Weak and trembling, unsteady of hand, uneasy of mind. Frightened at trifles. Tortured by an indefinable feeling of fear.

Excited by noise, oppressed by quiet—never at ease. Irritable and miserable.

Forerunning symptoms of Nervous Prostration brought on by a debilitated system and over-taxed body or brain.

THE CURE is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

DISHWASHING.

Woman's Greatest Drudgery Near His End.

Fredrick J. Nash in Albion's

Few women have the courage after dinner when the day is done, to wash dishes. That is drudgery. It means putting the cups and saucers, plates, platters and vegetable dishes into a big pan of hot suds, rubbing them with a dish cloth, setting them to drain, and wiping each piece with towel. Noah's wife's dishes were cleaned in the same way, and very probably Noah's wife lamented her reddened and roughened hands as the wives of less distinguished men have done ever since. Probably, too, she found that her best pieces of tableware got scratched in the process or slipped out of her soapy hands and smashed to bits. It is not likely though, that she bothered her head much about the condition of the dishcloth or the drying towels. Living as she did in that menagerie, she could hardly be blamed for not keeping everything sweet. If any of her daughters have bothered their heads much either it has been to mighty little purpose, seeing that they have not greatly improved the process. Men that keep hotels, though, being able to get only the lowest class of help to wash dishes—what a comment that is upon us men that expect the wives of our bosom to do such work—found that the bill for broken china was ruinous. Guests insisted upon being served upon fine porcelain, and refused to eat from stabs of ironstone, so some way out had to be found. A machine was invented, capable of being operated by anybody, and that could be trusted to wash thoroughly, rinse and dry the most delicate ware without chipping or breakage, all at the rate of 6,000 pieces an hour. Think what an army of dishwashers such a machine must displace, and what an economy it must be! For not only is the hotelkeeper rid of the necessity of giving standing room and of providing captains and generals for it, and of enduring the damage that it must inflict upon friend and foe alike, after the fashion of all armies.

"The dishes are collected and scraped and then dropped into wire baskets with wooden interiors so arranged that the dishes stand on edge without touching each other. Pitchers, cups, bowls and the like go into the centre. The basket is lowered into the washing tank, where hot suds mixed with air, so as to prevent thousands of sharp cutting edges, are driven against the dishes with tremendous rapidity and force. They are washed in a few seconds. A trolley carries the basket to the rinsing tank, where two souse take off the suds. They drain and dry from the heat they have absorbed from the rinsing water. China and silverware thus treated always look brighter and newer than if washed by hand.

THEY WILL DEDICATE.

GERMAN LUTHERANS OPEN THEIR NEW CHURCH TOMORROW.

Sketch of New Structure, and a Short History of the Organization in Oregon's Capital City.

Tomorrow, Sunday, July 8th, 1903, the Evangelical Lutheran Church of this city will dedicate its new house of worship, on East State Street. At 10:30 a. m. the Rev. Bocherie, of Portland will preach in German. At 2 p. m. there will be an English dedicatory sermon by Rev. Mack, of Oregon City. The closing service will be conducted in German at 8 p. m. Rev. Wittrock, of St. Paul, preaching. Rev. Adolph Eberle, the local pastor, will officiate before the holy altar during all the services.

The church of this denomination was organized in Salem about nine years ago, by Rev. Meyer, and a small chapel was built on North Cottage street. About six years ago, for business reasons, the building was removed to Meyers addition, where services were held, being held two years without a pastor. Last fall a call was extended to Rev. Eberle, the present pastor, who had been in charge at Walla Walla, and since that day the interests of the church, both material and spiritual, have prospered as never before. A fine lot was purchased on East State Street, the old building moved to it, and with a new main part a fine church edifice, has been erected, costing nearly $1500.

The work was done by Messrs. Martin Hohl, Geo. Zwicker, Thos. Reisbeck, Louis Larden and Sonner, under direction of Jos. Drexler. The painting was done by W. F. R. Broxne. Considerable of the work was donated by members of the church, thus saving not a little on the cost.

The building is finished in white outside and in, with a sky blue ceiling. The main auditorium will seat about 200 people, and in addition there is a neat gallery for the organ and choir, as well as a fair-sized class room. Over the altar is an ornamental arched alcove, on which appears the quotation: "Glorify to God in the Highest," in German words, "however. The pulpit is elevated, and adjoins a screened recess for the convenience of the pastor. The tower on the church is prepared to receive a bell at some future day, and is surmounted by a gilded cross.

The German Evangelical church is of the high church order, similar to the Catholic and Episcopalian, and is still conducted just as it was brought out from the mother church by Martin Luther. The crucifix and the ministerial robes form a conspicuous part in their service, and their rites are most impressive. Under the laws of the church no lay members can in any way officiate in the church service, but have full voice in the conduct of its material interests. Like the other high churches it uses the cross as a conspicuous emblem of Christianity.

In addition to the pastor there is a board of trustees, composed in the Salem church of Geo. Zwicker, elder; Emil Kuhn, secretary, and Fred Gilson, treasurer. Rev. Eberle acts as Sunday school superintendent, ex-officio. Mrs. Emma Gilson is organist and leader of the choir.

The people of Salem are cordially invited to attend the dedicatory services tomorrow, and they will no doubt join in extending a hearty reception to this new church life in our city.

This means disaster and death when applied to a fast express train. It is equally serious when it refers to people whose blood is disordered and who consequently have pimples and sores, bad stomachs, deranged kidneys, weak nerves and that tired feeling.
