A bill was read by Recorder Judah against Marion county for one-half the amount expended for property at the county pest house, amounting to $128.74.

The city recorder was authorized to present said bill to Marion county, and also the following bills against individuals for expenses incurred by the small-pox contagion, medical service, fumigating property, etc:

CHEAP GOODS IN SALEM.
Goods were never sold so cheap in Salem as they are just now. Some of our merchants have gone out of business, some are moving into other quarters, while there are others entering new ventures. People now visiting Salem can buy goods cheaper than for years past. George C. Will, music and sewing machine dealer, is selling out his stock to turn over his business to a new man in about 30 to 60 days. Willis Bros. have just disposed of their stock to Green Bunn, which is being auctioned off. T. Holverson is selling at reduced prices, with the intention of putting in a new stock of goods in his new quarters across the street from where he is at present located. Wiggins' Bazar is selling out to allow Mr. Wiggins to enter a new venture. Osburn's Racket store is advertising a closing-out sale. So many changes among Salem's leading business men were never heard of before, nor were goods ever offered at such amazingly low prices in the capital city of Oregon.

DEATH BY DROWNING
Wm. Burbee Loses His Life Near Junction City.
Leaves a Wife and Three Small Children. Was a Member of the A. O. U. W.

Wm. Burbee, who has resided in Salem about 11 years and has a wife and family here, was drowned near Junction City Monday, while in performance of his duties as a lineman for the Oregon Telephone and Telegraph Co.

He went out on horseback to fix some trouble on the line, a good part of the country through which he had to pass being flooded by the prevailing high water. As the state of the line showed that no repairs had been made, another man was sent later.

He found Burbee's horse near the bridge over Lancaster slough showing evidences of having been under water and the rider's fate was then surmised.

The bridge mentioned stands above water but the road for some distance from the bridge was flooded. The road used to run straight to higher ground, but the grade was washed out some time ago, and the new grade was put in on a curve. It is supposed that Burbee started straight from the bridge to where the old grade showed above water, and his horse plunged off into 15 feet of water. Burbee had on gum boots and rubber coat and was also carrying a coil of wire around his neck. He must have lost his seat and was then helpless to save himself.

Members of the A. O. U. W., of which order Mr. Burbee was a member, and others were notified, and a search for the body was at once commenced, by dragging with barbed wire the coil of wire carried by the unfortunate lineman was first caught and the body was brought to the land about 5 p. m. yesterday.

The body was brought to this city on this morning's overland and taken to the residence in North Salem, where it still lies. The deceased is not disfigured, but looks quite natural.

Wm. Burbee was born in Canada, August 28, 1861, and came to the United States at an early age. He came to Salem eleven years ago and entered the employ of the Electric Light company. On October 28, 1890, he was married to Jennie Forkner, daughter of Thomas Forkner, at the home of the bride's parents near Fruitland. There are three children, a boy aged 8, a girl aged 6 and a baby boy 1 year old.

Deceased was a member of Protection Lodge No. 2, A. O. U. W., and the bereaved family will receive $2000 from that source.

Junction City Lodge, No. 123, A. O. U. W., took charge of the remains there and sent a representative, J. H. Miller, to accompany them to this city. Protection Lodge, No. 2, will at its meeting tonight perfect the arrangements for the funeral, which will be held under their auspices at 10 a. m. Thursday, at the residence one block east of North school. Rev. P. S. Knight will conduct the services, and burial will take place in City View cemetery.

A marriage license was issued this morning to Arthur Hodges and Stella P. Gesner, LeRoy L. Gesner acting as witness.

SCHOOL LEVY RAISED
Five Mills the Present Figure—Stayton Bridge Damaged.
The county court this morning took action in the matter of the school tax levy. Section 22, of the act passed at last session of the legislature, provides that the county court shall levy a tax of 5 mills for school purposes when other taxes are levied. This was overlooked when the levy was made, and as it appeared that 4 1/2 mills would provide money enough, that was the amount of the levy. This morning the court corrected this action and made the levy 5 mills.

THE STAYTON BRIDGE.
A letter was received by Judge Terrell yesterday from Henry Keene of Stayton, saying that the bridge across the Santiam at that place had been damaged by high water and was impassible except for foot passengers.

Three bents under the north approach to the bridge had been undermined and the upper side has settled about 4 feet. Word reached the judge later that the citizens had cleared away the drift from the upper side, and the structure was in no immediate danger.

Commissioner Davis went to Stayton this afternoon to look into the matter, Judge Terrell being occupied here, and Commissioner Milroy somewhat indisposed.

WEDDING BELLS
Miss Stella Gesner United in Marriage With Arthur Hodges of Prineville.
At six o'clock this evening Stella Pearl Gesner, one of Salem's pretty and accomplished young ladies will be joined in matrimony to Arthur Hodges, of Prineville, county clerk of Crook county. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. John Parsons, of the First Methodist church, in the presence of the family and about 25 of the closer friends. The residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Gesner, at the corner of Cottage and Ferry streets has been beautifully decorated for the occasion, with smilax, potted plants and cut flowers.

The young couple will stand under a beautiful floral horse shoe, and will be supported by Miss Leona Paine as bridesmaid and LeRoy L. Gesner, brother of the bride, as best man.

After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding supper will be served.

The happy couple will take their departure on the south-bound overland for a ten days' bridal tour in California, after which they will proceed to Prineville their future home.

CLOSING OUT STOCK AT EXACT COST!

The Rush Continues

Notwithstanding yesterday's rain and storm, the crowd filled our store to overflowing again.

There are no doubtful looks cast toward us now when we quote a cost price.

The few who thought this a possible fake sale have come to their senses, and are keen enough to get their pick of the good things. We don't want to be considered mean, but when a person that feeling comes back those days for a thing they ought to have known was a snap, it "kind of" does us good to be able to say "all one."

Now, just a word regarding what you'll find here. We have lots and lots of shoes for working men, for dressy men, for ladies' fine or heavy wear, for boys and girls heavy wear. Mackintoshes for everyone, underwear, wool and cotton hosiery, sweaters for boys and men, white and colored shirts, suspenders, ties, and fine silk-lined and plain Mohca goods, men's working gloves in all grades, overalls, overshirts, fascinators, mittens, of all qualities for ladies, misses and children, children's booties, knit sacques, etc., yarns, cashmere gloves, etc., silk mittens, ladies' collars, fine handkerchiefs, etc. A good assortment of kitchenware, glassware, etc., and smaller notions of all kinds. We are selling every item at spot cost and if you doubt it compare prices. Our cost mark is free if you ask for it.

MERCHANTS, we can do you good on various lines we carry. Several have come in and secured good buys in different lines. Don't hesitate to come and look around. We are determined to make short work of this, and you can save time and money on anything you need that we may have.

I Mean Business.

I'm going to get out at once, and if any one wants to buy me out completely there's a good business for him. I will announce in due time my plans for the immediate future.

Now, Say! The Shoes are going like a flash.

You'll be wondering in a few days why you didn't come down and get a pair. Men, women and children from all over town; all grades of society are buying shoes. Some lines of goods we are closing out to the dealers complete, and we want to say that we will be glad to meet any of them on anything we have to sell.

Wednesday
We will do as we did yesterday, open for business at 9; close from 12 to 1:30 to lunch and straighten up stock, and then close for the day at 5:30. Have to take some time to straighten up after the rush we have. Govern yourselves accordingly.

Now, just a word regarding what you'll find here. We have lots and lots of shoes for working men, for dressy men, for ladies' fine or heavy wear, for boys and girls heavy wear. About Wheels and Sundries.

My new lines will not be in for a few weeks yet. Meanwhile all my carried over ones to close out at Cost. Keep your eye on my new lines.

Wiggin's Bazaar, 307 Com. St., Salem.

We cannot deliver any more packages. Our clerks are too busy, and, selling goods at cost, we can't afford to hire them delivered.
