LEOPOLD GODOWSKY.

The Most Eminent Pianist in This Country.

If anyone doubts the reality of Godowsky's standing as one of the four greatest living pianists, let him read the press comments from the leading critics of the principal cities of the world. We present to our readers an installment each day in order to bring to Salem music lovers a realization of the greatness of Godowsky. "Godowsky plays as the bird sings, with that effortless grace which charms the ear."—Times, Troy, N. Y. "Godowsky possesses the most versatile ability of any pianist."—Montreal Herald.

"Godowsky is an artist in every sense of the word, and his admirable execution proved him a master of the instrument. His touch was like velvet, and his rendition was done with ease and consummate skill."—Indianapolis Sentinel.

"Godowsky is the most eminent pianist in this country."—Denver Evening Post.

"Godowsky has a remarkable brilliant touch and expression."—New York Mail and Express.

"His touch is delightful."—Friend's Music and Drama.

"Godowsky is a master. He plays the most prodigious works with the utmost ease, and entirely without the unpleasant mannerism utilized for effect by so many artists who have visited this country."—Musical Courier.

"Godowsky's piano playing is delightful to listen to, intellectual at all times and emotional when required."—Philadelphia Press.

Possibly not many Salemites have heard so great an artist as Godowsky. This is an opportunity of a decade, and should be eagerly grasped by musicians and all who enjoy music.

Godowsky's Salem date is Tuesday, April 11. (That means next week Tuesday.)

He will play in the First M. E. church.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.
Digests what you eat.

It artificially digests the food and aids Nature in strengthening and reconstructing the exhausted digestive organs. It is the latest discovered digestant and tonic. No other preparation can approach it in efficiency. It instantly relieves and permanently cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Flatulence, Sour Stomach, Nausea, Sick Headache, Gastralgia, Cramps, and all other results of imperfect digestion. Prepared by E. C. Dewitt & Co., Chicago.

"Welcome, Evil, If Thou Comest Alone."

One evil that cannot come alone is impure blood. If this is allowed, it is attended by kindred ailments galore. This condition means that every vein and artery of the body, instead of carrying to the organs a health-giving flow of life, is laden with a slow and impure fluid that is harming instead of healing.

It is unfortunate when there is "bad blood" between people. It is worse when it is inside of you. Hood's Sarsaparilla will not make enemies friends, but it will make "bad blood" good blood, and blood should be of the best quality. Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Blood Poisoning.—When I enlisted in Montana for the "Cuban War" I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and got several comrades to do so. It seemed to make us proof against heat and fatigue at Key West and Tampa, while others gave out. Also in Cuba. I was wounded at San Juan with a brass bullet, but got no treatment until I arrived at Fort McPherson, Va. The surgeon said it had not been for my good rich blood that the brass shell would have lost my arm. I guess I would have lost my arm. Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me. Cyrus G. Urdan, Needham, Mass.

Scrofula.—For months I went to hospital for treatment of scrofulous ulcer without results. They said it was the worst they ever treated. I tried Hood's Sarsaparilla. Twelve bottles entirely cured me. Cyrus G. Urdan, Needham, Mass.

Leg Sores.—Sores on my wife's limb were so bad she could not walk. Physicians said of no value and she used crutches. After taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, she laid them aside and walked freely. Fred A. Hoyte, Reynolds Bridge, Conn.

Salt Rheum.—My mother was seriously afflicted with salt rheum and painful running sores. No medicine helped her until Hood's Sarsaparilla was used, which made her entirely well. East E. Navarone, 238 Dearborn Street, Chicago, Ill.

BISMARCK'S BEST MONUMENT.

With the single exception of Bismarck's Autobiography, the greatest success ever achieved by any publication in Germany was a pamphlet by Professor Quilke, entitled "Caligula." This pamphlet, had, however, from a publisher's point of view, everything in its favor. Its very title, savoring of the sensational, and the German reading public knew beforehand that "Caligula" was in reality a comparison of the insane Roman Emperor with the present Kaiser.

Put on sale at the extremely low price of ten cents, it took the pamphlet eighteen months to sell 500,000 copies.

To know how far, comparatively speaking, the sale of Bismarck's Autobiography exceeds that of "Caligula" it is only necessary to know that 318,000 copies of the former had been ordered before the book was published. The fact, too, that the price of the Iron Chancellor's autobiography was twenty marks, or nearly fifty times the cost of "Caligula," makes the comparison all the more striking. When a German part with twenty marks he wants a run for his money, and also must know all there is to know about a book before he buys it. It is self-evident, then, that the German people have accepted Bismarck's story as the only true and adequate expression of the Iron Chancellor and his influence on European history. It is interesting also to note its reception in other countries. The rights in the United States were secured by Harper & Brothers, and the book throughout America is considered the most valuable contribution to European history that has been made for many a day. In England it has also had a sale commensurate with its importance.

Another fact of especial interest about this book is that although it was published on November 29, it has already appeared in five different languages: France did not express much approbation over the autobiography of Prince Bismarck. It contains too

An eminent scientist recently said: "Cod-liver Oil is truly a wonderful composition. It is seemingly Nature's remedy in almost every wasting disease."

Scott's Emulsion contains the pure oil combined with hypophosphites, it rebuilds worn tissues, enriches the blood, invigorates the nerves, stops drains and wasting. Consumptives, Diabetics, pale or thin people, or nursing mothers should remember this. Do not accept a substitute.

Another rejected volunteer was allowed $10.50 for per diem due for time spent in camp McKinley last spring. The man is Edward L. Clark, of Co. G.

many references to Sedan, to Gravelotte, and to the siege of Paris for her tender sensibilities. Russian sensibilities have proved still more tender, and the Imperial Press Censor has refused Russian booksellers permission to place the work on sale. There are many subjects which Bismarck treats with a plain-spokenness that is most painful to the delicately organized ear of the Russian; for instance, Bismarck speaks of the murder of Czar Paul; the Russians speak of it it always as a "sudden demise." On the 24th of last month the work appeared in an Italian translation, and it is said, is having a very fair sale in Rome, Florence and Naples.

It is indeed unfortunate that the Iron Chancellor did not live to enjoy the success of his book. It is a sure sign that throughout his misfortunes, throughout the bitter years of his old age, his people still believed in him. It is to Bismarck's credit that his autobiography is neither pettish nor pessimistic, and it is safe to say that the best monument to his memory will be half a million copies of his book in as many German homes, and as many more copies scattered throughout the world. A man who has such a monument need care but little what marble mausoleums are raised above his ashes, or in what sarcophagus he sleeps. Our illustration shows the sarcophagus of Prince Bismarck, which lately arrived at Friedricksruh, and which has been placed in the newly built mausoleum. It is made of pink marble from the designs of Herr Schurbruch, of Hannover, and is in the strictly Roman style. Its dimensions are 10 feet long, 5 feet 6 broad and 5 1/2 inches high.

It is better to preserve health than to cure disease. Therefore, keep your blood pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and be always well.
