May Have a British War.

England and Transvaal Preparing for a Struggle.

Krueger's Forces Said to Be Able to Cope With England.

By Associated Press to the Journal.

Great Britain has either got to fight or back down.

The Transvaal Republic does not propose to let Cecil Rhodes and British capital exploit that country.

The Republic refused to grant a dynamite monopoly to the British, reserving the right to manufacture, import, export or deal in high explosives to citizens of the Republic.

No one can become a citizen but by being a native or a seventeen-year resident.

The present British government requested that President Paul Krueger annul the dynamite monopoly.

The reply of President Krueger was that he knew best what was for the good of his own people, and he declined to annul.

That is the situation up to Sunday, when the further progress of the situation is revealed by the Associated Press.

The demand of the British, as represented by Rhodes of the South African company is the battle of the ages—the demand of organized capital to be permitted to develop the valuable mines and resources of the Transvaal Republic for the benefit of the owners of foreign capital instead of the people of that Republic.

Sunday Cable Reports.

When the secretary of state for the colonies, Joseph Chamberlain, in the house of commons Thursday, summed up the result of the Bloemfontein conference by declaring that "a new situation has been created," he used a pregnant phrase, open, apparently, to a variety of interpretations, but in reality open only to one.

While the Orange Free State is using its influence at Pretoria to obtain reforms for the uitlanders in the Transvaal, the railway company has sent all its available rolling stock to Johannesburg, to be in readiness for a possible excitement.

ner, the British high commissioner, a resolution was adopted declaring that "no settlement will be satisfactory which does not provide for the recognition of equal political rights to all."

President Krueger's proposals were considered wholly inadequate to satisfy the just demand of the unfranchised, while Sir Alfred Milner's were indorsed as the irreducible minimum acceptable.

The meeting was orderly and was attended by 5000 Uitlanders. While the country generally is backing Mr. Chamberlain, many well-informed people assert that, urged by Cecil Rhodes and the potent social influences of the British Chartered South Africa Company, he is hurrying the country to disaster.

This government issued a notice advising the enfranchised burghers to allow the meeting to proceed without disturbance.

LONDON, June 10.—It is not improbable the crisis in the Transvaal will be hastened by some untoward incident at Johannesburg, J. B. Robinson, the South African millionaire and mine-owner, received a telegram today from his agent at Johannesburg, saying the situation there is most serious.

The consensus of opinion among prominent uitlanders and South African capitalists in London is that the British government is in a tight fix; that it cannot retreat from its position, and that if President Krueger does not recede, war is inevitable.

Regarding the suggestion that the United States be asked to mediate between the Transvaal and Great Britain, United States Ambassador Choate says:

"While every good American would welcome the possibility of helping a solution of the present situation, we have not been approached, and I personally know nothing of this proposed mediation by America."

A detachment of 300 royal engineers have sailed for South Africa from Southampton.

PRETORIA, Transvaal, June 10.—After deliberation in secret all the morning, the volksraad yesterday approved President Krueger's franchise propositions and instructed the government to draw them up in the form of a law, which will be submitted to the volksraad. The volksraad also passed a resolution of regret that the British high commissioner had not accepted Krueger's proposals, which the volksraad considers reasonable in the highest degree.

BLOEMFONTEIN, Orange Free State June 12.—It is stated in official circles here that President Krueger will propose to the Transvaal the abolition of the dynamite monopoly.

While the Orange Free State is using its influence at Pretoria to obtain reforms for the uitlanders in the Transvaal, the railway company has sent all its available rolling stock to Johannesburg, to be in readiness for a possible excitement.

LONDON, June 12.—Commander in chief Wolseley has been busy several days preparing for possible eventualities in South Africa. Officers on furlough have been warned to hold themselves in readiness to return to their regiments. The general trend of news, however, is more pacific.

Death of a Captain Just as His Work Was Finished.

By Associated Press to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Otis reports that the Oregon regiment with the signal corps will leave today for San Francisco.

Though Otis's dispatch stated that the Oregon troops would leave for San Francisco, the war department officials are of the opinion that a mistake in calling has been made. Corbin has telegraphed to Otis that the Oregon troops are to go to Portland.

MANILA, June 12.—The funeral of Captain Henry Nichols, commander of the monitor Monadnock, took place at Cavite yesterday with appropriate naval ceremonies. The sudden death of Captain Nichols is particularly sad, because it occurred just at the moment when the result for which he had hoped and worked for months was about to be realized, namely the capture of Paranaque and its occupation by the American forces. The Monadnock had been lying off Paranaque for two months past under fire from the rebels almost daily.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Otis reports following additional casualties: Killed: First Washington, June 6, Private Earl A. Thorgensen. Wounded, Second Oregon, June 3rd, Co. H, Private Ezra Kirtz, wrist, slight; Charles Doughty, hand slight, Co. L. Clayton M. Ransom, hand, slight, First Washington June 6th, Co G, Private Joseph B. Dolan, leg, slight.

THE TRUST ISSUE.

To Be Put to the Front by the Democratic Politicians.

By Associated Press to the Journal.

CHICAGO, June 12.—The Times-Herald has been asking members of the Democratic national committee what should be the party's battle cry in 1900; whether "free silver" or "down with the trusts" or both. They are nearly unanimous in giving the trust question a prominence it never has had in the platform of their own or any other party.

Union county has at last secured recognition! The state domestic annual commission officially declares that Union county homes have the mange. This ought to pacify Eastern Oregon and will enable the commissioners to draw a quarter's salary.

The Dalles Times Mountaineer: Next year Oregon will again vote on the equal suffrage amendment to the constitution. It would be well if men would allow their women friends to prepare their ballots on this issue, and thus get an expression of the women of the state as to their desire to vote and hold office.

PARIS, June 12.—The chamber of deputies was crowded to-day, and there was considerable suppressed excitement when M. Mallat, the socialist, interpellated the government on yesterday's police outrages at Pavillon n'Armenonville. Premier Dupuy replied that yesterday was a fete day for all republicans. The only instructions to the police were to maintain order. The chamber adopted the order of the day, which the premier forthwith left the house amid intense excitement.
