

Holverson's

CASH STORE

MAKES SPECIALTIES OF

GERSTER & DENT KID GLOVES
ROYAL WORCESTER R. & G. CORSETS
FERRIS AND W. C. C. WAISTS
BLACK CAT HOSIERY
LELAND'S AND FOSTER'S SHIRTWAISTS
PRIESTLEY'S BLACK DRESS GOODS

Each article the peer of all others of its kind, and your money refunded if you don't find goods satisfactory. That's the principle upon which we sell goods at Holverson's, the Big Bargain Store

Linen Crash

Plain or with fine stripes of blue, red, green or brown. Regular 25c quality.

15c yard

White Duck

All qualities and all weights. 10c up

Covert Cloth

Plain and mixed colors. 15c yd.

Ladies' Shirt Waists

Three special values in late styles

75c

$1

New pulley belts and pulley belt rings

J. J. Dalrymple & Co.

A Few Specials for Spring

Silks

We have almost any shade and quality of silk a person could desire, and at the prices we quote them they are bound to be quick sellers. China silk for fancy work in all shades. Sateen and Lyons Dye silk for summer waists. Fancy broadcloth, regular $1.00 value, now. Taffeta silk best grade in all popular shades. Fancy hemstitched and lace-trimmed tulle. Black tulle extra wide. Armures, Failles, Peau De Soies, and satin duchess ranging in price from 90c to $1.50.

Kid Gloves

Ladies, we wish to call your attention to our kid gloves. Our famous Kid fully guaranteed, made for service, is equalled by no other dollar glove in the city. Our 3-clasp Eddy genuine kid in all the popular shades at $1.50. We also carry Chamois and Moccasins, at 85c and $1.00. See our line before selecting your next pair of gloves.

W. H. HOBSON
297 COMMERCIAL STREET

WEATHER REPORT.

Fair tonight and Wednesday. Warmer Wednesday.

The mill will not run with the water that has passed.

Neither will your watch run with the oil that has dried and in this condition your watch will soon show wearing out. There is no need of letting your watch go to ruin when you can have first-class workmanship performed at a reasonable price. We will clean your watch at 75c. Main Springs, 75c. and warranted.

C. H. HINGES

WATCHMAKER AND OPTICIAN.
299 COMMERCIAL ST.
Next door to Holverson's

A Great Contest
Has been waged for years, but the people are keeping their health because they eat the best food produced from soil by Hanson & Hagan.

Something Substantial For Your Table

As well as the most toothsome morsels in delicacies you will always find at this store, pure, nutritious and high grade in every particular.

Canned Goods
Only best brands and the lowest prices quoted. A full line of Schenck's famous Salmon made, choice, cream, brick, salmon, breakfast, lunch, etc. Only healthful and superior cereals, canned goods, and food products of all kinds are handled by us. Our service is prompt and courteous is always extended to our patrons.

Roth & Graber

222 STATE ST. PHONE 151.

OLD INDIAN FIGHTERS

Pioneers Who Defended Their Homes Against War Parties.

In the Oregon Indian Wars Issue
An Address of Inquiry to Speaker Henderson.

At a meeting of Bennett Camp No. 8 of Indian War Veterans of the North Pacific coast, held in the city of Salem, Oregon, May 5, 1900, the following address and resolutions were unanimously adopted.

THE VETERAN'S ADDRESS.

Address of Capt. Bennett Camp, No. 8, of Indian War Veterans of the North Pacific Coast, to their dear comrades and friends. In 1886, when Col. T. B. Wait, was our first Grand Commander, he said in a speech before the Grand Encampment: "That we must organize and get every vote of the Veterans and their friends to vote together for our interest. It is now thirty years since we went to our country's rescue, and what have we received? Comparatively nothing. You should show how many votes we have. Knock somebody down that is in our way, and then they will want to know what the old fellows want. They think we are dead, or if not dead, we have no little sense, that they can do us a plenty."

Though spoken fourteen years ago, Comrades, we ask you, were not the words of our first Grand Commander, C. T. B. Wait, prophetic words? Have we received anything, and is there any prospect that we will ever?

Every two years just before election we get a dose of Mr. Tongue's taffy, spread on thick with Colonel Wood's confidential assurance, that in a few months at the furthest we will be looked after to our heart's content.

It is now forty-four years that we have been seeking recognition in vain; now let us appeal to our comrades and friends to stand by us, and for some congressmen's scalp. Leave not a stone unturned nor a vote uncast against those do-nothing congressmen, who think that with a little taffy just before election they can fool us until we have all passed into our graves, and then the future historian will write: "Seven thousand Indian War Veterans of the Pacific Northwest, within fifty years, all passed into their graves without recognition, that very small politicians might go to congress."

J. H. ELGIN,
Captain Bennett Camp, No. 8.
S. T. NORTHGATE,
Secretary.

MEMORIAL TO THE SPEAKER.

The following resolutions addressed to the speaker of the lower house of congress were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, We have learned through our representative in congress, Hon. Geo. H. Tongue, that the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States is opposed to any legislation tending toward the relief of those old Indian War Veterans who served in the early Indian wars in Oregon, who for many years have been asking to be placed on the pension roll, or to receive at least some recognition at the hands of this our government; and

Whereas, We are informed by our representative in congress, Hon. Thomas H. Tongue, that Speaker Henderson has taken the same stand in this matter as did the former speaker, Thomas B. Reed; and

Whereas, We have been put off from year to year with different explanations of this matter, and would now, to leave the source of the opposition to our just demands, therefore

Be it Resolved, By the Indian War Veterans of Bennett Camp, that we hereby most respectfully call upon the Hon. Speaker Henderson, of the house of representatives of the United States to give his reasons for so opposing the legislation that we ask.

Stockholder's Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Thos. Ray Wagon Mfg. Co. held at their office in Salem, Monday May 11, at the hour of 2 o'clock. By order of
SUGHER FAIRBANKS,
Vice Pres't.
4-7-01 R. H. CONROW, Secretary.

Pilgrim Brotherhood.

The Pilgrim Brotherhood will meet this evening in the parlors of the First Congregational church at 8 p. m. The question for discussion will be, "How can Temperance best be Promoted?" Ladies and gentlemen are invited to be present.

Stockholder's Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Thos. Ray Wagon Mfg. Co. held at their office in Salem, Monday May 11, at the hour of 2 o'clock. By order of
SUGHER FAIRBANKS,
Vice Pres't.
4-7-01 R. H. CONROW, Secretary.

Stockholder's Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Thos. Ray Wagon Mfg. Co. held at their office in Salem, Monday May 11, at the hour of 2 o'clock. By order of
SUGHER FAIRBANKS,
Vice Pres't.
4-7-01 R. H. CONROW, Secretary.

Stockholder's Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Thos. Ray Wagon Mfg. Co. held at their office in Salem, Monday May 11, at the hour of 2 o'clock. By order of
SUGHER FAIRBANKS,
Vice Pres't.
4-7-01 R. H. CONROW, Secretary.

WOOD HAULERS.

State a Grievance to the State Asylum Board.

In the Form of a Petition Weiting Facts and Alleging Trickery.

The complaint of the wood-haulers about Salem, as published in this paper, has taken form of a petition to the state asylum board a copy of which is printed below.

Under the Lord administration the same complaints were made and a similar attempt at monopoly was tried, and the state officials after considering the whole matter rejected the highest bid and distributed the wood contracts as widely as possible at the lowest price. It is hoped the present administration can be influenced to do the same.

WOODHAULERS' PETITION.

To the honorable state board of asylum commissioners of Salem, Oregon: GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned residents of Salem and vicinity, hereby submit to your honorable board the following grievances occurring to us as a result of the awarding of the bids for wood lately considered by your honorable body, for wood to be furnished to the Oregon state asylum.

We hereby respectfully state that we, the undersigned, are clearing up our farms, making homes for ourselves; developing the country; paying our taxes; and are not dependent on a large measure in doing this upon selling the wood we make.

That in putting in bids for wood lately awarded by your honorable body, we were individually and collectively approached by one Mark Skiff, a resident of the city of Salem, to put all our bids for wood at $3 per cord, and that he, being the owner of large amounts of wood, would put in bids accordingly; and that acting upon the advice of said Skiff, we in good faith, believing that said Skiff was acting in good faith and for our benefit, agreed to sell our wood at $3 per cord, and that we have now sold our wood at that price, and are now in a position to pay our taxes and make homes for ourselves.

That, however, we have now learned that said Skiff, in order to secure a larger profit, has now sold our wood at $2.74 per cord, thereby taking the work away from us by deception, to our loss and injury.

Therefore, we protest and ask your honorable body to reject said bids so that fairness and justice may be done to all, and we guarantee that the state will not pay more than the price of $2.74.

Wm. Graham, S. J. Graham, H. J. Graham, Wm. English, F. L. Buell, J. F. Goode, W. R. Zwickler, C. J. Ramsden, D. G. Bushy, F. C. Orey, Wilbur B. Jones, Geo. Reid.

PERSONALS

A. Gohale, the surveyor, went to Dayton today.

Geo. W. Davis and Miss Davis went to Morrison today.

Dr. Daly left today for Albany and Lynn county points.

Mrs. Clayton Wentz of the mute school was in the city today and met an old friend in the person of Dr. Daly of Lakeview.

The grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Patterson, arrived Monday from Cleveland, Ohio, and by himself, quite an undertaking for one of his age: only 11 years.

Rev and Mrs. P. S. Knight, County Recorder Roland, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilbert, E. Steiner, went to Jefferson today to attend the late Mrs. Ruby Looney's funeral.

John A. Jeffrey started south today on his campaign as district attorney. He expects to speak at Salem before election, and some of his critics will get a taste of Jack Jeffrey's fighting ability on the rostrum.

Take Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for All those dangerous affections—severe colds, pleurisy and grippe—which Fall and Winter bring along. It is the greatest cure for bronchitis and all throat and lung affections.

DIED.

CANNON.—At the home in Folk county, May 10, 1900, of a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Conroy.

Funeral services were conducted on Sunday afternoon and the remains were given burial in the Zenia cemetery.

Pilgrim Brotherhood.

The Pilgrim Brotherhood will meet this evening in the parlors of the First Congregational church at 8 p. m. The question for discussion will be, "How can Temperance best be Promoted?" Ladies and gentlemen are invited to be present.

Stockholder's Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Thos. Ray Wagon Mfg. Co. held at their office in Salem, Monday May 11, at the hour of 2 o'clock. By order of
SUGHER FAIRBANKS,
Vice Pres't.
4-7-01 R. H. CONROW, Secretary.

Stockholder's Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Thos. Ray Wagon Mfg. Co. held at their office in Salem, Monday May 11, at the hour of 2 o'clock. By order of
SUGHER FAIRBANKS,
Vice Pres't.
4-7-01 R. H. CONROW, Secretary.

Perfumes

Every good French Perfume is represented in our stock. Every best American perfume is represented here too. In bulk or in bottles. The former is a nice way to buy them, for then you can get as much or as little as you want. There is one thing we want you to notice about our perfumes: the lasting qualities. We could tell you why they last, but that would be giving away our secret.

D. J. Fry Druggist.

If you have any trouble with your picture taking, come in, we'll help you out.

NEW BOOKS

"At Start to Finish" by William Lindsey is dedicated to American college athletes, a collection of Cinderella Tales by an actual participant, who was from boyhood an amateur, and gradually developed into a trainer of amateurs in Old England and New England. There are nine tales in all and well told they are, to enlighten the mind of the professional, and arouse enthusiasm among the unfortunates nineteen twentieths of the universe. $1.25. Small, Maynard & Co., Publ., Boston.

"A Woman's Paris" is a handbook of everyday living in the French capital, for the unprovided American woman, that is unprovided with experience. It consists of twenty chapters on such practical topics as servant, marketing, meals, shops and money, dressmakers, tips, etc. There are 42 illustrations and the book is printed on fine plate paper. There would be a great deal more to avoid than to see in Paris, especially for an American lady. It seems that living is not expensive unless one insists upon it and then there are millions ready to accept your enterprise. The regular expense is unlimited as to the number of items and uncontrollable as a run-away team once you are in the country. There is a great deal of practical information about routes of travel, and the exposition proper. Persons going to Paris will find this book by an American of great value, and can buy it of any bookseller for $1.25. Small, Maynard & Co., Boston.

"The State," by Woodrow Wilson of Princeton is a great indeed volume of 686 pages, a scientific and historical analysis and statement of the facts and theories of government from the beginning to the present. The retail price is $2 and for a student of political science it must prove a treasure store of information and guidance through difficult problems. The work is that of a life-long student and college worker, and in many of its qualities rises to a high degree of literary perfection and philosophical scope. The first four chapters treat the origin of government and its development under the Greeks and Romans. The next three chapters treat the feudal development, the French experiments, and the Swiss, Next come the dual monarchies like Austria-Hungary, and Sweden-Norway. The general and local government of England are followed by a thorough treatment of the United States. The last five chapters treat of constitutional and administrative development, the nature and forms of government, the functions of government, and the objects of government. The capacity of government is to be taxed to the utmost in the immediate future if it is not already and this must prove an invaluable handbook for the student and public man alike. Prof. Woodrow's book is entitled to a place in all public libraries, and the library of no lawyer can be complete without it. D. C. Heath & Co., Publ., Boston, Mass.

"Beautiful Joe" by Marshall Saunders like Black Beauty has sold up into the hundreds of thousands and in many languages. The story of a dog's life from the hand of a sympathetic American woman is a fit companion volume to go with the other book written by a tender-hearted English woman, Miss Sewell. It is now out in a pretty bound and illustrated edition by the American Baptist Publication Society, Chas. M. Roe, manager, 177 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

"Dieck Downey" by the same firm makes an equally strong plea for the life of the birds.

Ford, Howard and Hulbert, New York have added to their "Nugget" series a historical nugget that contains the gems from the writings of Macaulay.

L. C. Page & Co., Boston, announces that they will publish at once 12 new volumes in the Court-Memoirs series, of which eight volumes were published last season.

The new volumes are as follows: "Memoirs of Marie Antoinette," by Madame Campan. (2 Vols.) "Memoirs of the Court of St. Cloud," by a series of private letters. (2 Vols.) "Memoirs of Empress Josephine," by Madame Doreet. (2 Vols.) "Memoirs of Catherine II. of Russia," by one of her courtiers. (1 Vol.) "Memoirs of the Courts of Sweden and Denmark," from a series of private letters. (2 Vols.) "Memoirs of the Court of Berlin," by Count Mirabeau.

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books." The Western letter to the same journal, "To Have and To Hold," by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books.

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

CAPE NOME IS ALL RIGHT

And all who can are going there but those who stay at home will be found taking their meals as usual at the

WHITE HOUSE RESTAURANT

McKILLIP & BERKHART
Proprietors, 106 State St.

NEW BOOKS

"At Start to Finish" by William Lindsey is dedicated to American college athletes, a collection of Cinderella Tales by an actual participant, who was from boyhood an amateur, and gradually developed into a trainer of amateurs in Old England and New England. There are nine tales in all and well told they are, to enlighten the mind of the professional, and arouse enthusiasm among the unfortunates nineteen twentieths of the universe. $1.25. Small, Maynard & Co., Publ., Boston.

"A Woman's Paris" is a handbook of everyday living in the French capital, for the unprovided American woman, that is unprovided with experience. It consists of twenty chapters on such practical topics as servant, marketing, meals, shops and money, dressmakers, tips, etc. There are 42 illustrations and the book is printed on fine plate paper. There would be a great deal more to avoid than to see in Paris, especially for an American lady. It seems that living is not expensive unless one insists upon it and then there are millions ready to accept your enterprise. The regular expense is unlimited as to the number of items and uncontrollable as a run-away team once you are in the country. There is a great deal of practical information about routes of travel, and the exposition proper. Persons going to Paris will find this book by an American of great value, and can buy it of any bookseller for $1.25. Small, Maynard & Co., Boston.

"The State," by Woodrow Wilson of Princeton is a great indeed volume of 686 pages, a scientific and historical analysis and statement of the facts and theories of government from the beginning to the present. The retail price is $2 and for a student of political science it must prove a treasure store of information and guidance through difficult problems. The work is that of a life-long student and college worker, and in many of its qualities rises to a high degree of literary perfection and philosophical scope. The first four chapters treat the origin of government and its development under the Greeks and Romans. The next three chapters treat the feudal development, the French experiments, and the Swiss, Next come the dual monarchies like Austria-Hungary, and Sweden-Norway. The general and local government of England are followed by a thorough treatment of the United States. The last five chapters treat of constitutional and administrative development, the nature and forms of government, the functions of government, and the objects of government. The capacity of government is to be taxed to the utmost in the immediate future if it is not already and this must prove an invaluable handbook for the student and public man alike. Prof. Woodrow's book is entitled to a place in all public libraries, and the library of no lawyer can be complete without it. D. C. Heath & Co., Publ., Boston, Mass.

"Beautiful Joe" by Marshall Saunders like Black Beauty has sold up into the hundreds of thousands and in many languages. The story of a dog's life from the hand of a sympathetic American woman is a fit companion volume to go with the other book written by a tender-hearted English woman, Miss Sewell. It is now out in a pretty bound and illustrated edition by the American Baptist Publication Society, Chas. M. Roe, manager, 177 Wabash Ave., Chicago.

"Dieck Downey" by the same firm makes an equally strong plea for the life of the birds.

Ford, Howard and Hulbert, New York have added to their "Nugget" series a historical nugget that contains the gems from the writings of Macaulay.

L. C. Page & Co., Boston, announces that they will publish at once 12 new volumes in the Court-Memoirs series, of which eight volumes were published last season.

The new volumes are as follows: "Memoirs of Marie Antoinette," by Madame Campan. (2 Vols.) "Memoirs of the Court of St. Cloud," by a series of private letters. (2 Vols.) "Memoirs of Empress Josephine," by Madame Doreet. (2 Vols.) "Memoirs of Catherine II. of Russia," by one of her courtiers. (1 Vol.) "Memoirs of the Courts of Sweden and Denmark," from a series of private letters. (2 Vols.) "Memoirs of the Court of Berlin," by Count Mirabeau.

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."

"February was notable in a book way," says the Eastern letter of the Bookman for April, "in that there was published a new title, which at once took its place among the phenomenal leaders in point of sale. The advance orders were very large for 'To Have and To Hold,' by Mary Johnston, and readers have continued in increasing numbers, so that it at present heads the list of best-selling books."