

Her Only Regret

Mrs. Peabody Had Passed Through the Most Trying Experiences of Her Life Before She Found a Remedy for All Women's Ailments.

Nobody who sees Mrs. Mary M. Peabody, of 41 Water Street, Haverhill, Mass., today will find it easy to believe that she has passed her 63rd year and has endured more suffering than comes to the ordinary lot of women. How she regained health and happiness is best told in her own words. She says:

Mrs. Mary M. Peabody.

"Last winter and spring I had the grip which left my system all run down. I had no strength and no ambition. My friends did not think that I would live and I was afraid that I was going into consumption. I needed the benefit that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People had done me in a former illness, and last July I began taking them. They did not disappoint me. I used several boxes of them and from a total wreck I was made a healthy woman. My only regret is that I did not know of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People when I had the change of life. I am now enjoying the best of health, and heartily and enthusiastically all due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I feel sure that every woman who has about my case to write me about the subject."

Respected and sworn to before me this first day of September, 1900. THOMAS W. QUINCY, Justice of the Peace.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an unfailing specific for such diseases as hemorrhoids, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, epilepsy, neuritis, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of fever, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexion, and all forms of weakness either in male or female.

Look for this trade mark on every package.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

Sold by all druggists, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50.

DR. WILLIAMS MEDICINE COMPANY, Schenectady, N. Y.

THE DAILY JOURNAL

BY HOPKIN BROTHERS
SATURDAY, MARCH 24, 1900.
Daily, One Year $3.00, in Advance.
Daily, Four Months $1.00, in Advance.
Weekly, One Year $1.00, in Advance.

MR. BRYAN IN OREGON

From New England to the Pacific coast MR. BRYAN of Nebraska has met with an ovation such as has never before been accorded a plain American citizen in private life. This may be a surprise, but it is a fact, and those who have not become aware of the fact owing to intellectual capacity or political prejudice will receive telegraphic instruction direct unless they leave the town next Wednesday.

In New England, the home and hotbed of protected industries, only the larger establishments are running under the beneficent chaperonage of trusts. In the west the producer finds the tariff is not a protection against the trust when he buys dollar's worth of manufactured articles, but when it comes to selling grain and hops and potatoes he is protected out of sight so far as getting a price for his articles. The tariff has become a two-edged sword, cutting the hands that wielded it so trenchantly for McKinley in 1890.

The sudden drop of the president on the Puerto Rico tariff has opened the eyes of the people to the fact that the trusts regard the acquisition of the new territories as merely an opportunity to exploit American enterprise on the one hand and rob the unfortunate people who are welcoming to the fold of the Stars and Stripes. The Republican senate will have to reverse the administration and give Americans free trade with their own possessions or stand convicted as the mouthpieces of the sugar and tobacco trusts.

Mr. Bryan has forced attention to these matters and no one has been bold enough to accuse him of complicity with any of the trusts. He has not been backed by any of the syndicates but has fought his battle by the sheer ability to hold his own against all these combinations of aggressors against the masses. For this he is respected by the American people, regardless of party. As strong a Republican city and county as this will give him a cordial reception. President Harrison was given a rousing ovation here in 1892. Mr. McKinley would be given an ovation such as few presidents ever got if he came to Salem. And this town is big enough and broad enough and the country around is full of virile American people who, whether they agree with him in all particulars or not, believe that Mr. Bryan is a clean man, and honest and uncompromising in his convictions, whether he is right or wrong, and will give him a hearing.

To Cure a Cold in One Day
Take Laxative Broom Quinine Tablets. All druggists refund the money if it fails to cure. W. G. Grove's signature is on each box. 25c.

MARION COUNTY POLITICS

In the next two weeks there will be held in Salem three county conventions to put up as many county tickets of candidates to fill the county offices, and to give the politicians of the respective parties a chance to air themselves and eat a few restaurant meals at each other's expense. This is the old party system of doing things and has some merit. It brings representative men together and fills the streets of the city with people for a few days.

The Republican convention will be the largest, as the majority party is supposed to have the offices to give. But the Republican nomination this year will not be equivalent to an election, especially for the offices of county judge and commissioner, who go in for four years each. The county judge is also probate judge, and is the most important office in the county. He has tremendous political power in the appointment of election judges, the selection of jurors, and he passes on over a million dollars of real estate each year.

The Democratic convention will be the next largest, and at present the proposition is to put up a straight Democratic party county ticket, although some conservative Democrats favor a citizens' ticket. The movement for a citizens' ticket, however, to amount to much, will have to have pretty strong Republican support. A large number of Republicans do sincerely to inaugurate a business administration of affairs in Marion county. Whether this is a favorable time to do so is the question. The levy ing of taxes has become quite a proper one industry, and in ten years, according to the Journal's unchallenged figures, has gone up from 13 to nearly 23 mills. How much more the taxpayers will stand without a revolt remains to be seen. An absolute non-partisan ticket for county offices would carry the county if composed of men of the right record and character, even in a presidential year. Those who wish to stand up and be counted merely for the satisfaction of being partisans, or who think the county court should be administered on party lines, are still quite numerous, but the people who are not partisans as a rule pay the bills for the other fellows.

Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup Will Prove a Quick and Sure Cure for Croup. Mothers, when your children are attacked with this dreadful disease, you can depend on this marvelous remedy. It never fails to cure at once. Price 25c.

MONEY IN ANGORS.

Tuesday's Oregonian said: C. H. Markham, general freight and passenger agent, and J. B. Kirkland, district passenger agent, of the Southern Pacific Railroad, have returned from Polk county, where they went to look into the industrial situation. They attended the Angora goat meeting, at Dallas, and in talks with business men and farmers urged the development of that industry and dairying. The merchants of Independence, are taking great interest in dairying and have the milk of 200 cows pledged for a creamery. They hope to have 300 cows before long. The outlook for a creamery at Independence is good. Dallas wants a creamery, but nothing has been done. The people are wide awake to the benefits to be derived from a creamery, and definite action may be expected from them soon.

Speaking of the goat meeting, Mr. Markham said: The high class of entries and the good attendance at the goat exhibit at Dallas, Saturday, have attracted fresh interest to this industry, and bids fair to afford the stimulus required to raise it to its proper position among Western Oregon's resources. Though capable of profitably supporting 1,000,000 Angoras, with plenty of spare room, Oregon now possesses only some 35,000 of these useful and interesting animals. Finding their subsistence on brush and small undergrowth, and requiring a minimum of care and shelter, the Angoras have proved to be the most efficient and economical agents in clearing waste lands, and bringing into cultivation many fertile acres. The Angora fleece, at the present prices, will bring in $1.25 per head, which can be increased by better selection and breeding, and the yearly increase of young have a market value of $1 each. There is a profit in this, even if the Angora did no other work, whatever; but their direct and great value is their ability to clear and make ready for the plow, and making it ready for the plow. The generous moisture, mild climate and responsive soil of Western Oregon peculiarly adapt it for the Angora; nowhere is the browse more plentiful, more nourishing more lasting. It is estimated that there are 300,000 Angoras in the United States. Oregon alone could well take care of four times that number, but raisers must give greater care to the selection of stock, breeding, time of bearing, etc., in order to obtain the most valuable fleeces. Our abundance of green natural herbage throughout the year, and the absence of severe weather, will produce heavy fleeces, but indiscriminate buying and haphazard breeding will greatly diminish its marketable value of mohair. Length, strength, fineness and lustre are the properties of the greatest value in mohair. Western Oregon has already an excellent reputation; better blood only is required to bring it to the top notch in the world's market.

THE WOMAN WHO PUTS HER HEAD IN THE LION'S MOUTH. The woman who puts her head in the lion's mouth, seems the type of reckless women. But she isn't. The really reckless woman is the one who leaves Nature day after day, by neglect of the health and delicate womanly organs. "Crime and punishment blossom on one stem," says Emerson. When the cycle of self-neglect is complete it includes the pains and sufferings which are the inevitable penalties inflicted by outraged Nature. The drain which today is counted an inconvenience, becomes in succeeding days a horrible and offensive stigma. The passing depression of an hour grows into a permanent melancholy.

The timely use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will save young women from suffering, as it will cure those who through neglect have become martyrs after marriage. No woman who suffers with backache, pain in the side, bearing down pain, delirious dreams, ulceration or inflammation, should delay another day the use of "Favorite Prescription." Its use helps every woman and leads ninety-eight per cent. of all who give it a fair trial. It contains no opium, cocaine or other narcotic.

"I was tempted to try your medicines after seeing the effect upon my mother," writes Mrs. P. H. Am. of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo. "At an early stage of married life I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a trouble some drain which rendered me very weak and unable to perform any kind of work. I saw the wonderful effects of that one got me two months' rest. I used these pills and was no more pained and I began to gain in flesh and strength. I believe I weigh twice as much as I did then and can do all of my work. I think I owe all praise to Dr. Pierce and his wonderful curative medicines."

Doctor Pierce's Pills are specially adapted to the needs of delicate women.

EXTENDING DEMOCRACY. California Fruit World.

The reference to the organization of fruit growers, often heard now, as the creation of another trust, depends for its correctness on the other question of how far the work shall extend. There are two forms of industrial organization, which in principle, parallel the two forms of civil government, monarchy and democracy.

The word trust, in its common acceptation, implies the dominance of human endeavor. It is the parallel of despotic civil government, applied to industry. Yet, carried to a certain limitations of growers for developing markets and placing fruit in the markets is on purely cooperative, or Democratic, lines.

The work of the trust and of the fruit growers' association, therefore, if the latter is within proper limitations, are on contrary lines, and to call both forms of organizations trusts is to produce confusion of ideas.

But it is not certain that the fruit growers intend to place these limitations on their efforts. In fact, there appears to be dreamers in the ranks of the fruit growers who look forward to the creation of a giant organization of growers of all varieties of fruit, who shall be so welded together that there shall be no room left for individual initiative or activity in any department of the fruit industry. The whole industry is to be formed into a huge machine, which will dominate the fruit markets of the country, and destroy any individual who comes in competition with the organization. The individual liberty of the grower is to be destroyed by making him a soldier in the great army of producers, and he is to obey the orders of the master of the association as the warrior unquestioningly obeys the decrees of his commander.

But it is not believed that many of the promoters of the association look forward to the realization of a fruit growers' Utopia. Most of the fruit growers realize that there is as much danger of overreaching themselves, as there is in a concentration of power. In industry, as in government, they realize that there must somewhere be a point for the equal balancing of cooperation, and of individual activity.

It requires no further experience than the fruit growers of California have thus far had to learn that the least that is to be tolerated, the more general is its acceptance. Every step toward centralization is a step toward possible rebellion, and while it is possible to formulate plans of organization, the merits of which will be evident to every sensible producer, it is also possible to carry these plans so far that they will be galling to the members and lead to premature dissolution.

The latest efforts of the growers in the Raisin Association to secure a had interest in the packing-houses, and the packers have refused to make any arrangement for the right to engage in the packing and shipping of fruit on individual lines. This is the first point at which opposition is encountered, and should the fruit growers maintain their position it will lead to war between the packers and the growers.

In all such contests the packers with capital secure enough of the crops to make competition in selling. Thus far, under able management, all interests have operated in harmony and profitable results have been secured. From a close knowledge of existing affairs at Fresno, Fruit World believes that the managers of the Raisin Association have no intention of precipitating a conflict with the packers, notwithstanding that press reports convey sensational ideas.

To the contrary, the raisin seeders and packers have not had as profitable results from recent combinations as should naturally have accrued to them, and with a view of making the road more substantial, the association president devised this plan, believing that which would secure harmonious marketing by packers would result to greater advantage to the producers.

Just how nearly an Utopian condition may be effected in the raisin industry, without splitting the organization, is a keen issue. It is in the hands of practical men, and it may be written in advance that there will be no war when peace can be had honorably.

Progress of Lutheran Church in Salem.

The Lutherans of Salem are very successful since last year, when they connected with the Evangelical Lutheran Synod of Ohio and other states. That very synod which was organized in 1818 has the high honor of being called in the United States statistics the most strictest Lutheran body in America. The Ohio Synod stands very strict to the pure doctrine and impressive rites of Lutheranism and therefore is a true daughter of the genuine old church of reformation which became the state church of Germany and other prominent countries.

The Lutheran church holds to the biblical distinction between the clergy and laymen, and no layman is allowed to take charge of the holy ministry. All of her ministers must have passed the examination after hard theological studies, and her leading theologians are the most celebrated ones in the whole theological world. Besides that the Lutheran educational institutions from the parish school to the university always have had a very high reputation in any country.

This church is going to be worthily represented now in our city. The Lutherans have had here a little church for years already. The same was located in Meyer's addition, but the church building as well as the location was not suitable for the purpose of the congregation. So they bought a very good located lot on State street where the old building will be removed immediately and then a new building with steeple added to the old one.

The present pastor of this church is Rev. Adolph Eberle, located in Salem since November 1899. He graduated from an eastern theological seminary in 1893 and was ordained the very same year. Rev. Eberle works with energy to realize his tendencies for the welfare of his congregation.

Mrs. Mary Ramsey Wood, of Forest Grove, Washington county, is preparing to celebrate her 100th birthday. She was born in Knoxville, Tenn.

"The Strength of Twenty Men." When Shakespeare employed this phrase he referred, of course, to healthy, able-bodied men. If he had lived in these days he would have known that men and women who are not healthy may become so by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine, by making the blood rich and pure and giving good appetite and perfect digestion, imparts vitality and strength to the system. The non-irritating cathartic—Head's Pills.

"I was tempted to try your medicines after seeing the effect upon my mother," writes Mrs. P. H. Am. of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo. "At an early stage of married life I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a trouble some drain which rendered me very weak and unable to perform any kind of work. I saw the wonderful effects of that one got me two months' rest. I used these pills and was no more pained and I began to gain in flesh and strength. I believe I weigh twice as much as I did then and can do all of my work. I think I owe all praise to Dr. Pierce and his wonderful curative medicines."

Doctor Pierce's Pills are specially adapted to the needs of delicate women.

EXTENDING DEMOCRACY. California Fruit World.

The reference to the organization of fruit growers, often heard now, as the creation of another trust, depends for its correctness on the other question of how far the work shall extend. There are two forms of industrial organization, which in principle, parallel the two forms of civil government, monarchy and democracy.

The word trust, in its common acceptation, implies the dominance of human endeavor. It is the parallel of despotic civil government, applied to industry. Yet, carried to a certain limitations of growers for developing markets and placing fruit in the markets is on purely cooperative, or Democratic, lines.

The work of the trust and of the fruit growers' association, therefore, if the latter is within proper limitations, are on contrary lines, and to call both forms of organizations trusts is to produce confusion of ideas.

But it is not certain that the fruit growers intend to place these limitations on their efforts. In fact, there appears to be dreamers in the ranks of the fruit growers who look forward to the creation of a giant organization of growers of all varieties of fruit, who shall be so welded together that there shall be no room left for individual initiative or activity in any department of the fruit industry. The whole industry is to be formed into a huge machine, which will dominate the fruit markets of the country, and destroy any individual who comes in competition with the organization. The individual liberty of the grower is to be destroyed by making him a soldier in the great army of producers, and he is to obey the orders of the master of the association as the warrior unquestioningly obeys the decrees of his commander.

Serious Ills of Women

The derangements of the female organism that breed all kinds of trouble and which ordinary remedies does not cure, are the very things that give way promptly to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Uterine and ovarian troubles, kidney troubles, ulcerations, tumors, unusual discharges, backaches and painful periods these are the ills that hang on and wreck health and happiness and disposition.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

has a wonderful record of absolute cures of these troubles—a constant series of successes for thirty years. Thousands of women vouch for this. Their letters constantly appear in this paper.

church of Germany and other prominent countries.

The Lutheran church holds to the biblical distinction between the clergy and laymen, and no layman is allowed to take charge of the holy ministry. All of her ministers must have passed the examination after hard theological studies, and her leading theologians are the most celebrated ones in the whole theological world. Besides that the Lutheran educational institutions from the parish school to the university always have had a very high reputation in any country.

This church is going to be worthily represented now in our city. The Lutherans have had here a little church for years already. The same was located in Meyer's addition, but the church building as well as the location was not suitable for the purpose of the congregation. So they bought a very good located lot on State street where the old building will be removed immediately and then a new building with steeple added to the old one.

The present pastor of this church is Rev. Adolph Eberle, located in Salem since November 1899. He graduated from an eastern theological seminary in 1893 and was ordained the very same year. Rev. Eberle works with energy to realize his tendencies for the welfare of his congregation.

Mrs. Mary Ramsey Wood, of Forest Grove, Washington county, is preparing to celebrate her 100th birthday. She was born in Knoxville, Tenn.

"The Strength of Twenty Men." When Shakespeare employed this phrase he referred, of course, to healthy, able-bodied men. If he had lived in these days he would have known that men and women who are not healthy may become so by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine, by making the blood rich and pure and giving good appetite and perfect digestion, imparts vitality and strength to the system. The non-irritating cathartic—Head's Pills.

"I was tempted to try your medicines after seeing the effect upon my mother," writes Mrs. P. H. Am. of Dallas, Jackson Co., Mo. "At an early stage of married life I was greatly bothered with painful periods, also a trouble some drain which rendered me very weak and unable to perform any kind of work. I saw the wonderful effects of that one got me two months' rest. I used these pills and was no more pained and I began to gain in flesh and strength. I believe I weigh twice as much as I did then and can do all of my work. I think I owe all praise to Dr. Pierce and his wonderful curative medicines."

Doctor Pierce's Pills are specially adapted to the needs of delicate women.

EXTENDING DEMOCRACY. California Fruit World.

The reference to the organization of fruit growers, often heard now, as the creation of another trust, depends for its correctness on the other question of how far the work shall extend. There are two forms of industrial organization, which in principle, parallel the two forms of civil government, monarchy and democracy.

The word trust, in its common acceptation, implies the dominance of human endeavor. It is the parallel of despotic civil government, applied to industry. Yet, carried to a certain limitations of growers for developing markets and placing fruit in the markets is on purely cooperative, or Democratic, lines.

The work of the trust and of the fruit growers' association, therefore, if the latter is within proper limitations, are on contrary lines, and to call both forms of organizations trusts is to produce confusion of ideas.

But it is not certain that the fruit growers intend to place these limitations on their efforts. In fact, there appears to be dreamers in the ranks of the fruit growers who look forward to the creation of a giant organization of growers of all varieties of fruit, who shall be so welded together that there shall be no room left for individual initiative or activity in any department of the fruit industry. The whole industry is to be formed into a huge machine, which will dominate the fruit markets of the country, and destroy any individual who comes in competition with the organization. The individual liberty of the grower is to be destroyed by making him a soldier in the great army of producers, and he is to obey the orders of the master of the association as the warrior unquestioningly obeys the decrees of his commander.

Hail! The Conquering Hero Comes

The Honorable

W. J. BRYAN

Will address The citizens of

Marion and Polk Counties

On the living Issues of the day at SALEM, ORE.

Between 1 and 4 o'clock In the afternoon

Wednesday March 28, '00

N. J. JUDAH, JOHN BAYNE, A. W. DENNIS, Committee on Arrangements.

Let the World Turn Out

Successor to Geo. L. Neal.

Under new management. The Saloon, formerly occupied by G. L. Neal & Co., has been re-opened by E. R. Colgan. Fine line of wines, liquor and cigars. No. 229 Commercial street, Salem. Phone 2781. $22 U

The Racycle

The Racycle Bicycle Has Arrived

If you are thinking of buying a wheel, come in and see us. It is the latest and most improved on the market.

G. A. ROBERTS

7500 Rolls of 1900

Wall Paper!

HAS JUST BEEN RECEIVED. COME AND SEE IF WE CAN'T PLEASE YOU AS WE HAVE PLEASED HUNDREDS OF OTHERS

F. W. HOLLIS & CO.

1st Door North of Post Office.

SOUTH AND EAST VIA Southern Pacific Co. THE SHASTA ROUTE

Trains leave Salem for Portland and way stations at 6:44 a. m. and 4:14 p. m.
Ly Portland	8:30 A M	7:00 P M
Ly Salem	11:00 A M	12:00 P M
At Ashland	1:00 P M	11:00 A M
At Sacramento	2:00 P M	10:00 A M
At San Francisco	7:45 P M	8:10 A M
At Ogden	5:45 A M	11:45 A M
At Denver	7:00 P M	12:00 P M
At Kansas, City	7:00 P M	12:00 P M
At Chicago	7:00 P M	12:00 P M
At Los Angeles	1:20 P M	7:00 P M
At El Paso	3:00 P M	6:00 P M
At Alamo	3:00 P M	6:00 P M
At City of Mexico	3:00 P M	6:00 P M
At Houston	4:00 A M	6:00 P M
At New Orleans	4:00 A M	6:00 P M
At Washington	6:42 A M	6:00 P M
At New York	12:45 P M	12:00 P M

Pullman and Tourists cars on both