WILD SCENES

Of Disorder and Violence.

Witnessed Last Night at Cleveland.

800 Militia Men Out to Resist the Strikers.

By Associated Press to the Journal

CLEVELAND, July 24.—Scenes of wild disorder and violence were witnessed yesterday and last night in connection with the street car strike...

With the addition of these organizations the military force to cope with the street car strike numbers 800 men.

Next will come a call for state troops. Mob violence will be suppressed at any cost.

What Happened Last Night.

A Euclid-avenue car, loaded with passengers, was wrecked by an explosion of nitro-glycerine or gun cotton shortly before 11 o'clock last night.

Mrs. E. C. Martin, 79 Lebanon street, compound fracture of the skull, right arm broken and internal injuries, which may prove fatal.

E. C. Martin, right arm badly cut and bruised about the legs and body.

Mrs. Catherine Harris, 25 Cornell street, suffering from nervous prostration.

F. S. Smith, 69 Vienna street, injured about legs and body.

Albert E. Gassett, 12 Wallace place, legs injured.

Dora Schessler, 11 Oakdale street, bruised about the body.

Late last night it was learned that Mrs. Martin, one of the injured, would probably die.

The force of the explosion was so great that it shook all the houses in the neighborhood, and was heard for a distance of two or three miles.

There is no clue to the identity of persons who placed the explosive on the track.

Persons living in the neighborhood say they saw a man in a buggy stop at the corner of Kensington street, where the explosion occurred, and that he got out by the railway track.

The police are now searching for the buggy in which the dynamite is supposed to have been hidden, and all stations have been notified to be on the lookout for it.

Within a few moments after the explosion, a crowd of 1000 people assembled, and the injured who were suffering from shock were cared for until the ambulance arrived.

The motor man of the car managed to get out of the vestibule of the car and then fell to the street, but he quickly recovered and helped to extricate the passengers from the wreck.

Passengers who were on the car say the explosion seemed to lift the whole front end of the car, and it tipped up the floor for some distance from the end.

The car was, in fact, a complete wreck, but strange to say, it did not leave the rails, and was taken to the barn by the next outward-bound motor.

The police were quickly summoned to the scene of the explosion, and a force of men was detailed to investigate with a view of running down the person who placed the explosives on the track.

A boy living near the corner saw a mysterious man in the buggy. He said he noticed the buggy drive up there and stop, and saw the man get out.

There seems to be no doubt now that Mayor Farley will call the three or four available militia companies in this city, in addition to those already under arms.

The call will include the battery of artillery, and the governor may be requested to send other troops to the city.

A 12-year-old boy named Dorzich was shot and instantly killed by Ralph Hawley, non-union conductor this afternoon. An immense mob, enraged at the shooting, was quickly gathered. The police charged the crowd and made several arrests.

NO LICENSE Required of Citizens Who Wish to Subscribe for Bonds.

Anticipating the question whether a private citizen would have to pay a revenue tax to buy one of the popular loan bonds City Recorder Judah addressed a letter on the subject to the U. S. Treasury Dept.

His letter of date July 8 asked: "May a private citizen who has not secured a broker's license under subdivision 2 of section 2 of the War Revenue law of 1898, subscribe for and purchase any or all of the bonds so offered, or must he purchase through a licensed broker in order to comply with the intent of that law?"

THE TREASURY REPLIES under date of July 19, after quoting Mr. Judah's letter reciting the facts as to the issue of $65,000 of bonds, as follows:

"In reply you are hereby informed that it is not necessary for him to buy these bonds through a broker holding the special tax stamp. A private citizen may subscribe for and buy bonds without involving himself in special tax liability as a broker, provided he is not engaged in the business of negotiating such purchases. See ruling 20,873 in Treasury decisions, Mar. 23, 1899, page 579, as to what constitutes the business of a broker in contemplation of the statute, which will be shown you at the office of the Collector of Internal Revenue in Portland, Oregon, D. M. Dunne, Esq."

Respectfully Yours, G. W. WILSON, Com'r.

A Pardon Case.

Jas. Lee, Jr., of Gaston is sentenced to three years in state prison on a charge of rape committed upon a not very bright girl named Hammack, whose mother is in the asylum as a result of the family's troubles.

Young Lee and his father called on the Governor Friday. All the jurors but one, (who is dead) 600 petitioners, the girl's sister and others ask his pardon.

There is a large remonstrance against a pardon. Young Lee is out on parole and the case seems to be in his favor.

TROUBLESOME NEZ PERCES

Threaten to Murder Graders on the N. P.

By Associated Press to the Journal.

BOISE, Ida., July 24.—Word from Lewiston is to the effect that while the Indians on the Nez Perces reservation have outwardly submitted to an agreement with their chiefs to permit the Northern Pacific grade through their reservation to proceed, still the young bucks continue to manifest an ugly spirit, which is brutalized by liquor, furnished by white men.

They threaten to swoop down on the graders again as they did a few days ago, this time not to scare them off but to murder.

DEPOSED.—A man named Cook and Kellogg appeared for Wm. Haack and the city of Silverton.

Bingham & Carson and Senator Lou Adams appear with E. Hardesty, the substituted plaintiff, who is also shown by affidavits to have been employed by Smith and McCorkle as their attorney and agent.

The former suit was dismissed by Judge Boise because the party made plaintiff had not sufficient interest in the case to have signed the remonstrance against issuing the license.

Hardesty had signed the remonstrance and hence was substituted as plaintiff to meet the objections of the court to McCorkle.

THREE HARD AFFIDAVITS.

The affidavit of W. F. Davenport was presented to the court showing that Hardesty had signed the petition for Wm. Haack's license, saying he believed it would be a good thing for the city of Silverton, and then ask to have his name taken off the petition because Smith & McCorkle, the rival saloon keepers had employed him as their attorney and paid him a fee.

"Said Hardesty further stated that his request amounted to nothing, that the council would pay no attention to his said request, and that his sympathies as a citizen were with the petitioner still." Subscribed and sworn to.

F. W. Miller, of Silverton swears that Hardesty said he was employed by Smith & McCorkle, that it was a matter of business with him, and that he had nothing against Haack.

Another affidavit presented to the court was from E. R. Drake who swore that Hardesty told him he was making money out of the suit and the longer it could be kept in court the more he would make—possibly $300 or $400.

A COUNTER-AFFIDAVIT.

E. Hardesty swears: "It is not true as stated in the affidavit of W. F. Davenport that I asked to have my name taken off of the petition of Wm. Haack because Smith & McCorkle had employed me as their attorney to represent their interest in such matter or for any other reason except as stated in the request to the said council, or that they had at such time paid me any fee or retained me as their attorney."

"I did not state to said Davenport that my request amounted to nothing, and that the council would pay no attention to it, or that my sympathies as a citizen were with Wm. Haack."

This affidavit of Davenport is accompanied by the motion of counsel for defendant to quash the writ of review for the reason that plaintiff has no legal capacity or right to maintain the said proceeding.

The case was fully presented on argument by counsel and the court adjourned to two p. m.

HAACK'S LICENSE

Issued By the City Council of Silverton Still in Litigation.

Hard Affidavits Against Hardesty Met By a Counter Affidavit—Who Lies?

The second suit over the Silverton saloon license case was heard Monday before Judge Boise at 10 o'clock.

Depue and Cook and Holmes and Kellogg appeared for Wm. Haack and the city of Silverton.

NEW YORK, July 24.—A special to Herald from Washington says: There will be neither war nor arbitration over the Alaska boundary dispute. It will be settled by amicable agreement, both by the United States and Great Britain making concessions.

LONDON, July 24.—In the house of commons today Michael Davitt asked the government if in view of fact that the conduct of Mrs. Maybrick, in prison has been uniformly good, the home office would not recommend royal clemency in her case.

The secretary said he was unable to hold out hopes of exceptional clemency in the case of Mrs. Maybrick.
