CAPITAL CITY'S GUEST

Wm. J. Bryan of Nebraska Given a Most Cordial Reception.

WELCOME THE DISTINGUISHED AMERICAN REGARDLESS OF PARTY

Teams ahd Boatloads of People Come From All Directions and With Smiling Faces.

At an early hour in the morning people began to pour into the city from all directions. They came in farm wagons, in hacks, in buggies, in carts, on horse back, on bicycles and on foot. The river steamers were loaded to the guards, and people came in rowboats. The water being cold, it is not believed that any one swam in. By the middle of the forenoon all the livery stables were crowded with country teams and the streets near by were lined with muddy vehicles.

The work of cleaning up the ground at Marion square was finished and the last load of limbs and trash hauled out by 10 o'clock, and the ladies' committee was busily engaged in decorating the speaker's stand and the grove. The stand was tastefully draped in bunting and hung with flags and evergreens. The tree trunks bore flags and shields and "Welcome" mottoes.

All the available chairs in town were procured by the committee for the use of the ladies, and when the people came many brought camp chair and stools, as suggested by THE JOURNAL.

Any attempt to put this gathering of the people in the light of a partisan campaign rally falls flat. It was a spontaneous outpouring of people to see and hear a man of world-wide reputation, a man whom they respect and admire personally, whether they agree with his political principles or not.

This is a strongly Republican city in the midst of a strongly Republican farming section. Yet it might be said that whole Republican precincts were here en masse, not to greet the next presidential candidate, but to greet William J. Bryan, the man.

The Salem public schools were closed for a half-holiday this afternoon, to give the children a chance to view a scene which they will remember all their lives. Many of the country schools within reach of this city are also closed for the day.

The delayed overland train brought an immense crowd from up the valley. Those on the train say that Mr. Bryan received a general and enthusiastic reception all along the line, the farmers turning out in great numbers.

THE BAND.

As it has been announced that the Chemawa band has been secured, some explanation of its non-appearance is neccessary. When the committee first tried to secure this band its leader, one Stoudemier demanded $50. This was very properly considered by the committee an exorbitant price, and it was determined that, rather than be "gouged," they would dispense with band music altogether. A few days later, a proposition was received from the leader of the band to come with 15 pieces for a round sum of $25. At the Monday evening meeting of the committee it was decided to accept this offer. Accordingly, on Tuesday Mr. Straddlemire was notified that his offer would be accepted. Then he demanded that railroad fares and board must also be furnished; where upon the committee consigned him and his band to a warmer climate, refusing utterly to be bull-dozed in any such manner.

Today the committee got into communication with the Albany band and made arrangements so that it came down on the special train with Mr. Bryan, so that we were not without a band, after all.

In spite of the fact that all the people in the Willamette Valley seemed to be down town, crowding the sidewalks or filling Marion Square, there was an immense crowd out at the depot long before the train came in.

The depot walls were lined three deep all around with bicycles, and every post and telegraph pole was surrounded with the silent steeds, many of which also reposed on the lawn.

The platform was crowded with a surging mass of humanity waiting patiently for a glimpse of the great Nebraskan.

At 1:45 the train pulled in amid the cheering of the crowd. The Albany band came off the train and played a lively air, and Wm. J. Bryan soon appeared, smilingly acknowledging the ovation he received.

He was at once conducted to an open carriage drawn by four black horses with tossing plumes, and the procession made its way rapidly down State street to Commercial and north to Marion Square.

BRYAN INTRODUCED.

After singing by Mrs. Hinges, Hon. John Jeffrey introduced the Silver-tongued orator from the Platte, as the most distinguished private citizen of the United States. (Applauded.)

No band is needed to call the people together when he is announced to speak and no constable is required to keep them. Bryan arose amid great cheering and at once put himself at ease with the crowd that was estimated at from six to ten thousand, and it had only began to arrive as people were streaming from all directions.

At Albany the Republican convention adjourned to swell his crowd. A large delegation of supporters attended him to Salem and the train made the run down in 36 minutes. There were at least a thousand at the depot to greet his arrival at Salem. The procession of carriages and train of street cars was attended by miles of people on the sidewalks. The Bryan meeting at Salem was a pronounced success.

As this report closes, Bryan is still speaking, and a further report will be given in our next issue.

MR. BRYAN'S ARGUMENTS.

Mr. Bryan's speech dealt almost entirely with the questions which he had been discussing in various parts of the country, the money question, the trust question and imperialism. He charged the Republican party with practicing a

TWENTY-FIVE REASONS

For Buying a

Standard Rotary Shuttle Sewing Machine

ONLY ONE REASON

For Buying any other machine, viz., it is cheaper. But, there is more difference in the quality than in the price.

1 The "Standard" Rotary has the biggest bobbin of any lock stitch machine. Holds 100 yards of No. 80 cotton.
2 Bobbin more quickly wound.
3 The first Stitch perfect without holding ends of threads.
4 The tension is released when taking out the goods.
5 The finest goods are not drawn or puckered.
6 Less noise than any other machine.
7 Runs 50 per cent lighter than old style machines.
8 Is the most rapid sewer—makes two motions of the treadle to three of other machines in sewing the same length seam.
9 Tensions not changed by change of speed, size of thread, thickness of goods nor length of stitch—what other machine can do as much?
10 Most elastic stitch. Thread does not break when seam is stretched.
11 Does not break the thread when machine is run backwards.
12 The "Standard Rotary Needle dips only once when taking a stitch—old style shuttle needles dip twice—hence that much more strain and wear.
13 The "Standard" Rotary Shuttle never stops when the machine is in operation. Old style shuttles start and stop twice to each stitch Just think of the extra strain and wear this makes. The "Standard" Rotary Shuttle moves onward continuously without a jar.
14 Shortest needle used in lock-stitch machine—therefore less liable to bend and skip stitches.
15 Owing to the construction of the shuttle and race, the point of the shuttle always comes in proper relation to the loop, hence almost absolute freedom from stitch skipping.
16 Shuttle so constructed that it cannot hit the needle—hence no broken needles from this cause.
17 Protection and packing of needle bar and construction of take-up and feed make less liability to oil goods than in other machines.
18 The face plate can be taken off by a thumb-screw thus enabling the operator to clean and oil the parts without displacing any of them.
19 Feed motions all positive—no springs used—hence machine will feed over all thicknesses of goods and seam without "chewing" the cloth no matter what the length of stitch.
20 Will wear twice as long as other lock-stitch machines.
21 Every part is independent of every other part, and can be replaced at a trifling cost. Therefore you can keep a "Standard" Rotary practically new a life time.
22 Bran new set of attachments, self-adjusting, and fastened to the presser bar in place of the foot.
23 Stand wheel and treadle run on adjustable steel points, which insures the easiest, smoothest bearing known to machines, and the wear is for a life-time.
24 Bent woodwork of the finest construction and finish known to art.
25 Automatic keyless drawer and cover locks, peculiar to the "Standard."

These points are all facts that we prove to you by actual test. We're always ready.

CANDIDATE SCOTT.

Publishes a Card on Which He Will Make His Record if Elected.

To the Delegates of the Marion County Convention:

GENTLEMEN:—Inasmuch as I am a candidate for the Republican nomination for county judge of Marion county, I submit the following for your earnest consideration:

Being a young man as I am I believe that if I were to enter upon the duties of said office, and perform said duties faithfully, honestly and impartially, and show no special favors to anyone, and give the people a clean, economical administration, and reduce county expenses, it would mean much to me both in a political and business way. I could not afford to take the office with any other intention in view. If it were not that I could see fruits of such an effort after I would have served one term I would not consider the matter for one moment, inasmuch as I consider the salary inadequate for the responsibility that necessarily would devolve upon any one who fills the office.

I am standing absolutely upon my own responsibility, free from any clique or ring, and if elected will be free to perform the duties of the office, as I think they should be performed. I have a warm feeling of friendship towards my rivals for the honor, and I am not trying to get the nomination by showing up their defects, but wish to stand absolutely upon my own record, whatever that may be worth.

There has been some little objection to me on account of my age. For your benefit I will say that on the 10th of next September, I will be thirty-five years of age. If you, after honestly considering my position relative to this matter, and my qualifications for the office, can conscientiously give me your support, I shall be very thankful for it. If you do not there will be no hard feelings on my part.

Respectfully submitted,
JOHN H. SCOTT.
