BOER IDEAS.

Questions of Religions Liberty and Education Treated by Kruger.

Some idea of the legislation, obtaining in the Boer Volksraad, bringing on the war just commenced and of the simple nature of the burghers constituting the Transvaal republic is to be obtained in the following excerpt from the report of the First read (similar to the United States congress) during its recent session:

RELIGIOUS DISABILITIES.

The following draft of amendment of article 31 (religious disabilities) of the Grundwet was laid in printed form before the read this morning: "Article 31—To be eligible for membership of the First or Second read, and to be able to take and retain seats as such, one must be a burgher of the public, as respectively stipulated in the law mentioned in article 9 of the Grundwet must be at least 30 years old, live in the republic and possess fixed property in it, believe in the revelations of God, through His word in the Bible, have had no dishonouring sentence against him, not have lost the disposal and control of his goods in consequence of definite sequestration of his estate whatsoever, or be under curators, nor be deprived of eligibility in any manner, and must, moreover, have fulfilled and full the stipulations prescribed in the franchise law."

REPRESENTATIVE KRUGER'S POSITION.

The following is the translation of a document which was laid before the read recently at the instance of the president: "That the proposal not to exclude anybody on account of difference in religion from burgher privileges, has become a subject of serious consideration through the history of the last century; therefore, with regard to the Jews, the following question must present itself to a Christian people: 'May a Christian nation and a Christian government place obstacles in the way of society, which will impede the development of this nation in the midst of the nations of the world, whereby they are placed in a subordinate position, and consequently also their prophesied revival and approach to truth in Christ are obstructed,' and to this we humbly reply: 'No, on the ground of God's word.'"

Israel exists as the people of the Lord's covenant through all ages. They remain the people of the Lord in all their wanderings. See what Paul says after their rejection of Christ, Rom. XI:2: "God had not cast away His people, which He foreknew;" and verse 28, "As concerning the Gospel, they are enemies for your sakes, but as touching the election they are beloved;" and when it is there pointed out how we (the other nations) through the temporal fallings of Israel have been privileged with the glorious means of grace, the following text is added in our behalf, Romans, XI:18: "Boast not against branches, but if thou boast thou bearest not root, but the root thereof."

"This boasting in a spiritual sense is transferred to political affairs. If we consider them inferior, and exclude them from burgher privileges, owing to the light granted us out of compassion through this inferiority, hostility against Christianity is constantly nursed in them. On the contrary, the history of the last centuries supplies proof that in the various countries where the Jews have obtained burgher rights, Christianity has gained more and more access to them, and it can be proved with statistics that most of the conversions of the Jews took place there. Thus, instead of making enemies of them by despising them, we are called to draw them nearer to the Gospel by friendliness. Romans X., verse 19: "I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people." According to this text it is our calling to provoke, in love, Israel to jealousy through our Christian life. Further, on the principle of freedom of religion, for the Protestant who has striven exactly for this can not exclude those who think otherwise, and this also we may note (although in the earlier years the Romans persecuted us) act similarly by excluding them from burgher privileges. That exclusion has already the appearance of persecution, and is in conflict with Christian life and Christian love. That was not the Savior's principle. His words were: "Make friends for yourselves from among the unjust mammon." If we exclude a Roman Catholic, and admit a Protestant, we lose sight of the fact that in our times there are Protestants who are atheists, and simply appeal to the name Protestant in opposition to Roman Catholic. Brethren, do not judge my proposal carelessly, do not judge according to your own opinion; but test my proposal through God's word, so that you do not act against God's word by doing this sin. I propose to put in our law in place of the word "Protestant," "those who believe in the revelations of God through His word in the Bible." (Signed) E. J. P. KRUGER.

CONTROL OF EDUCATION.

In this part of the proceeding, as will be seen, the state attorney calmly gives warning to the read not to extend the education laws lest the outlanders introduce the "schools to steal" existing in European cities.

"Article 136 of the draft Grundwet read: 'The imparting of education is free, subject to the supervision of the state, to be regulated by law. The law shall stipulate under what conditions the state shall grant subsidies to education.'"

"Messrs. De Toit and Uys understood the article to give the government supervision over all schools, including private schools, and in that case they were opposed to the article.

"Mr. Stoffel Toes asked if, under article 136, the government could make laws for, and supervise private schools not subsidized by the state?

"The state attorney said the article was very general. It might happen that private schools were established for the purpose of by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be impaired forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

FRANK DURBIN IN CLOVER.

What Marion County's Sheriff Has Done With That Succulent Crop.

Marion county's popular sheriff, Frank W. Durbin, who is also something of a farmer on the side, is certainly in clover. This year he sowed 80 acres to clover instead of summer following it. The result was he cut from it three tons of hay to the acre, and later cut 30 acres of the second crop, from which he is threshing over three and a half bushels (215 pounds) to the acre. Good clover hay is now worth about $7 per ton and clover seed $5.50 per bushel. Figure it out for yourself and see whether Marion county has a good business man for a sheriff.

Home From Roseburg.

Contractor Herman Snook has returned from Roseburg, where he has completed the Douglas county court house. It has been accepted by the county courts as every way satisfactory. Mr. Snook is well pleased with the treatment received from the authorities and his reputation for good faithful service has not suffered. The plans and specifications were strictly adhered to and he highly complements the architect, Chas. Burgraf of this city. He says that on the whole work he was only able to run a bill for $105, outside of the specifications as made and he considers it about as close an economic figuring as can be made by any architect. Mr. Snook says he has made fair wages and allowed none but honest work to be done on the entire job.
