CURRENT EVENTS.

The American Institute of Homoeopathy began its fifty-fifth annual meeting at Atlantic City, N. J., with more than 2,000 members present from all parts of the country.

The convention will continue for several days, the sessions being occupied with discussions and essays pertaining principally to questions connected with the homoeopathic school of medicine. Plans will also be perfected for the erection and unveiling of the Hahnemann monument at Washington, D. C.

The initial session this afternoon was devoted to the annual address of President Benjamin F. Bailey, of Lincoln, Neb., and to the reports of the International Bureau of Homoeopathy, the Interstate committee, the committee on life insurance and the board of censors.

The wires to Belmont Castle, were kept hot with congratulatory messages sent the Queen, reminding her that the day marks the close of the sixty-second year of her reign. In accordance with her majesty's wish there was no formal observance of the anniversary, in London or elsewhere, and beyond the customary display of the flag over the royal residences and the congratulatory messages sent by the Prince of Wales and other members of the royal family and by foreign ministers and ambassadors in behalf of their respective governments there were no outward signs to call attention to the fact that her majesty is about to enter upon another year of her remarkable reign.

At Marshalltown, Ia., the Society of Music Teachers of Iowa met in fifth annual convention today, and will continue in session through Wednesday and Thursday.

The fifteenth annual meeting of the Minnesota State Pharmaceutical Association began at Lake Park, Minnesota, today, with a large attendance from many parts of the state. President Holder in his annual address urged that the business be restricted to competent and reliable men, and recommended that all members of the Association join in the agitation for better state and national legislation to protect the trade. The convention will be in session three days. Tomorrow reports will be heard from standing committees, and the evenings will be given up to entertainment.

At Cincinnati, O., prominent music teachers from all parts of the country are arriving for the annual convention of the Music Teachers' National Association, which opens here tomorrow and continues three days. The present gathering being the 21st annual meeting of the organization it is intended that the convention shall not only be for the interchanging of views and the discussion of technical musical matters, but that it shall commemorate in a dignified way the progress of musical art in America. To this end the services of the Cincinnati symphony orchestra and a number of prominent musical artists have been enlisted and the evening concerts promise to be a notable feature of the gathering.

AROUND THE EVENING LAMP

The bulletin of the Department of Labor for May has been received. It is edited by Carroll D. Wright, Commissioner and is an able and interesting publication.

Paine's Photographic Magazine, published by the Whist Co., Milwaukee, Wis., is a monthly that will yield a great deal of pleasure and instruction to amateurs for the slight investment of sixty cents a year.

"The Buffalo Humb" country, including Montana, Idaho, Grangeville, Elk City, Florence, and Badger, the New mining and farming region of Northern Idaho, all directly reached from Spokane by the Lewiston extension of the Northern Pacific, is the theme of a new map and folder just issued, containing the latest and most correct information about that region. To be had by applying to A. D. Charlton, Asst. Pass. Agt., Portland, Or.

"Art for America" is a monthly, the national organ of the Central Art Association, published by the Arts Pub. Co., Fine Arts Building, Chicago, $2 a year. J. Vermette Morse, editor, and H. A. Pierce, manager. There is much of the contents on the line of work for children, for students, and for schools. Home and school decoration are also made much of. Send for a sample copy, 20 cents.

Mrs. Lucy A. Mallory of Portland publishes "The World's Advance Thought," and has for years sent us a copy for which we feel grateful. She is an earnest seeker after the good, the pure and the elevating. The thoughtfulness will denigrate her a crank, and declare she sends it only to cranks. Persons who think at all for themselves, who are anything beyond mere automatic rotinas, or impression-receivers, must sometimes think differently from other persons, and the moment they persist in that we call them a crank.

The May-June Midland Magazine is rich in short stories. The dramatic department, both as to illustrations and discussions, is superior to any of the monthlies, not even omitting the bookman. The editorial department is superior for its variety and vivacity. Removal of this magazine from Des Moines to St. Louis has improved its quality in some respects.

The Tacoma State for June has eleven features, besides an editorial review, covering ten topics. The name of Leonard Fowler as editor no longer appears on the magazine, but we do not miss his touch on the pages. Miss May Fuller conducts the literary page with rare taste and a really fine critical and appreciative talent.

Among the best things produced by the Northwest is the N. W. Journal of Education by Mr. and Mrs. Brindall, of Seattle, formerly of Olympia. Besides the able editorials and other purely pedagogical contents, the June number has music and verse for a doll day, well worth a year's subscription to any teacher of little ones. A history of the Kindergarten movement in Washington by Charlotte Lay Dewey discloses anew the devotion of one of the grand young women on the Pacific coast to the high ideals of the new education.

This is the time of year when Outing magazine is appreciated by those who can go on a summer vacation and by those who cannot. To the former it is an indispensable attendant on camp and cottage life. To the ones who stay at home it brings the fresh air and excitement of the world of sport to their doors. Send to the publishers, 239-241 Fifth Avenue, New York, for a copy and circulars.

The works of Walt Whitman may now be obtained in following editions of the exclusive American publishers, Small, Maynard & Co., Boston. "Leaves of Grass," $2 (the same paper covers, 50c); Complete Prose works, $2; Calamus, Letters to Peter Doyle, $1.25; The Wound Dresser; letters from the hospitals to his mother, $1.50; selections from the prose and poetry, $1.25.

"The Pedagogue" is a story of a Harvard summer school by Arthur Stanwood Pier, published by Small, Maynard & Co., Boston. It is tingling with a quiet humor and a spirit of enjoyable fun and foibles as keenly piquant as the best work of Howells. It is rich in its graphic depicting of the types who struggle to secure education during the vacation time of college, as well as some of the types who impart it. It is to be hoped all are not of the cigarette-smoking cynical type of Prof. Palatine. The character of Jessie, the engaged girl with a thirst for conquest of the male species, is drawn with a great delicacy and true humor. No better book for summer reading has been composed in many a day and it is destined to a more than ephemeral place in lighter American literature.

A correspondent writing from Victoria B. C. under date June 15 states that strawberries are getting ripe, first sales this week at fifty cents and the next at thirty-seven cents per pound. Crop will be very light as the many plants were burned out last summer and others died during the cold wet spring. There would be a half crop of apples or pears in this locality.

Mrs. Leo, Willis has returned from Seattle, where she has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. E. B. Piper.

JOURNAL & RAYS.

For acetylene the size of Salem we could easily dispense with raising quite so much stock in our midst.

Was it Archbishop Christie's remarkable resemblance to Wm. J. Bryon excluded his picture from the Oregonian?

It need not be the largest or the ablest edited, or the richest. THE JOURNAL sets up the claims to be the BEST evening daily newspaper in the world for a city the size of Oregon's capital.

General Odell says no president of Willamette will be chosen who is not acceptable to President Hawley. Great Scott, who is Hawley, to have his thumb on the Capital City's proudest institution of learning?

It is the ambition of the present publishers to make THE JOURNAL the BEST model of an evening newspaper in the world. When the supreme court puts the Patterson-Bingham faction in possession of it we shall drap the building in black and hang the flag at half-mast for 60 days.

When the English speaking race is conquering the world would it not be well for our schools and colleges to pay a little more attention to literary culture, to producing writers and orators? Where are our contributors to magazines and poets coming from in the future? Does not Oregon need a little more literary enthusiasm?

There is fine stream in this from the organ of the Push that will cause a smile among bicyclists: "The section constructed by H. T. Bruce, of this city, between Salem and Brooks, is thus far reported to be the best constructed of the paths, but the others will be brought to the same state of perfection, as near as possible, before being accepted by the court."

NEW YORK LIFE'S LATEST JOKE. "I wonder if any of the bride's relatives are present."

"Oh, yes. I saw some people in the next room, counting the presents."

"Doesn't it cost you a good deal to run this yacht, old man?"

"Yes, but my wife can't spend a cent when she's here."

Brown: Walter, bring me a dozen oysters on the halfshell.

Walter: Sorry, sah, but we's all out of shellfish, sah, 'ceptin' aigs.

The Grover: Yes, sir, this granario is the best breakfast food on the market. It is pre-digested.

Mr. Fadsby (shuddering): Bless my soul! By whom?

"Our Henry has been to school for two years," said his anxious mother, "and I don't see that he has learned anything of value."

"Nonsense!" replied the wise father. "He thinks he has, and what more do you expect nowadays?"

Orator: No, gentlemen: I tell you that if you want a thing done well you must always do it yourself.

Voice from the crowd: How about getting your hair cut?—Exchange.

"Adolph, where is the letter I left on my desk?"

"It mailed it, sir."

"But I hadn't put the name and address on the envelope."

"That's just it, sir—I supposed it was an anonymous letter."

Crossing the Rockies.
The most delightful ride across the continent is through Utah and Colorado, over what is known as "The Scenic Route of the World." It matters not at what season of the year the trip is made, at no time does the scenery grow monotonous. It is an ever-changing panorama of the beauties of nature. One moment you are passing through gorges walled in by rocks thousands of feet high, and the next you are above the snow line, skirting peaks that tower above you, they seem almost to reach the sky. One of the characteristics of the Colorado climate is that the extremes of temperature are never met with. It is neither so cold in winter nor warm in summer, as upon the lines of railway which cross the deserts and plains. The traveler over the Rio Grande Western also has the privilege of a stopover, if he so elects at Salt Lake City, or anywhere between Ogden and Denver, on all classes of tickets.

For information as to rates, etc., and for descriptive pamphlets, call on the nearest Ticket Agent of the O. R. & N. Co. or Southern Pacific Co., or address, J. D. MANSFIELD, Gen'l Agt., Rio Grand Western Railway, 142 Third Street, Portland, Oregon.

THE GREAT SALT LAKE ROUTE.
The attention of eastbound travelers is called to the advantages offered them by the Rio Grande Western, "The Great Salt Lake Route." The same route prevailed whether the trip is made via Huntington or via Francisco. In addition, a day's stopover is given all passengers at Salt Lake City, or Colorado, through Pullman and tourist sleeping cars are run on all trains, as well as free reclining chair cars. The service and accommodations offered are equal, if not superior, to those of any trans-continental route, and rates are always as low as the lowest.

If you contemplate a trip east, write to J. D. Mansfield, General Agent, Rio Grande Western Railway, 142 Third Street, Portland, Oregon, for any information you may need in reference to rates, routes or accommodations.

A LIFE SAVED.

Dr. J. F. Cook, the Botanical Specialist, Succeeds Where Others Fail.

To whom it may concern: This is to certify that Bertha P. Conner, of Mt. Angel precinct, Marion county, Oregon, has suffered from a cancerous growth in the left ear for about three years. The growth was cut out twice and burned out once by Albany Physicians, but the growth came back as bad as ever, and pained her so badly that she had to be taken from school. After three weeks' treatment by Dr. J. F. Cook, of Salem, Oregon, the Botanical Specialist, the growth entirely disappeared, and at this date four months since treatment was begun, the growth has not reappeared, and the ear has entirely healed leaving only the scars indicated by the Albany doctors.

I hereby certify that the above statement is absolutely true, and that Bertha P. Conner, the person mentioned in the affidavit, has resided in my family since early childhood, bearing the relationship to me of niece.
