeks, rested well last night and slept about six or seven hours.

During the evening Mrs. E. T. Albert seemed much stronger than usual and was rational, recognizing all who entered the sick room and conversing with members of the family and immediate relatives.

Mrs. Albert is the mother of John H. and T. G. Albert of this city, where she also has other children settled. There will be great rejoicing if she continues to improve.

MARION CIRCUIT COURT.

The Woodburn Injunction Case Argued Before Judge Biss and Dissolved.

Late Thursday afternoon the case of Brown vs. Bowly was disposed of, and the Woodburn case was then called.

W. H. Holmes appeared for the plaintiff, or anti-charter, Geo. G. Bingham and John A. Carson for the defense, or pro-charter.

The defender to the complaint and the motion to dissolve the injunction were argued and at 5:30 the court took the matter under advisement.

Judge Biss this forenoon dissolved the injunction in the Woodburn charter suit, wherein Holmes and McNary appeared for B. A. Cathey et al., and Geo. G. Bingham and John Carson for the City of Woodburn. This is a victory for the new charter. Judge Biss holding that he could not go behind the record of the legislature in its method and procedure of passing bills. The case will probably be appealed to the supreme court, and thus the new charter will be delayed from going into effect.

A Federal Official Talks

Capt. S. B. Ormsby, chief of the Timber Land Reserve inspectors, was seen by a reporter and says he knows nothing of the intended trip to the Pacific coast that President McKinley is advertised to make in one thatlinger Hermann would accompany him.

"I think McKinley may come to the coast just before his term is out, however," said Capt. Ormsby. "Of course that will be after he is re-nominated, as he will be by acclamation. The opposition is all broken up while the south and west will be united for a second term."

Asked if he thought there would be any anti-expansion opposition to McKinley in the Republican party, he

About Laces and Things.

We are doing a good business at our Lace and Embroidery counter these days. We have one of those fine imitation Tuxedo Ties, Laces about two inches wide, at 5 cents, besides the very cheap imitation sides the very cheap imitation Tuxedos much less. These fine imitation Tuxedos are big sellers for us. Our Embroidery lines run from 25 cents up, and the patterns are very choice. Some 5 cent lines are neat as a pin, with excellent edges. The best stock is full of great values in fresh new lines. A special patent leather for 10c. Those new things, too, in leather and spangles are quite the thing.

For prices on all these goods are lower than others. We sell everything at lowest racket prices for cash, and have no bother with book accounts for anybody. No harm for you to look. We want you to come as often as you like.

We have all the tinner parts on ex-hubbin' and want you to come and see them. The bearings are like a plate mirror for bush, the joints are dip brazed, the fork crown is arched and drop forged, the sprockets are the celebrated cycloidal pattern, made famous by the Tribunes, and now being adopted by other good wheels. Makes the chain run like a dream. Wish you'd come and see these things if you like. You are always welcome.

THE PROBATE RECORD

The supreme court has decreed the instrument of writing bearing date of June 19, 1865, to be the last will and testament of Catherine Darst.

A. N. Bush is made sole executor of the Darst estate, the other co executor, Rev. J. S. White, having died last July. The estate will now be administered upon as directed in the will.

Jefferson Myers was appointed administrator of the estate of A. D. Risdon, who died in November 1889; leaving an estate valued at $8000. S. R. Hammer now deceased, was appointed administrator, but his demise necessitated the appointment of a second administrator. The estate now consists of about $7000 worth of property.

Free seats for the Bendix concert next Monday night, that is, there is no extra charge for reserved seats. The tickets cost $1 each.

Among the Titled Ones.

In the governor's office commissions were issued to the following named gentlemen, who will be on Brigadier General Chas. F. Beebe's staff.

Schuyler C. Spencer, colonel and judge-advocate general.

Angus B. Gillis, colonel and surgeon general.

David M. Dunne, colonel and commissioner general.

The ranks of the officers of the militia organization are being gradually filled up by appointments in the executive office, but the appointment of adjutant-general has not been announced. Among those who were applicants for the position which carries a salary of $1800 per year and a title, are Capt. W. M. Hunt, of this city, and Col. B. B. Tuttle, of Portland, the latter the present incumbent.

The latter was appointed under Governor Lord as the result of a deal by which Tuttle "worked" the A. P. A. vote of Portland, as was pointed out to Lord at the time but he refused to believe. He was fully convinced of this however, before he was done with Tuttle, who has few friends left in either wing of the Republican party.
