Editorial Review

A few alleged reform politicians, whose education consisted mainly of imbibing the corrupt principles of the old machine leaders, and who never operate above the plane of working a party for personal purposes, are travelling over the state to get control of the Populist party organization. These leaders are well known, and their contamination with Portland boodle methods is well understood. A party put in power under such leadership can do nothing for the taxpayer, but set a new and hungrier flock of cormorants preying off his vitals. Such individuals elected to office merely regard it as an opportunity for a personal graft. Their powers of resistance to corruption are about as strong as those of a denizen of peppermint flat. So far as the taxpayers of Marion county are concerned, they have nothing to hope for from Holt, et al, vs. the State of Oregon. "Good" Republicans declare his campaign expenses and bills for litigation in the last state campaign were paid by the representative of Mark Hanna at Salem out of funds raised out of the Insane asylum employes. What would such do if they were put directly in control of affairs?

What every honest man and taxpayer, who does not hope to live wholly or partly at the public crib, should do in Oregon, is to see to it that his name is registered as a legal voter. If his papers are not perfect, as those of many legal voters are not, he should get himself recorded as a citizen, register, and prepare to put his knife politically through such men as Holt on election day.

This is not said against Holt personally or as a Populist, but to warn the voter of his duty. The Holts, of all parties, you have with you always. Make the sacrifice of time and expense to register yourself and your neighbor, to help nominate men of good character, who are not wretched impecunious politicians for STUFF, and then help elect them. Do not wait to be paid to do your duty if you love your country.

The worst crime of the age is pretending to originate a movement for the people, proclaiming reform principles to deceive the taxpayer, and all to serve corruptionists of other parties, and add to the sum total of public demoralization. The battle for reform along these lines is a farce, a fraud and a debauchery of the voter, to which no honest man when he fully understands it can finally lend himself. Who can point to a good law or a single reform that has been brought about through the operations of leaders like these? Oregon is worse off today and taxes are higher in the state and in counties where they have operated successfully.

The taxpayers are alive to the fact that the Holts of any party are a luxury and a fraud, especially when found marching under a reform banner. They are no obstacle to frauds on the ballot, to legislative corruption, to manipulation of public funds. The candidate who wants to steal an office, buy a senatorship and loot the treasury prays for their success and contributes to their support. This is the naked truth about the Holts.

THE JOURNAL would like to suggest that the mothers of a community have some right to be heard in the public school management. Will not some of our Salem mothers take their pen in hand and write us their thoughts about the public schools, and give our readers their point of view on public school management. The mothers who rear the children, who feed and clothe and dress them for the school, have ideas on school management, and certainly the mothers and schools can work fully in harmony and along the best lines for the child. The schools do not exist for the teachers, the politicians, or taxpayers They exist to help the mothers bring up good and useful men and women. THE JOURNAL believes the mothers have a right to make their views known, to have their wishes respected, and even to be directly represented on the school board. The women who pay taxes and who have children of school age are voters at the coming school election and are vitally interested in having a school director chosen, who will look at schools from their standpoint. The law composing the school board of five members, who hold five years each, is a bad law in one respect. As only one director is chosen each year, it takes three years to change the composition of a majority of the board. But it has this advantage, that each year the fifth member is chosen a new majority may be formed. Hence let there be a full expression of views.

A JUDGE WHO WENT TO JAIL.

Denver Post, Feb. 11.

Judge George Hayford, of Salem, Oregon, has made a unique investigation of the Oregon state prison. He was a recognized authority in criminal law below his elevation to the bench and has served a term as attorney general of his state. In every respect his standing is excellent. Since he became judge various reports have reached him of abuses in the state prison, cruelties practiced on prisoners and meager and poor fare given them. As to the truth of these stories so circumstantially told as to appear to be absolute verity, he was unable by inquiry in his official capacity to obtain satisfactory information.

Here, where a less determined and resourceful man would have been stopped short, Judge Hayford began his real investigation. He doffed the ermine and went to prison, a prisoner, self sentenced for contempt of court. A few friends only knew the secret. It had to be confided to them to insure the successful operation of the plan. No one at the prison dreamed the identity of the prisoner who, treated like all the other inmates of the institution, was able to secure the precise information he desired.

It is said Judge Hayford found that what he suspected was true. He is now engaged in preparing a report for the prison authorities, in which he will outline the discoveries he made and suggest a means of bettering the condition of the prisoners. Though the information at hand of Judge Hayford's undertaking is incomplete, it is sufficient to satisfy anyone of his devotion to duty and his originality of method. He certainly is worthy of the highest commendation, also, for the kindliness of heart that actuated him. None of us desires to become a state entertained visitor in a penal institution, but we all do believe that prisoners should be humanely treated and subjected to no humiliating punishment that may tend to their further degradation.

Oh, the Pain of Rheumatism!

Rheumatism often causes the most intense suffering. Many have for years vainly sought relief from this disabling disease, and are to-day worse off than ever. Rheumatism is a blood disease, and Swift's Specific is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which can reach such deep-seated diseases.

A few years ago I was taken with inflammatory Rheumatism, which became so intense that I was for weeks unable to walk. I retained several prominent physicians and took their treatment faithfully, but was unable to get the slightest relief. In fact, my condition seemed to grow worse, the disease spread over my entire body, and from November to March I suffered agony. I tried many patent medicines, but none relieved me. Upon the advice of a friend I decided to try S. S. S. Before allowing me to take it, however, my guardian, who was a chemist, analyzed the remedy, and pronounced it free of potash or mercury. I felt so much better after taking two bottles, that I continued the remedy, and in two months I was entirely well. The cure was permanent, for I have never since had a touch of Rheumatism though many times exposed to damp and cold weather.

BENJAMIN M. TERRELL,

Don't suffer longer with Rheumatism. Throw salds your oils and liniments, as they can not reach your trouble. Don't experiment with doctors—their potash and mercury will add to your disability and completely destroy your digestion.

BEWARE, BASE ALBION!

By Joaquin Miller in the Pacific Monthly.

Beware, base Albion, beware!
"Perfidious Albion" of old
Her name; her fame, or foul or fair,
To get and get and hold and hold;
To get and get or land or gold,
Wherever she could cast a snare
About the weak, before the old—
Beware, false Albion, beware.

Here by our swift, sweet Oregon
She bullied, bribed, she begged, she lied!
She laid her lion's paw upon
Our Pioneers till they defied
Her to her teeth. Just as the Boer
Today defies and bravely dies
As did the Spartan band of yore
For all that fearless freemen prize.

Beware, cursed Albion, beware!
Her cunning trade is still the same;
To get and get; or how or where;
Enslave and rob in freedom's name!
Beware her friendship! Better far
Her hate. We dared, we still can dare
Her hate, her hate in peace or war,
But ah, her friendship! that beware.

AUCTIONEER'S LICENSE

A Salem Merchant Thinks Council Should Make It $600 a Year.

Says Goods Are Toted Around the Back Alleys to Fake Closing-out Sales.

To The Editor of the Daily Journal

While the question relating to auctioneers licence is being discussed, I hope you will not consider me unpertinent for writing a few lines on the subject. It does seem to me that the city council has dallied along with this matter long enough. Yes too long, as is evidenced by the closing out signs all along our principal streets and the auctioneer's red flag hung out on every street corner, one man has already admitted that the time had come in Salem when the auctioneer's business did no longer pay and was really in favor of doing away with it altogether.

But does this schemer really want no license? No! as is plainly evidenced by an article in your paper of Feb. 12 written by the same man or one of his firm, headed "The truth about the Auctioneer's License," which shows plainly a deep concocted scheme in order to obtain license at a still lower rate than that which they have been paying.

They tell the council to tax the stock which is being brought in here to go on the auction block. Don't they know that if a man has paid the tax on his merchandise in Portland for this year and has his receipt, and should move his goods in to Salem we have no moral or legal right to tax them again for that year? and suppose you could tax the goods again, how are you to know when such stock is being brought in here for auctioning off, when perhaps but few over know that old shelf worn goods have been carried out of some of the stores and toted around the back alleys to the rear of, and into the back door of the would-be closing out stores, and then palmed off on our citizens as the stock of that closing out store.

No, I think it high time that our city council act on this question; it is simply a disgrace to our beautiful city, the way this auctioneering and pretended bankrupt scheming has been carried on here for the past five years Why such things would not have been allowed in hardly any town or city in the United States, and why should Salem allow it.

It is high time that our city council settle this matter judiciously before any more of our residences' and business buildings are turned over to the owls and bats. I am in favor of putting the license to $600 per annum payable in advance, and then perchance if one of our city merchants want to close out his store grant him a special permit to do so. With special restrictions covering the same.

Yours respectfully,
O. P. DARNEY.

A Musical Treat.

Charity Martin, Ellis Brooks, Signor Baldaza and John J. Blackmore, artists of world-wide reputation, will appear at the opera house, Monday evening, in an unique entertainment that is novel and interesting from the start to the finish. The Company have made a decided hit in Portland this week, and the press of that city state that "It is worth anybody's money." The attraction throughout is one of unusual merit, and those appreciating a musical entertainment by renowned artists should not fail to attend the performance at the opera house, Monday night.

A GREAT TRUTH.

All organized living things, whether belonging to the animal or vegetable kingdom contain within themselves the germs of death and decay.

Germs of disease are often generated within the human system through imperfect digestion of food, producing various poisons which scientists have denominated ptomaines. A stomach weakened by abuse, gorged with over eating or over burdened with hot bread, too rich or greasy foods or those too highly seasoned, becomes weakened and fails to thoroughly digest the food. A heavy, sodden mass is accumulated in the stomach to ferment as the first step in its decay, giving off foul gasses to distend the stomach, and poison the blood, until it becomes thin, weak and lacking in the red corpuscles so necessary to perfect health.

The over distended stomach presses upon the heart, and the latter organ is also disturbed through sympathy, the same system of nerves being distributed to both organs. Thus palpitation and irregular action of the heart with its attendant shortness of breath, result, and in time disease of the heart itself is established.

The gases and other poisons generated from undigested, fermenting and decaying food in the stomach bereoud the brain, causing headaches, and pain in the eyes.

Being absorbed into the blood these poisons reach every part and organ of the system. The kidneys are thereby poisoned, causing Bright's disease and diabetes. Filtering through the skin, troublesome skin diseases often show themselves.

Every organ and every nerve, depending as they do for their nourishment and renewal upon the stomach, weak digestion shows itself not alone in loss of appetite and flesh, but also in nervousness, debility, bad complexion and many other derangements.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery tones and regulates the stomach; stimulates the digestive juices; invigorates the torpid liver; promotes intestinal strength, clears bilious poisons and diseased germs out of the circulation; gives the blood-making glands keen assimilative power, and furnishes Nature with the fresh, abundant nutrition out of which she manufactures firm flesh, strong muscles, clear skin, healthy lung tissue and nerve-fiber, and gives sound, enduring, active energy to the whole system.

Brown Writes Smith All About What Happened to Jones.

CHICAGO, Ill., 19—.

MY DEAR SMITH: Your pointer was a peach. I left for Chicago immediately after I saw you, and of course bought my ticket over the Wisconsin Central Ry, from St. Paul to Chicago. I had plenty of time in St. Paul to go up town and get my supper, as my train leaves St. Paul at 7:40 p. m.

I returned to the depot about 7:20. When passing through the gates the gateman said: "There's your train to the right." I handed my grip to the gentlemanly porter, who placed it in my berth. (You will notice I call this my train, while is really belongs to the Wisconsin Central. I could not help but feel that I owned the train, and even the road, the employes are so courteous.) I then prepared myself for the comforts in store. Well, talk about traveling! I have traveled all over the wide world, but never had a more delightful trip than this one from St. Paul to Chicago over the Wisconsin Central Ry. I retired about 10 p. m., and enjoyed a good night's rest in the Pullman Palace car; only woke up once during the night, and that was when the porter punched me and said: "Mr. Brown, don't snore so loud, you disturb the rest of the passengers." I at once fell asleep, and awoke again about 7 a. m. and prepared myself for breakfast; went into the dining car about 8 a. m., and partook of a most sumptuous meal. All meals are served a la carte, as you know. My entire trip was a delightful one. I will never cease to praise the Wisconsin Central Ry., and I know your sentiments are the same.

Our friend Jones reached Chicago via another route and was six hours late. Consequently he missed connections for New York, and cannot make connection there with steamer for the Paris Exposition. Hence has given up his trip, and will return home via the Wisconsin Central Ry.

Your friend.

BROWN.

P. S. Since you were in Chicago, the Wisconsin Central Ry. have changed their terminals, and are now running into the Central Station, at Park Row and 12th st. This depot is also used by the Michigan Central Ry., Illinois Central and C. C. C. & St. L. 2-4tf

To whom it may concern:

This is to certify that Bertha P. Conner, of Mt. Angel precinct, Marion county, Oregon, has suffered from a cancerous growth in the left ear for about three years. The growth was cut out twice and burned out once by Albany Physicians, but the growth came back as bad as ever, and pained her so badly that she had to be taken from school. After three week's treatment by Dr. J. F. Cook, of Salem, Oregon, the Botanical Specialist, the growth entirely disappeared, and at this date, four months since treatment was begun, the growth has not reappeared, and the ear has entirely healed leaving only the scars inflicted by the Albany doctors.
