THE TALL BOY.

Talks Too Much and Gets Himself Into Trouble.

Chas. Breckner, known around Salem as the tall boy from Dallas, war arrested last night by Officer Smith on a warrant issued out of Recorder Judah's court, charging him with the larceny of about $30 worth of lard and meats from the butcher shop of Moyer & Edwards. The crime was committed sometime during Sunday night. Yesterday Breckers, who claims to be a detective, visited the shop of Moyer & Edwards, and after making some statement as to the theft the proprietors concluded to have him arrested on the charge. His trial was set for 10 o'clock today, but upon motion of District Attorney Hayden the case was dismissed.

There was no evidence connecting him with the crime, except his own wild talk, and after his arrest he confessed that he had been talking through his hat.

The young fellow seems to have been trying to be smart, but didn't know exactly how to get at it. This little experience will probably be a warning to him.

IT'S NOT A "BUSTED ROW."

Business Men Resent the Imputation of Their "Outlander" Friend.

EDITOR JOURNAL:—The business men in what an Outlander who has been growing fat in our town (for the first time in his life) calls "Busted Row," smile when they read the bombast that this man has the effrontry to publish. He came here some years ago, when our city took him in, and treated him as it does all strangers that come to her door. He has prospered with us, and while he has hopped from one part of the town to another, from pillar to post, we have smiled and gone on doing business "at the old stand." We may be in "poverty Row," but most of us have been here from 30 to 40 years, and in no part of town do so many people do business in their own buildings as right in that row. Perhaps "Outlander" is now making arrangements to get his stock back to a man in "Poverty Row" who has a golden string on it, and is going to have it where he can control it. Was rent too high for this "Outlander" that he left and went to the suburbs where it's cheaper? He had better come back and prosper once more, and if he can't afford it we'll all chip in and help the prodigal back to the land of milk and honey.

SOME BURGHERS.

THE BILL IS ALLOWED

Uncle Sam Ready to Pay for the New Postoffice Site.

The following letter received this morning from the treasury department at Washington is self-explanatory. Mayor Bishop and City Recorder Judah are more than pleased with the results, and it is all proof that their course in the matter has been the right one. They have consistently and persistently pushed the matter since the day it was authorized, and this prompt result in the matter of auditing the bill is complimentary evidence that their work was accurately and well done.

THE LETTER.

OFFICE OF AUDITOR FOR TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 13, 1900.

City of Salem, Oregon:—

Your account for sale of land to the United States in November, 1899, amounting to the sum of $7,500, payable from the appropriation for postoffice, Salem, Oregon, has been settled as rendered, as per audit No. 22,731, and transmitted to the Secretary of the Treasury that a warrant may issue for the amount.

Respectfully yours,
W. E. ANDREWS,
Auditor,

E. M'KETHERICK,
Deputy Auditor.

As soon as the warrant is received one-half of the amount will be turned over to the Willson heirs, as agreed. Out of their sum, however, will be deducted half the expense for legal fees, or $125, as per a private agreement made with Recorder Judah, to whom special credit is due for this forethought and constant watchfulness of the city's interest.

THE HOP POOL GROWS.

The Number of Hops Listed With the Association Reaches 10,000 Bales.

James Winstanley, the Salem representative of the Oregon Hopgrowers' Association, said last night that the office at Salem now has over 10,000 bales of hops listed. The pool has been growing more rapidly in the last two days than ever before, over 2000 bales having been brought in through the Salem office alone. Samples of all the hops held by this office have been inspected and the hops classified according to quality.

The officials of the association do not distinguish between "classifying" and "grading" hops, but use the former term because it is less objectionable to hopgrowers. It is noted, however, that, when a buyer purchases from the association he "grades" the hops himself. When the proceeds of sales are divided among the members of the pool the division will be made upon the basis of the "classification."

THE FLOURING MILL.

Company Will Replace the One Destroyed By Fire.

Construction to Commence Soon and Mill to Be Thoroughly Modern—Good News for Salem.

It may be stated as a positive fact that the Salem Flouring Mill Co. will in the near future begin work on a new mill to replace the one destroyed by fire last fall. This was determined upon some time ago, and the officers of the company have been examining plans and specifications submitted to them, with a view to securing the best.

The new mill may not be so large as the old one but it will have the latest improved machinery and be strictly up to date in every particular.

With the object of adopting the best plans possible, the officers of the company have delayed in accepting any until they should have heard from several different parties whom they had invited to submit plans.

The representative of the last one of these parties was expected to arrive in Portland last evening from the East.

After his arrival, the plans for the new mill will be determined upon and the work of construction will commence in the near future.

The rumor that the brick mill at the mouth of North Mill creek might be put in order and run, instead of building a new one, proves to have been entirely without foundation. The head miller of the association, of which Mr. Wilcox is the head and which controls a number of mills at different points, was in Salem a couple of weeks ago to look over the ground, and he positively stated that no such plan would be adopted.

This is good news for Salem. It speaks much louder for this city as a business point than would the blackened ruins of a manufacturing establishment of any kind. This place needs more self-supporting institutions giving employment to the people.

The flouring mills not only give employment to fifteen or twenty men but they bring trade to the city from the farmers in all directions, and it distributes cold cash among the people.

It is gratifying to learn that the mills will be rebuilt without unnecessary delay.

Southern Pacific Stock.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Discussing a report that the Stanford-Hopkins holdings of Southern Pacific recently purchase by the Huntington-Speyer syndicate, had been sold to E. H. Harriman and Jacob H. Schiff, representing the Union Pacific, President C. P. Huntington, of the Southern Pacific said:

"There is not a word of truth in it. I know exactly where and how that stock is held. And I may say, in passing that I am not selling any Southern Pacific stock. Rather I am buying it. As for the interests which you say purchased these shares, I can only say that some time ago they did purchase some Southern Pacific stock at my advice. But you can rest assured that they have not gotten hold of the Stanford-Hopkins holdings. As for our relations to the Union Pacific, they are of the best."

Statue of Daniel Webster.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The statute of Daniel Webster presented to the government by Stelson Hutchins was unvailed here on this, his birthday, today with appropriate ceremonies. Senator Chandler of New Hampshire presided over the exercises which were held at the Lafayette Opera House. Senator Lodge of New Hampshire made a speech after which the president accepted the gift on behalf of the United States. The committee and invited guests drove to Scott Circle where the statue was unveiled.

NEW CITIZENS.

Councilman Burrows is Now a Good American.

Two men have been admitted to citizenship by the county judge within a week, Alfred Brown, a native of Canada, and Thomas Burrows, a native of England.

It may be somewhat of a surprise to find a member of the city council taking out his citizenship papers, but the fact is Mr. Burrows has been a citizen nearly all his life and has voted and held office, but when he came to register he ran up against a snag. He came to this country with his parents before he was of age, and his father was afterward admitted to citizenship, which made "Tommy" a citizen.

But the old gentleman is now dead and Mr. Burrows does not know in what court he was naturalized. Even if he did know, it would cost him as much to get a transcript of the record as it has to take out papers of his own, so he has taken the latter course, and is now straight on the registration books.

This course will probably be found the cheapest and easiest in many cases where those of foreign birth cannot produce the required evidence that they have been naturalized.

ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT.

Sheriff Durbin Has a Lively Chase, But Gets His Man.

A warrant was issued in Justice Johnson's court for the arrest of Max Stillinger, charging him with the crime of assault and battery upon the person of C. W. Togan, preferred by his victim. The warrant was placed in the hands of Sheriff Durbin, and after a lively chase the sheriff succeeded in making the arrest. Sheriff Durbin called at Stillinger's house, which is known as the Half-way House, in North Salem, and after considerable difficulty in trying to gain admission, discovered that his man had left by a rear door and was making a lively run toward the river bank. Sheriff Durbin immediately gave chase, and he succeeded in catching his man on High street. Stillinger's intention was to go down the river to Lincoln, and catch a boat, but changing his mind, started for the depot, and Sheriff Durbin hailed a passing buggy and overtook him. He was arraigned in court and his hearing set for 3 o'clock today.

CLOSING OUT STOCK AT EXACT COST!

WEDNESDAY completely eclipsed all records. Besides a tremendous jam in regular trade, three other merchants came in and bought largely of our lines. We want to say that most every item in our store was bought before the advances which now makes the cost of nearly every article we use higher. We can save not only the customer, but the merchant, good amounts. Read over the lines we carry.

FRIDAY we will open from 9 to 12 and from 1:30 to 5:30. Some of our brother merchants that imagine we are running a "josh" would do well to come in about three o'clock any day and see people almost pulling hair to get the goods. LOTS OF NICE LACES for the spring sewing. Come and save money.

Now, just a word regarding what you'll find here. We have lots and lots of shoes for working men, for dressy men, for ladies' fine or heavy wear, for boys and girls heavy wear. Mackintoshes for everyone, underwear, wool and cotton hosiery, sweaters for boys and men, white and colored shirts, suspenders, ties, and fine silk-lined and plain Mohca goods, men's working gloves in all grades, overalls, overshirts, fascinators, mittens, of all qualities for ladies, misses and children, children's bootees, knit sacques, etc., yarns, cashmere gloves, etc., silk mittens, ladies' collars, fine handkerchiefs etc. A good assortment of kitchenware, glassware, etc., and smaller notions of all kinds. We are selling every item at spot cost and if you doubt it compare prices. Our cost mark is free if you ask for it.

MERCHANTS, we can do you good on various lines we carry. Several have come in and secured good buys in different lines. Don't hesitate to come and look aronnd. We are determined to make short work of this, and you can save time and money on anything you need that we may have.

I Mean Business.

I'm going to get out at once, and if any one wants to buy me out completely there's a good business for him. I will announce in due time my plans for the immediate future.

About Wheels and Sundries.

My new lines will not be in for a few weeks yet. Meanwhile all my carried over ones to close out at Cost. Keep your eye on my new lines.
