Woodmen of the World Perform Their Annual Functions Over the Dead. About 150 Woodmen of the World repaired to their hall at Insurance block where they formed and marched in a body to Rural Cemetery to do honor to the dead of their order.

the dead of their order.

The monument recently erected over the remains of Benjamin L. Estes, who recently passed away was unveiled and the beautiful ritualistic ceremony was carried out without a hitch or display of awkwardness and in the most effective manner possible. The grave decorations were quite elaborate, many beautiful flowers were used to decorate the last resting places of the departed brothers, all of which could but inspire the bereaved families of this benevolent order with steadfastness and loyalty to their welfare.

Afrer the performance of the ritualistic work over the grayer of five brothers and one sister, the West men formed in line of march and result to the city.
