PORTLAND RECEPTION

Informal Depot Greeting and a Collation Will Be Rendered.

Accommodations Will Be Also Extended to Soldiers Coming Home From Other States.

An informal meeting was held to con sider the matter of receiving the returning volunteers. Among those in attendance were Governor T. T. Geer, H. W. Scott, C. E. S. Wood, Senator Joseph Simon, General Charles F. Beebe, General B. B. Tuttle, E. D. Curtis, E. C. Masten, J. F. Batchelder, I. N. Fleischner, George L. Baker, Sol Blumaner, Sheriff Frazier, Senator S. E. Josephi and Captain William Gadsby. The meeting was informal, and results were mickly accomplished. The general opinion of those present seemed to be that the time had passed for the great reception as originally planned, and that the peeple simply wanted to show their good will and approciation of the men who had gone forth and fought the nation's battles. If the men of the Second Oregon wanted to make a parade on their return to Oregon, all right, the people would be glad to see it, but it would, of course, be optional with the men. Ii they were tired of parades, none will be expected of them. But, in any case, they would be met at the depot by bands of music and given a hearty welcome home. A collation would be tendered them, and, perhapsthere might be a regimental reception at the Armory when the colors are turned over to the custody of the gover-

If the volunteers whose homes were train at those places, all right. If they pronounced it a local disease, and prechoose to come on to Portland, they would be made welcome. But the cost treatment, pronounced it incurable No. 235 and 338 Commercial street, and are of paying their railroad fares back to Science has proven cutarrit to be a well stocked with a complete line of drugs and their homes would aggregate too much constitutional disease, and therefore to be thought of now.

If the volunteers from Eastern Oregon chose to stay over night in Portland, hotel accommodations would be freely arranged for them, and they would be rade to feel at home.

This same plan of general welcomrould be accorded to the Idaho, Wash ngton, Montana or Dakota volunteers as they passed through Portland, and the reputation of the city for patriotic hospitality would be fully sustained.

The above general sentiments were fully concurred in by all present, and John Brooks and Fred Miller, two then the cost was considered. It was in need of a laxative, and if the father paper to circulate in raising the funds known and every family remedy was drawn up as follows:

'Old Glory,"

In an address to railroad men at Pittsurg, not long ago, Samuel Harden hurch said some things worth repeatng about the flag of our country. Here re a few of them:

Why should the flag of such a young country be called "Old Glory"? Because t is twenty-three years older than the present flag of Great Britain, seventeen years older than the French tricolor, nearly a hundred years older than the present flag of Germany and Italy, and eight years older than the flag of Spain, When the Continental Congress found that the political bands which connected ns with the mother country had indeed been perpetually broken, they appointed a committee to devise a flag that should stand for the nation's independence, dignity, and power. George Washington was the chairman of the committee, and, upon receiving his report in 1777, Congress resolved, "That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; and union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation." At first a new star and a new stripe were added for each new State, but our vast territory was molded into new States so rapidly that this arrange-ment became cumbersome, and in 1818 Congress passed an act returning to the original thirteen stripes, but added a star for each new State. That is the law to-day, so that this flag has thirteen stripes, seven red and six white, and forty-five stars, representing a nation of eventy millions.

Immortal honor hangs thick on every quare inch of its fabric. It was adopted when the American people were but a human fringe on the sea coast, their way into the interior blocked by the red savages and howling wolves of the wildrness. The whole inspiration of our life as a nation flows out from the wave-ing folds of this banner. Our flag had its origin in that conflict whereby we achived our independence in the last century. Again, in 1812, it vindicated the principle that American scamen should not be impressed into service on foreign ships. In 1845 it again gave lib crty to Texas. In 1861 it carried free-dom to four million slaves in this country. It has been stormed at with sho and shell and torn to tatters in a hun dred battles, but it has always waved for freedom, and after every conflict its advanced position in a Letter civilization has ameliorated and improved the condition of human society. It stands now for a united people; it is beloved in every section of our territory, and when it Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J.
