The Speakership.

Illinois is making a great fight for Congressman Albert J. Hopkins as a candidate for speaker of the National house to succeed Thomas B. Reed, who will resign his congressmanship and return to the practice of law. The Chicago Tribune of Friday had two pages of telegraphic interviews with prominent editors in all sections of the country and especially the West, the object being to boom Hopkins' candidacy, but judging from the replies published the boom has accomplished more good for the Iowa men who have been mentioned as candidates. Most of the Iowa editors urge the claims of Henderson or Hepburn for the office, the majority favoring the former, and from all the western states came strong endorsements favoring one or the other of these men, or Congressman Dooliver. Mr. Hopkins has made a fair record as a debater; and on the floor is strong, alert, logical and convincing; and he has a fine presence, is a finished orator, and is well posted in parliamentary affairs. But there is hardly a state in the Union but what has a man with a record as good as that, and in comparison with Col. Henderson, or Col. Hepburn, Mr. Hopkins is somewhat of a pimpy Congressman. Hopkins is all right, but then there are better men and Iowa has them.

There will be a large field of candidates for the speakership—including Dailzell, of Pennsylvania; Sherman, of New York; Grosvenor, of Ohio, and Henderson, of Iowa. In ability and fitness that list becomes stronger as it comes West, and it should be conceded that the great West, which will have the next speaker. It is time for the West to assert its power. Dailzell and Sherman are out voted by the large Western majority. Grosvenor is practically barred in consequence of being from the same state as the president, therefore the contest will probably be between Henderson, of Iowa, and Hopkins, of Illinois. Col. Henderson is now serving on his eighth consecutive term, and Mr. Hopkins on his seventh consecutive term. Both are strong men, but Henderson is superior in length of service, ability and influence, and it is generally admitted that he would fill the position most creditably to the nation and party.

The next speaker should come from the middle West and from west of the Mississippi river—the future great seat of empire of the United States—and the one state West of the Mississippi that has cast its electoral vote for every Republican candidate for president should be given well-earned recognition by the election of Col. D. B. Henderson for speaker of the next house, if Speaker Reed resigns his seat in congress.

[THE JOURNAL feels sure that if the two Republican members from Oregon knew Col. Dave Henderson as well as Iowa people do they would vote for him for speaker.]

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh That Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is often found to be incurable.

Hall's Family Pills are the best. In the debate last night at Eugene for the championship in the series of 1899, the Eugene school won. The State and Willamette university were contestants. The question for debate was: "Resolved, that the best interests of the country would be promoted by the adoption of the McCleary banking bill, for replacing United States treasury notes with bank notes and furnishing better facilities to the country districts, it being conceded that any loss to the government, from the substitution of bank notes for government paper, can be offset by a return had the affirmative side, and received the decision. (Willamette university was represented by Rodney Ackley, leader; G. W. Achenbrenner and R. B. Wilkins, assistants. The judges were: J. C. Fullerton, of Roseburg, and Hon. C. M. Idelman, and Professor Johnson, of Portland.)

is Hood's Sarsaparilla, because it was originated and prepared by educated and experienced pharmacists from the best known alterative, diuretic, anti-bilious remedies and stomachic tonics, by a combination of processes unknown to other remedies. It has a record of unequalled cures in the history of medicine. It has accomplished many marvelous cures when all other medicines failed, even when cure seemed impossible, and really was impossible by any other medicine than Hood's Sarsaparilla. It has effected wonderful cures of scrofula, salt rheum, psoriasis, blood poisoning, boils, pimples, rheumatism, catarrh and other troubles originating in or promoted by impure state of the blood. It has cured thousands of cases of dyspepsia, indigestion, nervous dyspepsia, gastritis, catarrh in the stomach and other kindred troubles. It has given nerve, brain and mental strength in cases of nervous prostration and nervous debility, cured that tired feeling and loss of appetite.

OUR BOYS AT MALABON.

Grand Work of the Second Oregon Regiment in the Philippines. A. H. Hart has received a copy of the Freedom, of Manila, of March 26, one day less than a month in reaching here, in which the following strong praise is given the Oregon regiment: In the battle of Malabon on Saturday, March 25th, the Second Oregon Regiment U. S. V. took an active and leading part, and displayed courage, valor and endurance of the highest order. For years to come the work of this regiment last Saturday will be pointed out as an example of what can be achieved by volunteers. No veterans of Wellington or Napoleon or Grant could have done better. No one can possibly conceive the heroic bravery of the Second Oregon on this occasion unless he has walked over the battle field; over the insurgent trenches, one after another; through the thickest and jungle; over open stretches where for 500 yards the boys faced a steady rain of bullets; and up to the final insurgent lines which consisted really of a fort with stone loopholes. This is not exaggeration. It is not half the truth. The whole truth concerning the work of this regiment will not be written. No one saw it all, and descriptions of those rushes through fields where the air was fairly charged with pulsing lead would hardly be believed. Why was the regiment not annihilated? God only knows. There is an old saying that it takes a ton of lead to kill a soldier. The natives are phenomenally poor marksmen. This fact and a favoring providence saved the Oregonians, as it did other regiments—from destruction.

The insurgents with repeating Mausers threw torrents of leaden hail at our lines at random—some bullets must find a victim. Col. Summers should be proud of his regiment; the Eighth Army Corps should be proud of this record; and the good people of the great state of Oregon—can words express how they feel? People of Oregon, your sons have this day proved that their blood is like that shed at Thermopylae and Bunker's Hill—the blood of heroes.

Co. I, in charge of Lieut. Phillips, is the lucky company of the regiment. This company fought its way to the north to a river, a distance of nearly two miles. It had its share of the work of the day and the only casualty was the wound received by Corp. Gantenbein. The colonel complimented the boys upon their superabundance of good luck.

Contented and Happy. Is how the man feels who has just sent to his home a supply of provisions and groceries from H. M. Branson & Co. 424 26 28

AFTER THIRTY YEARS.

Marion County Land Case Settled After Long Litigation. A case which has been pending before the state, local and general land offices for nearly 30 years was disposed of when the state board of school land commissioners established a base for the purpose and allowed M. L. Jones to secure title to 40 acres of land in Marion county. The land involved was purchased from the state in 1869 by Thomas Cross, and its ownership was later vested in several different persons, Jones purchasing it several years after the original purchaser. Shortly after he purchased it, it was discovered that the state had never set up a base, and the land had never been approved to the state as indemnity school land. T. M. Arthur, discovering the status of the case, made homestead entry of the land, whereupon Jones filed a contest, which was decided against him by the Oregon City and general land offices. The secretary of the interior, when the case was appealed to him, reversed these decisions, cancelling Arthur's application for a homestead entry and stating that if the state set up a base Jones could have the land, but if it did not, he would be allowed to make homestead filing on it. The state board of school lands commissioners this afternoon established the base, thus giving Jones a valid title to the land he has fought for years.

A Big Spread. By Associated Press to the Journal. CHICAGO, April 29.—A workingman's dinner, similar to the one recently given in New York, is promised for Chicago. The dinner will be given by the Carter H. Harrison Trades Union Club. The list of guests has not yet been prepared, but William J. Bryan and Carter Harrison are to be the stars of the evening. Prominent Democrats from all over the west will be invited and Chicago laboring men to the number of 2,000 will be present to listen to the oratory and help eat the dollar dinner. The date of the dinner will be on or about May 10, but the place where it will be held has not yet been selected.

Example Is Better Than Precept. Those sententious proverbs, or old saws, which are used as prefaces to all in thousands of papers throughout the country, are evidence of a new and original style of display advertising both pleasing and effective. The Hood firm is to be congratulated on so cleverly adapting such wisdom as has filtered down through centuries. Another charming thing about this Hood advertising is the unique type they are using.

Salem Improvements. Messrs. A. T. Moffitt and C. Hedrick, have the contract for building the new front in the Turner block, and the owner feels assured of a good piece of work.

People say Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all other preparations fail to do any good, and you run no risk in trying it a fair trial.

All to Be Honored. ST. PAUL, April 29.—Governor Lind, sent the following cablegram to Colonel Ames, of the Thirtieth Minnesota volunteers, now in the Philippines. "The president has informed me that General Otis reported all volunteers willing to remain until the regulars arrived. The volunteers remaining in Manila, since peace was declared, will receive medals. General Otis will grant individual discharges upon application. The regiment will be returned home before June 1."
