BOERS

Will Advance On Kimberly.

Immediately After War is Declared.

And Other Foreign News of Interest.

By Associated Press to the Journal.

LONDON, June 20.—The St. James Gazette today claims to have received from an absolutely reliable source at Pretoria, capital of the Transvaal, the plan of campaign which will be followed by General Joubert, commander-in-chief of the Boers, in the event of war between the Transvaal and Great Britain.

General Joubert's force, it seems, will consist of 20,000 men, armed with Mauser rifles, in addition to 46 quick-firing guns and 1000 artillerymen, most of them drawn from the German and the Dutch armies. With these troops and help expected from the Orange Free State, he will march on Kimberley, the diamond-mining center in West Griqualand, which forms four of the 70 divisions of the Cape Colony. Kimberley is about 100 miles northwest of Bloemfontein.

In his march on Kimberley, Joubert will use the railroad as far as available, expects to capture the town with slight loss, and blow up the De Beers diamond mine. Simultaneously, it is added, the railroad from Cape Town, to Bulawayo will be destroyed by Boer sympathizers and agents in Cape Colony will destroy the Port Elizabeth-Pretoria line south of Bloemfontein, to prevent British troops from using it.

Finally, immediately after Kimberley is captured, General Joubert will advance on Cape Town, the capital of Cape Colony, through the western provinces where the Dutch predominate, and are expected to join the Boers. Joubert calculates he will be the master of Cape Town a fortnight after the declaration of war, and that he will then be able to dictate terms of peace.

ALASKA NEWS.

Terrible Suffering On the Edmonton Trail

Fourteen Men Lost on the Trail—The Dahl River Victims.

By Associated Press to the Journal. VANCOUVER, B. C., June 20.—More victims of the Edmonton trail arrived on the steamer Dirigo. According to J. Reilly Snyder, for 18 months a Philadelphia party of 14 men was on the trail. Deserted by their Indian guides, they lost themselves in the Valley of Shadow, as they called it, north of Peace river.

On leaving them on a boggy, treacherous trail, the Indian guides declared that none had ventured further north, and they prophesied an early death for the argonauts. The men found their way to a black or muddy river, which flows into the Liard. They crossed this a few miles from its source, and wandered in a bleak country to the north for weeks. Their food supply became exhausted. Their pack animals died, and they themselves gradually lost hope and energy. At last they turned south, recrossed the black river and came to the forks of the Nelson, above Hell Gate. Here they lost twenty-three horses from starvation and had to leave a few camp a major part of their outfit for lack of pack animals. Another 55 days they lived on just what would keep body and soul together and give them enough strength to haul their decimated outfit. At length they reached Sylvester Landing, on Dease river, 290 miles from Fort Liard. Here hopeless of ever reaching their goal, they turned their faces southward again, and following Dease river to its source, in Dease lake, made Telegraph, on the Ashcroft trail, and came down the Stickeen to civilization.

WOOSOCKET, B. I. June 20.—Victor Adair, mentioned as dead in a dispatch from Clele City, Alaska, may have been Victor Altair, Jr., of this city, son of a prominent builder, who left Woosocket for the Klondike May 10, 1898, and was last heard from three weeks ago. He spoke of being on the Dahl river.

BROCKTON, MASS., June 20.—There is no M. Provost, of this city, in the Klondike, but Roger Provost, a Holbrook shoemaker, went to the gold regions during the rush. He has not been heard from in several months. A wife and six children, all boys, are living here. When last heard from, Mr. Provost was prospering and intended to return soon.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 20.—The steamer Dirigo arrived today from Skagway, Alaska, with 50 Klondikers. Many of them claimed there was $500,000 in gold dust aboard, but the purser puts the amount at $150,000. One of the passengers, named Freisinger, confirms previous stories of the loss of life on the Edmonton trail. Two New Yorkers, whose names he could not recall, and who were thought to have perished, have been found in an emaciated condition. Mason, of Philadelphia, whose name has been included in the list of missing, has also been found, but he was in a dying condition.

Rear Admiral Watson Makes the Baltimore His Flagship.

By Associated Press to the Journal.

WASHINGTON, June 20.—Otis forwards the following:

"Manila—Wheaton at Imus. Sent a battalion South on reconnaissance in the direction of Das Marinas yesterday morning, where the enemy was reported to be concentrating his scattered forces. The battalion encountered the enemy's force of two thousand strong marching to attack Imus, successfully impeding its progress. Wheaton with two guns and two battalions hurried forward and repulsed the enemy with heavy loss, the enemy leaving over 100 dead on the field.

Our loss was five killed, 23 wounded. Wheaton was reinforced last night by a battalion of the Ninth infantry and is driving the enemy beyond Das Marinas, which is now in his possession. Casualties today not reported. Wheaton's qualities for a bold and successful attack are unsurpassed.

MANILA, June 20.—Rear Admiral Watson arrived today and raised his flag on the cruiser Baltimore. The commanders of all the warships called upon the admiral during the day.

MANILA, June 20.—The troops commanded by General Wheaton entered Perez Dasmarias today without opposition except on the part of a small body of rebels who inflicted no losses on the Americans. The town is an important place surrounded by swamps and Wheaton will probably return to Imus.

NEW YORK, June 20.—"The situation in the Philippines is very serious," said General Nelson A. Miles, at the Waldorf-Astoria last night. The question of issuing a call for volunteers has not I believe, been decided. I do not care to discuss the Philippine matter. I am here on private business."

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.
