We buy them back!

The reliability of this store and its methods of doing business are so well understood by its patrons that it is, perhaps, unnecessary to call attention to our manner of dealing with goods that may be returned to us on account of being unsatisfactory to the purchaser. If for any reason you are dissatisfied with any purchase made in this store, you have but to bring it back and exchange for other goods or get the amount of money paid therefor. In other words, we "buy them back" and do not haggle over the price.

AN OLD SETTLER GONE

Capt. L. E. Pratt Passes Away Sunday Morning.

Manager of the First Woolen Mill and Pioneer on the River—Death's Harvest at Jefferson.

The death of Capt. L. E. Pratt occurred at 10:30 a. m. Sunday, Nov. 19th, at the Salem Hospital, where he was under treatment for paralysis. He had been a sufferer for a long time and his case was a hopeless one, so that his death was not unexpected.

Lucian E. Pratt was born in Douglas, Mass., June 18 1824. He resided in Massachusetts and Rhode Island until 1857.

He was married to Nancy B. Lawrence at Pittsfield, Mass., in 1844.

On May 4, 1857, Mr. Pratt started for this coast, and he arrived in Salem June 7th of the same year. He came in the interest of parties who, with himself, proposed to start a woolen mill here. After looking over the ground, he made his plans and went back east after machinery which he brought out and put in operation, acting as manager for many years. This was the old woolen mill on North Mill creek, which afterward burned down, and here Capt. Pratt's daughter, now Mrs. Mary E. Haas, wove the first pair of woolen blankets made on the coast. The deceased always took great pride in the fact that he was a pioneer in this industry which has since attained such importance here.

A few years later he superintended the building of the woolen mills at Oregon City, and the construction of the first basin above the falls. His son Wm. E. Pratt has been superintendent of these mills for about thirty years. Later he went into steambathing on the Willamette, which he followed for many years and here he got his title of Captain. His residence has been in Salem since his first arrival and he is well known to all the old settlers. Since the death of Mrs. Pratt in 1891 he has made his home with his son-in-law, Henry Haas.

He became a member of the order of Odd Fellows before leaving the East. He was one of the oldest members of Chesapeake No. 1, and the order has nobly fulfilled its obligations since illness took hold of the old pioneer.

He was deputy county clerk for several years under F. J. Babcock. About two years ago he was attacked by creeping paralysis and the disease steadily grew upon him until it resulted in his death. He has suffered a great deal, and only an iron constitution and great will power has kept him up so long. About five weeks ago he was taken to the Salem hospital where he could receive more skillful care than was possible at the home.

He leaves two daughters and one son: Mrs. Mary E. Haas and Mrs. Ida Babcock, of Salem and Wm. E. Pratt of Oregon City. There are also ten grandchildren: Frank P., Carrie E. and Ida L. Haas, and Wm. P., Grace M. and Mary B. Babcock, of Salem, and Forbes B., N. Maria, Hattie Mary and Charlotte A. Pratt, of Oregon City. Two sisters also reside in Salem: Mrs. Judge R. P. Boise and Mrs. C. L. Parmenter.

Chesapeake No. 1 will have charge of the funeral which will take place at the home, corner of Union and Liberty streets, at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, services being conducted by Rev. P. S. Knight, and burial will be in the Odd Fellows' cemetery.

DEATH AT JEFFERSON.

Mrs. W. F. Hogg died at her home in Jefferson, Saturday, Nov. 18, at 7 p. m. Mrs. Hogg was a daughter of M. G. Caldwell and was born in Jackson county, Oregon, August 13, 1850, coming with her parents to Salem in 1882, residing there since that time.

Sie was married to W. F. Hogg, December 28, 1868, at the residence of the groom's sister Mrs. F. S. Shaler, at Salem, Oregon.

Mrs. Hogg was greatly beloved by the people of Jefferson and her death has cast a gloom over the entire community. The funeral services were conducted at 1 o'clock today by Esther Hine Lodge No. 4, K. O. T. M., of which the deceased was a valued member. Rev. Atkins of Oregon City, an old friend of Mrs. Hogg's parents assisted in conducting the services.

MARION COUNTY MAN VERY ILL.

H. H. Smith and sister, Mrs. J. E. Craig, left today to visit their father, J. K. Smith, at Newport, who is very ill. A telegram on Sunday night reported in substance that he was not expected to live. About a week ago he fell on the street, but his early recovery was hoped for.

Mrs. W. H. Howd, of Shaw, is also a daughter. Mr. Smith was born and raised in Marion county, being a son of Henry Smith, a pioneer of Ansonville, and a brother of W. H. Smith, of Turner, and H. W. Smith, of Sublimity.

SONOMA COUNTY HOPS

Nearly Two Thousand Bales Sold in California.

The Highest Price Paid to Date is Twelve Cents—Market Notes.

Thursday and Friday were active days in the local hop market, and many sales are credited to these dates. In all about 221 bales of Sonoma county hops changed hands on Friday. The record for Thursday was 274 bales, and the footings in all these recent sales amount to about 1,662 bales.

Though it is estimated that this season's yield exceeds the yield of last season by about 5,000 bales, and the product is on the average of superior quality, this season's prices do not reach last season's figures. In November, 1908, 17 1/2 cents was paid for hops, though the market went down considerably later. The highest price paid this season is 12 cents received by Grace Brothers for a small number of bales sold directly to a consumer.

Buyer C. C. Donovan has paid 11 1/2 cents for several hundred bales recently purchased from Mr. Peterson. Among those whose hops were previously contracted, is James F. Burgess, who delivered 150 bales to Philip Wolf & Co., of San Francisco. The balance of his crop, consisting of about 200 bales, were also taken by Wolf, through their buyer, Albert Meyer.

Thursday's sales were as follows: Grace Hall to C. C. Donovan, 87 bales; Mrs. Peterson to the same buyer, 300; C. and W. Legget, also to Donovan, 184; Friday sales were Solly Jones to Wolf & Co., 230 bales; George Callahan to Nevius & Drescher of Sacramento, through their buyer, Nat. Walter, 160; George Boyd to Wolf & Co., 131 bales; Grace Bros. recently distributed 385 of this season's crop among the several buyers. Wolf & Co., received 110 bales; C. C. Donovan, 50; Jacks, Carmichael & Co., 200; a San Jose brewer, 25 bales.

Mr. Hinkley of the Laguna sold 150 bales of hops to Jacks, Carmichael & Co. Leggett Bros. and Harvey Brittain sold respectively to C. C. Donovan 227 and 137 bales. Wolf & Co. bought 137 bales from Morris Brittain.

A High Commitment.

The American army camp in Tokloha is not more satisfactory than the compliments tendered the manufacturer of "Little Champion" cigars by his patrons.

Bought Hops.

G. W. Hubbard the hop buyer was in Washington last week and while there he purchased about 1000 bales of hops at 8 and 10 cents.

Brown's in Town.

An unended laugh is the way the management of "Brown's in Town" describes the newest farce which will be the attraction at the opera house Saturday night. It is replete with humorous complications and is said to brim over with witty thrusts and a choice selection of catchy musical numbers. The action of the farce all takes place during one summer's day in the country home of a man supposed to be Mr. Brown but in reality is the young hero. The plot hinges on the desires of a young man who marries at the age of 23 against the wishes of his father and takes his bride to the country place to concoct a scheme whereby he can break the news to his father. He wishes to be alone, but his friends and relatives happen in, and to keep his marriage a secret, causes quite a number of complications to arise. Three acts are used in which to tell the story, the first being morning, the second afternoon, and the third night.

Clean Streets.

All residents of Salem are hereby notified not to permit any old paper, sawdust, broken glass, old bottles, crockery, nails or other substance to be thrown upon the public streets or alleys. Section 25 of City Ordinance No. 293 imposes a fine of from $5 to $50 for such offence, and the same will be strictly enforced.
