ODD FELLOWS ENTERTAIN

With Speeches and Songs Until Near Midnight.

The Closing Program of a Well-Spent Week of Enjoyment at the Capital City.

The entertainment given at the First M. E. Church Thursday evening by the P. G. M.'s, P. G. R.'s and P. G. P.'s Association and the Salem lodges was the occasion of one of the most notable gatherings in the history of Salem. The large church was filled to its utmost capacity with a picked company of men and women from every section of the state, and it would be hard to pick out a finer looking lot of people than the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs who have been attending their annual meetings here, as delegates and visitors.

Some time before eight o'clock the music was picked up by Miss Genevieve Hughes then took her place at the organ and executed a voluntary, during which the choir seats were filled up with Grand Officers, P. G. M.'s, P. G. R.'s and P. G. P.'s.

The platform was occupied by Gov. Geer and Mayor Bishop. Past Grand Master Phil Metschan acted as master of ceremonies, and the program was opened with the singing of the opening ode of the Odd Fellows. Prayer was then offered by P. G. M. Rev. A. W. Teats, after which the cardinal quartet sang "Robin Alair," in the manner which was won in the contest which the young ladies responded with "Comin' through the Rye."

Mayor Bishop then very briefly addressed the assembly of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of the city and county, expressing the gratification felt by the people of the city at the opportunity to entertain the brethren and sisters, hoping that they all had a good time, and make some pleasant life at local Odd Fellows.

Mrs. M. E. Winnard then sang "The Watcher." The lady's voice is rich and well trained, and she also was obliged to respond to an encore.

Past Grand J. K. Weatherford then spoke on behalf of the Grand lodge of Oregon. The gentleman's remarks were brief and to the point and elicited frequent applause.

Then our own Mrs. Hallie Parish Hinges was greeted with hearty applause as she came forward. Accompanied by Miss Linnie Stetson on the piano, she sang "Love's Sorrow." It is needless to say that she was encored, and she responded with the pathetic old song "Ben Bolt." It is in such songs as this that Mrs. Hinges' voice has its most effective power, and more than one old Odd Fellow was furtively rubbing his nose, before the sweet and touching melody had ceased.

Governor Geer then gave a short address on behalf of the State of Oregon.

Mr. J. W. Bickford favored the audience with a solo, "Queen of the Earth." Mr. Bickford is a soloist of no mean ability, and his solo was called back by prolonged applause.

Past Grand Master J. J. Walton responded on behalf of the association. He spoke eloquently, and with special times interspersed by applause, especially from the expansionists.

The Cardinal Quartet then sang "The Jolly Students." The Cardinal Quartet is always popular, but they have seldom given a better vocal performance than this. They responded to an enthusiastic encore, by repeating a verse of the same song.

Past Grand Master P. H. Doane then accepted the shorter time allotted to him with an interesting sketch of how he came to be an Odd Fellow.

Mrs. Winnard gave another vocal selection which was well received.

Past Grand Master W. H. Dunbar was unavoidably absent, and a telegram of explanation and regret from him was read. His place on the program was taken by Miss Lela Nielsen, who gave a beautiful rendition of violin solo, also responding to an encore.

Then the sweetest singer in Oregon, Mrs. Hinges, again came forward and sang "Just as the Sun Went Down." In pathetic songs such as this "Oregon Nightingale" is unapproachable, and she responded to the persistent encore with a bird song which showed the aptness of her title.

The program ended with the closing ode and benediction, and every one went away pleased with one of the most successful entertainments ever held in Salem.

ANTI-IMPERIALISM.

Exciting Developments at the Chicago Meeting.

(Pioneer, Ill., Journal May 4.)

The long planned "anti-imperialist" demonstration in Central Music Hall in Chicago, yesterday, brought forth considerable in the way of exciting developments. Bishop Spalding was in the thickest of the fray and is met with the unique distinction of having his word questioned by two men in the audience he addressed.

Jeers for President McKinley—hoos and cries of "No" when belief was expressed that the president of the United States is sincere and honest—marked the opening of the meeting. Dr. Henry Wade Rogers, as chairman, to make it plain at the outset that the audience had no wish to discredit the national administration but only to question its Philippine policy, were shouted down by the audience itself.

In spite of the overwhelming majority of anti-expansionists, some loyal friends of the president were present. Those, after restlessly enduring for a time the criticisms heaped on the chief magistrate, began to talk back from their seats. They vigorously denounced the boys at the bicycle track notice and comment on the fact that the Tribune is the noisiest fellow. This only further proves our claim that it is the smoothest running, easiest running, most noiseless wheel shown.

And if you want to demonstrate this listen when they pass you.

The woman that isn't out breaking her neck trying to learn to ride a bike is in a minority these days.

There was a great big noticeable absence among the visiting Odd Fellows of complaints at hot water at Salem.

The speaker who got the most applause from the Odd Fellows last night was the Democrat who talked for expansion.

The progressive school principal says: "Everything quiet at our high school; no fights, knockdowns or druggists for a whole week!"

The reception accorded Tom Tongue at Salem this week was significant of the feeling between the United States and Great Britain. It was never thus out as long as he lives.

Dr. Flinn's best hit was when he told his audience that Christian Science meant strictly minding your own business. That hits even an X-Ray man.

If there was a good cycle path into Salem from ten different directions there would be so many people in town on fine days that the sidewalks would not hold them.

The law requiring purchase of supplies for each state institution to be made on publicly advertised bids is not complied with—not enough to hurt. And who would be hurt by it?

The farmers will get along without the competition of Yaquina Bay harbor being opened as long as they cast their votes with the corporation lawyers and bankers' attorneys put up for their congressmen.

That $4,000,000 claim of the Oregon Indian War veterans will be allowed—when the cows come home that the Indians killed in the 60's. They should in the mean time keep on electing the fellows who have so nobly kept their promises.

This office is offered German printing inks at 4 cents a pound. American printers have a better American ink to be had for 5 cents. We must use German ink to pay the trusts a cent a pound. This puts a man, like the swine in the scriptures, between the devil and the deep sea.

The Oregonian and other small fry Republican papers are trying to get this country into a war with Germany. Does not every man know that in case of war between the United States and Great Britain or any other European power, even Germany herself, the German-Americans will shoulder their muskets and fight for Uncle Sam just as they have always done?

It is remarked by the Chicago Chronicle that ex-Governor Lord of Oregon runs a risk of losing his standing in the Republican party because he was so reckless as to refuse an office tendered him by President McKinley. However, ex-Governor Lord will not make much "capital" out of his sacrifice, as he is not known to be skillful at "holding up" the party nor is he exceedingly skillful as a letter writer for the press.

Friedman's New Racket

xxxxx On Assessment and Taxation

IF LATE WE HAVE HAD several rich merchants in the city, hardly any of them go below twenty thousand in the valuation of their stocks.

Now where does the assessor come in on that? It looks like some of them is trying to escape the burdens of paying their full taxes on merchandise. Friedman has never seen the necessity nor is it advisable to misrepresent values to the customer or to the assessor.

I don't see why a stock worth twenty thousand should be assessed two thousand, why not give in the full amount to the assessor, or if you haven't got twenty and only got two or three thousand then what is the good of lying to the people and make out you are so rich for if it is no crime to be poor.

We of Friedman's New Racket belong to the poorer class of merchants we have less than twenty thousand dollars. And therefore we don't want to brag to our customers that we have twenty thousands of goods that we must sell off in sixty days without a beginning or an ending to the sixty days, nor that we are a part of or have sixty-eleven manufactures in different parts of the States, and we are disposing of the Goods for them.

When the customers all have eyes and they don't take stock in it especially when they see the proprietors of the closing out places in sixty days are every night in the sample room to replace the sold out stock with new Goods, few people believe in the old chestnut that is a cheatman street dodge, where they have those sixty-days closing-out signs for generations.

If a stranger comes to Salem now they will find quite a number of those shops in Salem, besides a few new comers of which we are glad to see them come here and go in competition with us, and we enjoy the joke of their advertising that they bring in so much capital nothing under twenty thousand dollars, but they have a good deal less for the assessor when he call on them, and they are interested largely in ever so many manufactures in the East, but yet their stock don't look any newer to the customers than some of the firms who have been here a quarter of a century who after all the people understands it that when parties want to go out of business, they don't wait sixty days, but they employ a competent auctioneer and they rattle off their wares at a rapid rate and they get out, they don't stay and fizzle or the new dodge, the people who have such a large interest in the factories in the east usually don't come to Salem with their old traps, but they take a trip to Paris and call on their factories once or twice a year to see how things are getting along, but that is their way, but not so with Friedman, when he has got anything to sell it doesn't take him sixty-days to talk about it he generally sells it out and he is gone.

At Friedman's New Racket we make no pretensions of going out of business, but we are strictly in it, we have no interest in any factories out side of Salem, but you can save twenty-five per cent on an average by buying your goods at Friedman's New Racket, where you will find a full line of the latest and best kind of clothing, drygoods' hats and notions, stationery, cutlery, trunks, valises, etc., etc.

A word more to those who want to save money. At Friedman's New Racket you get straight goods for the lowest prices.
